

Genesis

The Beginning

1 In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. 2 Now the earth was formless and empty, darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God was hovering over the waters.

3 And God said, "Let there be light," and there was light. 4 God saw that the light was good, and he separated the light from the darkness. 5 God called the light "day," and the darkness he called "night." And there was evening, and there was morning—the first day. 6 And God said, "Let there be an expanse between the waters to separate water from water." 7 So God made the expanse and separated the waters that were under the expanse from the waters that were above the expanse. 8 God called the expanse "sky." And he said, "Let the waters under the sky be full of living creatures, and let birds fill the sky." 9 So God created the great sea creatures and every living thing that moves and swims in the water, according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind. 10 And God saw that it was good. 11 And God blessed them and said, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the water in the seas, and let birds fill the sky."

12 This was the first day. 13 And the second day. 14 And God said, "Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it separate the waters from the waters." 15 And God made the firmament, and separated the waters that were under the firmament from the waters that were above the firmament. 16 And God called the firmament "sky." 17 And God said, "Let the waters under the sky be full of living creatures, and let birds fill the sky." 18 So God created the great sea creatures and every living thing that moves and swims in the water, according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind. 19 And God saw that it was good. 20 And God blessed them and said, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the water in the seas, and let birds fill the sky."
