Rethinking Settler Colonialism Annie E. Coombes, 2006-03-17 Focusing on the long history of contact between indigenous peoples and the white colonial communities who settled in Australia Aotearoa New Zealand Canada and South Africa this book investigates how histories of colonial settlement have been mythologized narrated and embodied in public culture in the twentieth century through monuments exhibitions and images     Rethinking Settler Colonialism Annie E. Coombes, 2006

Rethinking settler colonialism focuses on the long history of contact between indigenous peoples and the white colonial communities who settled in Australia Aotearoa New Zealand Canada and South Africa It interrogates how histories of colonial settlement have been mythologised narrated and embodied in public culture in the twentieth century through monuments exhibitions and images and charts some of the vociferous challenges to such histories that have emerged over recent years Despite a shared familiarity with cultural and political institutions practices and policies amongst the white settler communities the distinctiveness which marked these constituencies as variously Australian South African Canadian or New Zealander was fundamentally contingent upon their relationship to and with the various indigenous communities they encountered In each of these countries these communities were displaced marginalised and sometimes subjected to attempted genocide through the colonial process Recently these groups have renewed their claims for greater political representation and autonomy The essays and artwork in this book insist that an understanding of the political and cultural institutions and practices which shaped settler colonial societies in the past can provide important insights into how this legacy of unequal rights can be contested in the present It will be of interest to those studying the effects of colonial powers on indigenous populations and the legacies of imperial rule in postcolonial societies     Settler Colonialism Lorenzo

Veracini, 2024-09-30 Exploring the history and politics of a powerful and long lasting idea the creation and maintenance of European worlds outside of Europe This textbook provides a broad overview of settler colonialism in the modern era The author outlines how the founding of new societies was envisaged and practiced around the world illustrating the specific ways in which settler colonial projects tried to establish ideal and regenerated political bodies With an updated introduction and an additional chapter examining decolonisation and Indigenous recognition this second edition brings the study of settler colonialism up to the present day     Settler Colonialism L. Veracini, 2010-11-10 A vivid exploration of the history of a very powerful and long lasting idea building European worlds outside of Europe Veracini outlines how the founding of new societies was envisaged and practiced and explores the specific ways in which settler colonial projects tried to establish ideal and regenerated political bodies     Settler Colonialism and (Re)conciliation Penelope Edmonds, 2016-04-08 This book examines the performative life reconciliation and its discontents in settler societies It explores the refoundings of the settler state and reimaginings of its alternatives as well as the way the past is mobilized and reworked in the name of social transformation within a new global paradigm of reconciliation and the age of apology     American Settler Colonialism W.

Hixson,2013-12-05 Over the course of three centuries American settlers helped to create the richest most powerful nation in human history even as they killed and displaced millions This groundbreaking work shows that American history is defined by settler colonialism providing a compelling framework through which to understand its rise to global dominance

Gendering the Settler State Kate Law,2015-11-06 White women cut an ambivalent figure in the transnational history of the British Empire They tend to be remembered as malicious harridans personifying the worst excesses of colonialism as vacuous fusspots whose lives were punctuated by a series of frivolous pastimes or as casualties of patriarchy constrained by male actions and gendered ideologies This book which places itself amongst other new imperial histories argues that the reality of the situation is of course much more intricate and complex Focusing on post war colonial Rhodesia Gendering the Settler State provides a fine grained analysis of the role s of white women in the colonial enterprise arguing that they held ambiguous and inconsistent views on a variety of issues including liberalism gender race and colonialism "Craft,

