The Advocate , 1999-07 Homintern Gregory Woods, 2017-01-01 A landmark account of gay and lesbian creative networks and the seismic changes they brought to twentieth century culture In a hugely ambitious study which crosses continents languages and almost a century Gregory Woods identifies the ways in which homosexuality has helped shape Western culture Extending from the trials of Oscar Wilde to the gay liberation era this book examines a period in which increased visibility made acceptance of homosexuality one of the measures of modernity Woods shines a revealing light on the diverse informal networks of gay people in the arts and other creative fields Uneasily called the Homintern an echo of

Lenin's Comintern by those suspicious of an international homosexual conspiracy such networks connected gay writers actors artists musicians dancers filmmakers politicians and spies While providing some defense against dominant heterosexual exclusion the grouping brought solidarity celebrated talent and in doing so invigorated the majority culture Woods introduces an enormous cast of gifted and extraordinary characters most of them operating with surprising openness but also explores such issues as artistic influence the coping strategies of minorities the hypocrisies of conservatism and the effects of positive and negative discrimination Traveling from Harlem in the 1910s to 1920s Paris 1930s Berlin 1950s New York and beyond this sharply observed warm spirited book presents a surpassing portrait of twentieth century gay culture and the men and women who both redefined themselves and changed history The Facts on File Companion to the French Novel Karen L. Taylor, 2006 French novels such as Madame Bovary and The Stranger are staples of high school and college literature courses This work provides coverage of the French novel since its origins in the 16th century with an emphasis on novels most commonly studied in high school and college courses in world literature and in French culture and civilization The Flaneur Edmund White, 2008-04-01 A flaneur is a stroller a loiterer someone who ambles through a city without apparent purpose but is secretly attuned to the history of the place and in covert search of adventure aesthetic or erotic The author who lived in Paris for sixteen years wanders through the streets and avenues and along the quays into parts of Paris virtually unknown to visitors and indeed to many Parisians The Short Writings of Nelson Algren Richard F. Bales, 2022-09-22 Nelson Algren was a renowned Chicago writer known for his social commentary and his novels like The Man with the Golden Arm and A Walk on the Wild Side Although he continues to be remembered almost exclusively for his novels this book aims to highlight the value and influence of his short form works Before he died in 1981 Algren had amassed a genre defying body of work including short stories articles poems and book reviews The present book features a comprehensive analysis and discussion of Algren's lost literature including everything but his novels One of the pieces covered is a masterpiece of race relations written in 1950 more than 60 years before the galvanization of the Black Lives Matter movement Another is a scathing poem about Algren's transatlantic love affair with Simone de Beauvoir Both items are reprinted in the book courtesy of the Algren estate This book also includes references to Algren's works that have yet to be studied by Algren scholars Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer, 2011-03-15 If questions of subjectivity and identification are at stake in all biographical writing they are particularly trenchant for contemporary women biographers of women Often their efforts to exhume buried lives in hope of finding spiritual foremothers awaken maternal phantoms that must be embraced or confronted Do women writing in fact have any greater access to their own mothers' lives than to the lives of other women whose stories have been swept away like dust in the debris of the past In Thinking through the Mothers Janet Beizer surveys modern women's biographies and contemplates alternatives to an approach based in lineage and the form of thought that emphasizes the line the path hierarchy unity resemblance reflection and the aesthetic mimesis that depends on these ideas Through close readings of memoirs and fictions about mothers Beizer explores how biographers of the women who came before rehearse and rewrite relationships to their own mothers biographically as they seek to appropriate the past in a hybrid genre she calls bioautography Thinking through the Mothers features the work of George Sand and Colette and spans such varied figures as Gustave Flaubert Julian Barnes Louise Colet Eunice Lipton Vladimir Nabokov Huguette Bouchardeau and Christa Wolf Beizer seeks an alternative to women's salvation biography or resurrection biography that might resist nostalgia be attentive to silence and reinvent the means to represent the lives of precursors without appropriating traditional models of genealogy
