Restorative Justice And Civil Society:

Restorative Justice and Civil Society Heather Strang, John Braithwaite, 2001-05-02 Advocates of restorative justice question the state's ability to deliver satisfactory justice to the community both in criminal and other cases. This collaborative 2001 volume looks at the burgeoning restorative justice movement and considers the relationship between restorative justice and civil society, examining debates and exploring ideas about who should control restorative justice: the state or civil society. A diverse range of chapters written by leaders in the field engage with different aspects of restorative justice. Genuinely international, the book addresses aspects of civil society including schools, families, churches, and private workplaces; the women's movement; victims of crime; and indigenous groups. It also considers broader issues such as democracy, human rights, access, and equity. A dynamic and provocative volume, this book attempts to bring the ideals of restorative justice to life so that victims, offenders, their families, and communities have more of a say in the justice process. Restorative Justice and Civil Society Heather Strang, John Braithwaite, 2001-05-02 Advocates of restorative justice question the state's ability to deliver satisfactory justice. This provocative volume looks at the flourishing restorative justice movement and considers the relationship between restorative justice and civil society. Genuinely international, it addresses aspects of civil society including schools, families, churches, and private workplaces, and considers broader issues such as democracy, human rights, access, and equity. It presents the ideals of restorative justice so that victims, offenders, their families, and communities might have more representation in the justice process. Restorative Justice and Civil Society Brenda Morrison, Eliza Ahmed, Rick H. Hoyle, 2006-06-09 This special issue focuses on two topical fields emerging within the social sciences: restorative justice and civil society. The broad range of scholarly work in these fields is growing quickly but remains inchoate. The aim of this volume is to begin to forge coherence from a diversity of intellectual perspectives and jurisdictions across the world. The contributors represent a range of disciplines: psychology, social work, law, and criminology, and focus on a range of institutions: schools, criminal and juvenile justice, and family welfare. Some focus more on practice, some more on theory, but together they are building exciting links between theory and practice in two of the most stimulating areas of interest in the social sciences.

Justice, Community and Civil Society Joanna Shapland, 2013-05-13 Over the last decade there has arisen considerable disquiet about the relationship between criminal justice and its publics. This has been expressed in a variety of different ways, ranging from a concern that state criminal justice has moved too far away from the concerns of ordinary people, become too distant, too out of touch, insufficiently reflective of different groups in society, to the belief that the police have been attending to the wrong priorities, that the state has failed to reduce crime, that people still feel a general sense of insecurity. Governments have sought to respond to these concerns throughout Europe and North America, but the results have challenged people's deeply held beliefs about what justice is and what the state's role should be. The need to innovate in response to local demands has hence resulted in some very different initiatives. This book is concerned to delve further into this contested relationship between criminal justice and its publics Written by experts from different countries as a new initiative in comparative criminal justice it reveals how different the intrinsic cultural attitudes in relation to criminal justice are across Europe This is a time when states monopoly on criminal justice is being questioned and they are being asked on what basis their legitimacy rests challenged by both globalization and localization The answers reflect both cultural specificity and for some broader moves towards reaching out to citizens and associations representing citizens

Transitional Justice and Civil Society in the Balkans Olivera Simić,Zala Volčič,2012-11-19 Transitional Justice and Civil Society in the Balkans covers civil society engagements with transitional justice processes in the Balkans The Balkans are a region marked by the post communist and post conflict transitional turmoil through which its countries are going through This volume is intended to provide a comprehensive introduction to research in transitional justice in this part of the world mostly written by local scholars Transitional justice is ever growing field which responds to dilemmas over how successor regimes should deal with past human rights abuses of their authoritarian predecessors The editors and author emphasize the relatively unexplored and under researched role of civil society groups and social movements such as local women s groups the role of art and community media and other grass roots transitional justice mechanisms and initiatives Through specific case studies the unique contribution of this volume is not only that it covers a part of the world that is not adequately represented in transitional justice field but also that the volume is the first project originally researched and written by experts and scholars from the region or in collaboration with international scholars

Theorising Civil Society

Peacebuilding Emily E. Stanton,2021-06-24 Using empirical qualitative research this book conceptualises and demonstrates the value of local practical knowledge for peacebuilding in the context of Northern Ireland There are increasing calls to involve local people to ensure legitimacy relevance and sustainability when seeking to build peace and transform violent conflict However as peacebuilding becomes increasingly professionalised this raises fundamental questions about whose knowledge matters for building peace and what kind of knowledge matters Seeking to address these questions and to learn from applied practice this book provides a qualitative empirical research study investigating 40 practitioners active in conflict transformation at a grassroots level in Northern Ireland over 50 years This research led not only to recapturing lost knowledge from practitioners but also to a neglected virtue the Aristotelian concept of practical wisdom phronesis This book argues that phronesis has deepened our understanding of why local practical knowledge is vitally important and calls for its global rediscovery as knowledge necessary for building sustainable peace This book will be of much interest to practitioners and students in the fields of peacebuilding conflict resolution philosophy and British and Irish politics