Community and the Material Culture of Place and Politics, 19th-20th Century " Janice Helland,2017-07-05 Craft practice has a rich history and remains vibrant sustaining communities while negotiating cultures within local or international contexts More than two centuries of industrialization have not extinguished handmade goods rather the broader force of industrialization has redefined and continues to define the context of creation deployment and use of craft objects With object study at the core this book brings together a collection of essays that address the past and present of craft production its use and meaning within a range of community settings from the Huron Wendat of colonial Quebec to the Girls Friendly Society of twentieth century England The making of handcrafted objects has and continues to flourish despite the powerful juggernaut of global industrialization whether inspired by a calculated refutation of industrial sameness an essential means to sustain a cultural community under threat or a rejection of the imposed definitions by a dominant culture The broader effects of urbanizing imperial and globalizing projects shape the multiple contexts of interaction and resistance that can define craft ventures through place and time By attending to the political histories of craft objects and their makers over the last few centuries these essays reveal the creative persistence of various hand mediums and the material debates they represented

Cultures of International Exhibitions 1840-1940 Marta Filipová,2017-07-05 Beyond the great exhibitions expositions universelles and world fairs in London Paris or Chicago numerous smaller yet ambitious exhibitions took place in provincial cities and towns across the world Focusing on the period between 1840 and 1940 this volume takes a novel look at the exhibitionary cultures of this period and examines the motivations scope and impact of lesser known exhibitions in for example Australia Japan Brazil as well as a number of European countries The individual case studies included explore the role of these exhibitions in the global exhibitionary network and consider their marginality related to their location and omission by academic research so far The chapters also highlight a number of important issues from regional or national identities the role of modernisation and tradition to the relationship between capital cities and provincial towns present in these exhibitions They also address the key topic of colonial exhibitions as well as the displays of arts and design in the context of the so called marginal fairs Cultures of International Exhibitions 1840 1940 Great Exhibitions in the Margins therefore opens up new angles in the way the global phenomenon of a great exhibition can be examined through the prism of the regional and will make a vital contribution to those interested in exhibition studies and related fields

Cracks in the Dome: Fractured Histories of Empire in the Zanzibar Museum, 1897-1964 Sarah Longair, 2016-03-09 As one of the most monumental and recognisable landmarks from Zanzibar's years as a British Protectorate the distinctive domed building of the Zanzibar Museum also known as the Beit al Amani or Peace Memorial Museum is widely known and familiar to Zanzibaris and visitors alike Yet the complicated and compelling history behind its construction and collection has been overlooked by historians until now Drawing on a rich and wide range of hitherto unexplored archival photographic architectural and material evidence this book is the first serious investigation of this remarkable institution Although the museum was not opened until 1925 this book traces the longer history of colonial display which culminated in the establishment of the Zanzibar Museum It reveals the complexity of colonial knowledge production in the changing political context of the twentieth century British Empire and explores the broad spectrum of people from diverse communities who shaped its existence as staff informants collectors and teachers Through vivid narratives involving people objects and exhibits this book exposes the fractures contradictions and tensions in creating and maintaining a colonial museum and casts light on the conflicted character of the colonial mission in eastern Africa