Global Perspectives on People, Process, and Practice in Criminal Justice Leonard, Liam J.,2021-04-16 The United States incarcerates nearly one quarter of the world s prison population with only five percent of its total inhabitants in addition to a history of using internment camps and reservations An overreliance on incarceration has emphasized long standing and systemic racism in criminal justice systems and reveals a need to critically examine current processes in an effort to reform modern systems and provide the best practices for successfully responding to deviance

Global Perspectives on People Process and Practice in Criminal Justice is an essential scholarly reference that focuses on incarceration and imprisonment and reflects on the differences and alternatives to these policies in various parts of the world Covering subjects from criminology and criminal justice to penology and prison studies this book presents chapters that examine processes and responses to deviance in regions around the world including North America Europe the Middle East and Asia Uniquely this book presents chapters that give a voice to those who are not always heard in debates about incarceration and justice such as those who have been incarcerated family members of those incarcerated and those who work within the walls of the prison system Investigating significant topics that include carceral trauma prisoner rights recidivism and desistance this book is critical for academicians researchers policymakers advocacy groups students government officials criminologists and other practitioners interested in criminal justice penology human rights courts and law victimology and criminology

Civil Society Narratives of Violence and Shaping the Transitional Justice Agenda in Zimbabwe Chenai G. Matshaka, 2022-08-01 In Civil Society Narratives of Violence and Shaping the Transitional Justice Agenda in Zimbabwe Chenai G Matshaka shows the shaping of the transitional justice agenda in Zimbabwe from a civil society perspective Based on the understanding that transitional justice approaches are seen through the lenses by which the violence and conflict is understood Matshaka explores the complexities that arise when particular narratives of violence dominate the agenda This book contributes to a discussion on how narratives intervene in the trajectory of a transitional justice process of a society in ways that may be beneficial or detrimental to breaking cycles of injustice and domination

Justice for Kids Nancy E. Dowd, 2011 Children and youth become involved with the juvenile justice system at a significant rate While some children move just as quickly out of the system and go on to live productive lives as adults other children become enmeshed in the system developing deeper problems and or transferring into the adult criminal justice system Justice for Kids is a volume of work by leading academics and activists that focuses on ways to intervene at the earliest possible point to rehabilitate and redirect to keep kids out of the system rather than to punish and drive kids deeper Justice for Kids presents a compelling argument for rethinking and restructuring the juvenile justice system as we know it This unique collection explores the system's fault lines with respect to all children and focuses in particular on issues of race gender and sexual orientation that skew the system Most importantly it provides specific program initiatives that offer alternatives to our thinking about prevention and deterrence with an ultimate focus on keeping kids out of the system altogether

Handbook of Restorative Justice Gerry Johnstone, Daniel

Van Ness,2013-01-11 Discusses the key concepts and principles of restorative justice explains how the campaign for restorative justice arose and developed into an influential social movement describes the variety of restorative justice practices and identifies and examines key issues within the restorative justice movement The Sustainable Nation Liam Leonard,2017-11-10 Drawing on almost 20 years of Liam Leonard s research in the field this volume provides a detailed case study of a modern European state s tumultuous development through first decades of the Millennium The book provides an in depth and up to date study on Ireland s growth and the substantial changes experienced there during the last two decades

Civil Society and Transitional Justice in Asia and the Pacific Claire Cronin,Lia Kent,JoAnne Wallis,2019-01-01 Over the last two decades civil society has helped catalyse responses to the legacies of violent conflicts and oppressive political regimes in Asia and the Pacific Civil society has advocated for the establishment of criminal trials and truth commissions monitored their operations and pushed for take up of their recommendations It has also initiated community based transitional justice responses Yet there has been little in depth examination of the breadth and diversity of these roles This book addresses this gap by analysing the heterogeneity of civil society transitional justice activity in Asia and the Pacific Based upon empirically grounded case studies of Timor Leste Indonesia Cambodia Myanmar Bougainville Solomon Islands and Fiji this book illustrates that civil society actors can have different and sometimes competing priorities resources and approaches to transitional justice Their work is also underpinned by diverse understandings of justice By reflecting on the richness of this activity this book advances contemporary debates about transitional justice and civil society It will also be a valuable resource for scholars and practitioners working on Asia and the Pacific Media Ethics and Justice in the Age of Globalization S. Rao,H. Wasserman,2015-04-28 This book uses global perspectives to address questions of media ethics and justice in a local and transnational global environment and examines the common denominator running through such disparate investigations of theories and practices of media ethics and justice in the democracies of India South Africa Pakistan and the United States Criminal Justice Peter Joyce,2013 This book assesses the main theories concerned with the causes of crime and provides an account and analysis of the response of the state to crime in England and Wales It is a useful text for students taking courses in criminal justice Effective Crime Reduction Strategies James F. Das,2011-02-22 The International Police Executive Symposium IPES www.ipes.info coordinates annual international conferences to evaluate critical issues in policing and recommend practical solutions to law enforcement executives deployed across the globe Drawn from the 2005 proceedings hosted by the Czech Republic in Prague Effective Crime Reduction Strategie Church and Civil Society Michael Walker,2017-07-31 Germany and South Africa experienced drastic social transitions with the fall of the Berlin Wall in 1986 and the end of Apartheid in 1994 This book consists of a collection of essays from German and South African theologians who analyse the role that religious communities had and are still playing within the respective civil societies The concept and texture of civil society are analysed case studies are presented theological perspectives are given on the relation between church state and civil society and guidelines are provided for the healing role that Christian religious communities can play in Germany and South Africa This book is mainly directed at theologians and scholars in religious studies however sociologists and political philosophers may also find the essays informative Besides the wide variety of theological approaches sociological and empirical data and practical theological perspective the book also yields interesting comparative analysis on two societies in transition

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Economics and Society Frederick F. Wherry, Juliet B. Schor, Consulting Editor, 2015-09-01 Economics is the nexus and engine that runs society affecting societal well being raising standards of living when economies prosper or lowering citizens through class structures when economies perform poorly Our society only has to witness the booms and busts of the past decade to see how economics profoundly affects the cores of societies around the world From a household budget to international trade economics ranges from the micro to the macro level It relates to a breadth of social science disciplines that help describe the content of the proposed encyclopedia which will explicitly approach economics through varied disciplinary lenses Although there are encyclopedias of covering economics especially classic economic theory and history the SAGE Encyclopedia of Economics and Society emphasizes the contemporary world contemporary issues and society Features 4 volumes with approximately 800 signed articles ranging from 1 000 to 5 000 words each are presented in a choice of print or electronic editions Organized A to Z with a thematic Reader s Guide in the front matter groups related entries Articles conclude with References Future Readings to guide students to the next step on their research journeys Cross references between and among articles combine with a thorough Index and the Reader s Guide to enhance search and browse in the electronic version Pedagogical elements include a Chronology of Economics and Society Resource Guide and Glossary This academic multi author reference work will serve as a general non technical resource for students and researchers within social science programs who seek to better understand economics through a contemporary lens

Global Civil Society 2011 H. Seckinelgin, Billy Wong, 2016-01-12 Global Civil Society 2011 combines activist and academic accounts of contemporary struggles to promote negotiate and deliver justice in a global frame without a central authority In their engagement with cultural diversity and their networked communication the contributors rethink and remake justice beyond the confines of the nation state

Reconceiving Civil Society and Transitional Justice Joanne Wallis, Lia Kent, 2020-05-21 Reconceiving Civil Society and Transitional Justice examines the role of civil society in transitional justice exploring the forms of civil society that are enabled or disabled by transitional justice processes and the forms of transitional justice activity that are enabled and disabled by civil society actors Although civil society organisations play an integral role in the pursuit of transitional justice in conflict affected societies the literature lacks a comprehensive conceptualisation of the diversity and complexity of these roles This reflects the degree to which dominant approaches to transitional justice focus on liberal legal justice strategies and international human rights norms In this context civil society organisations are perceived as intermediaries who are thought to advocate for and support formal liberal transitional justice processes The contributions to this volume demonstrate that the reality is more complicated civil society can and does play important roles in enabling formal transitional justice processes but it can also disrupt them Informed by detailed fieldwork across Asia and the Pacific Islands the contributions demonstrate that neither transitional justice or civil society should be treated as taken for granted concepts Demonstrating that neither transitional justice or civil society should be treated as taken for granted concepts Reconceiving Civil Society and Transitional Justice will be of great interest to scholars of Security Studies Asian Studies Peacebuilding Asia Pacific Human Rights Reconciliation and the Politics of Memory The chapters were originally published as a special issue of Global Change Peace Security