Clio's Battles Jeremy Black, 2015-07-01 A survey of the variety of readings we have of the past and of how those readings are used in the present day to validate discredit unite or divide To write history is to consider how to explicate the past to weigh the myriad possible approaches to the past and to come to terms with how the past can be and has been used In this book prize winning historian Jeremy Black considers both popular and academic approaches to the past His focus is on the interaction between the presentation of the past and current circumstances on how history is used to validate one view of the present or to discredit another and on readings of the past that unite and those that divide Black opens with an account that underscores the differences and developments in traditions of writing history from the ancient world to the present Subsequent chapters take up more recent decades notably the post Cold War period discussing how different perspectives can fuel discussions of the past by individuals interested in shaping public opinion or public perceptions of the past Black then turns to the possible future uses of the then past as a way to gain perspective on how we use the past today Clio's Battles is an ambitious account of the engagement with the past across world history and of the clash over the content and interpretation of history and its implications for the present and future Remarkable both for its geographical scope and historical scale and for its command of scholarship on a breathtaking range of subjects I can't imagine another historian who could attempt such an ambitious work or pull it off with such aplomb William Gibson Oxford Brookes University Refreshing Black eschews Eurocentricism and includes considerable material on other areas of the world that one does not usually find in such a work Typical of Black s writing there is much to learn in the numerous small asides throughout the text Taken together these form an impressive whole Spencer C Tucker VMI Indigenous Peoples of the British Dominions and the First World War Timothy C. Winegard,2011-11-03 The first comprehensive examination and comparison of the indigenous peoples of the five British dominions during the First World War The White Man's World Bill Schwarz,2011-10-27 The White Man s World explores ideas of the white man during the last 100 years of the British Empire Working back from Enoch Powell s Rivers of Blood speech of 1968 it discusses the racial assumptions that accompanied the founding of colonial Australia South Africa and Rhodesia colonies which were popularly known as white men s countries Reworking Postcolonialism P. Malreddy,B. Heidemann,O. Laursen,2015-04-22 An interdisciplinary collection of essays Reworking Postcolonialism explores questions of work precarity migration minority and indigenous rights in relation to contemporary globalization It brings together political economic and literary approaches to texts and events from across the postcolonial world Visions and Revisions Bryoni Trezise,Caroline Wake,2014-02-28 In 1983 US president Ronald Reagan told the Israeli Prime Minister that he as a photographer during World War II had documented the atrocities of the concentration camps on film The story was later exposed as a fraud as it was revealed that Reagan had resided in Hollywood during the entire war Does this mean that Reagan was simply an amoral liar or that he established a connection to the Holocaust that can be said to have evolved from the intersection between real and reel Visions and Revisions Performance Memory Trauma brings the fields of performance studies and trauma studies together in conversation in order to investigate how these two fields both envision and revision one another in relation to crucial themes such as trauma testimony witness and spectatorship According to Peggy Phelan a leading performance studies scholar performance provides a unique model for witnessing events that are both unbearably real and beyond reason s ability to grasp traumatic events like the Holocaust While Reagan s claim is obviously both paradoxical and problematic it opens up a space in which the potential insights that performance studies and trauma studies might bring to one another become particularly visible The first half of the anthology focuses on issues of spectatorship specifically its ethics and the possibility of witnessing The second half widens the discussion to include memory more broadly shifting the emphasis from sight to site and particularly to site specific works and the embodied encounters they model enable and enact The contributors here fill a critical gap raising questions about how popular and mediatized performances that memorialize trauma might be viewed through performance theory They also look at how performance studies might shift its focus from the visual to the sensorial and material and in doing so they offer a fresh perspective on both performance and trauma studies Writing from different disciplinary vantages and drawing on multiple case studies from South Africa the former Soviet Union Lebanon and Thailand among others the contributors decolonize trauma studies and make us question how and where our own eyes and bodies are positioned as we revision the scenes before us Contributors Laurie Beth Clark

Imperial Islands Joseph R. Hartman, 2021-11-30 When the USS Maine mysteriously exploded in Havana's harbor on February 15 1898 the United States joined local rebel forces to avenge the Maine and liberate Cuba from the Spanish empire Remember the Maine To Hell with Spain So went the popular slogan Little did the Cubans know that the United States was not going to give them freedom in less than a year the American flag replaced the Spanish flag over the various island colonies of Cuba Guam Puerto Rico and the Philippines Spurred by military successes and dreams of an island empire the US annexed Hawai'i that same year even establishing island colonies throughout Micronesia and the Antilles With the new governmental orders of creating new art architecture monuments and infrastructure from the United States the island cultures of the Caribbean and Pacific were now caught in a strategic scope of a growing imperial power These spatial and visual objects created a visible confrontation between local indigenous African Asian Spanish and US imperial expressions These material and visual histories often go unacknowledged but serve as uncomplicated proof for the visible confrontation between the US and the new island territories The essays in this volume contribute to an important art historical visual cultural architectural and materialist critique of a growing body of scholarship on the US Empire and the War of 1898 Imperial Islands seeks to reimagine the history and cultural politics of art architecture and visual experience in the US insular context The authors of this volume propose a new direction of visual culture and spatial experience through nuanced terrains for writing envisioning and revising US American Caribbean and Pacific histories These original essays address the role of art and architecture in expressions of state power racialized and gendered representations of the United States and its island colonies and forms of resistance to US cultural presence Featuring interdisciplinary approaches Imperial Islands offers readers a new way of learning the ongoing significance of vision and experience in the US empire today particularly for Caribbean Latinx Pilipinx and Pacific Island communities

Victorian Narratives of Failed Emigration Tamara S Wagner, 2016-05-26 In her study of the unsuccessful nineteenth century emigrant Tamara S Wagner argues that failed emigration and return drive nineteenth century writing in English in unexpected culturally revealing ways Wagner highlights the hitherto unexplored subgenre of anti emigration writing that emerged as an important counter current to a pervasive emigration propaganda machine that was pressing popular fiction into its service The exportation of characters at the end of a novel indisputably formed a convenient narrative solution that at once mirrored and exaggerated public policies about so called superfluous or redundant parts of society Yet the very convenience of such pat endings was increasingly called into question New starts overseas might not be so easily realizable emigration destinations failed to live up to the inflated promises of pro emigration rhetoric the unwanted might make a surprising reappearance Wagner juxtaposes representations of emigration in the works of Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins Frances Trollope and Charlotte Yonge with Australian New Zealand and Canadian settler fiction by Elizabeth Murray Clara Cheeseman and Susanna Moodie offering a new literary history not just of nineteenth century migration but also of transoceanic exchanges and genre formation

Tribal Worlds Brian Hosmer, Larry Nesper, 2013-03-04 Tribal Worlds considers the emergence and general project of indigenous nationhood in several geographical and historical settings in Native North America Ethnographers and historians address issues of belonging peoplehood sovereignty conflict economy identity and colonialism among the Northern Cheyenne and Kiowa on the Plains several groups of the Ojibwe the Makah of the Northwest and two groups of Iroquois Featuring a new essay by the eminent senior scholar Anthony F C Wallace on recent ethnographic work he has done in the Tuscarora community as well as provocative essays by junior scholars Tribal Worlds explores how indigenous nationhood has emerged and been maintained in the face of aggressive efforts to assimilate Native peoples

Museum Transformations Annie E. Coombes, Ruth B. Phillips, 2020-11-17 MUSEUM TRANSFORMATIONS DECOLONIZATION AND DEMOCRATIZATION Edited By ANNIE E COOMBES AND RUTH B PHILLIPS Museum Transformations Decolonization and Democratization addresses contemporary approaches to decolonization greater democratization and revisionist narratives in museum exhibition and program development around the world The text explores how museums of art history and ethnography responded to deconstructive critiques from activists and poststructuralist and postcolonial theorists and provided models for change to other types of museums and heritage sites The volume s first set of essays discuss the role of the museum in the narration of difficult histories and how altering the social attitudes and political structures that enable oppression requires the recognition of past histories of political and racial oppression and colonization in museums Subsequent essays consider the museum s new roles in social action and discuss experimental projects that work to change power dynamics within institutions and leverage digital technology and new media

Voluntary Detours Lianne McTavish, 2021-10-15 After visiting hundreds of museums across Alberta Lianne McTavish chronicles some of the most challenging and unexpected sites where the idea of the museum is being reshaped The concept of the visit as a voluntary detour encapsulates the way visitors travel along backroads to find small town and rural museums as well as the agreement to turn away from standard museum scripts when they arrive Addressing themes of place land colonization rurality heritage childhood and play McTavish reveals the museum visitor as multifaceted with locals and tourists often interpreting museums very differently Case studies include the World Famous Gopher Hole Museum Fort Chipewyan Bicentennial Museum Blackfoot Crossing Historical Park and the Museum of Fear and Wonder A key chapter analyzing sites devoted to resource extraction explores how these places promote settler colonial understandings of land use By contrast Indigenous museums and cultural centres defy colonial messages in displays that adapt and refuse conventional museum formats Honouring local rural and Indigenous knowledge Voluntary Detours enriches critical accounts of the past present and future of museums
