Global Governance of Intellectual Property in the 21st Century Mark Perry, 2016-05-24 This book analyses the governance foundations of innovation brands inventions secrets and expression which are the keys to a century based on knowledge They are reflected in legal rights that have been fermenting over centuries of national policy deliberations on intellectual property rights constantly in flux in the face of new advances in science but overall a trend towards greater protectionism As countries are challenged by the strictures of international agreements often extorted through imbalanced power relationships they seek their own national means for beneficial differentiation from the new global norms whilst complying with international obligations This book deals with the outcomes of regional governance of intellectual property which often creates ripples in the search for harmony in the laws that form the basis for the future of intellectual property The work has contributions that come from developing and developed nations showing a common theme of the struggle to find the balance in an area of law that often does not provide clearcut solutions to real world environments There are many intellectual property struggles illustrated in this work patent at the boundaries of nature and invention the need for drug development which is driven by profit based on the patent monopoly copyright the expression of original thought seeking to maximise exposure facilitated by the internet but a system that facilitates rampant copying trade marks supporting company branding seeks to exploit global branding through naming domains names and other areas concomitant to the globalisation of intellectual property governance such as foreign direct investment This book holds up a mirror to the issues of world governance of intellectual property rights in this century asking whether the direction we are currently following is in the best interest of global citizens and showing the divergence that constraints are stimulating on a national level

Law Against Unfair Competition Reto Hilty, Frauke Henning-Bodewig, 2007-07-28 Unfair competition law is concerned with fair play in commerce It is generally regarded as necessary together with antitrust law in order to steer competition along an orderly course and thereby to contribute to promoting an efficient market system that serves the interests of all participants Nevertheless the significance of unfair competition law varies from one country to another Whereas in some countries such as Germany it is seen as one of the most effective commercial laws in other countries such as the United Kingdom it leads rather a shadowy existence From the outset this discrepancy laid in the differences in national legal systems Whilst those continental European countries that possessed a written civil law when instances of unfair competition emerged more or less successfully attempted to incorporate them in the existing tort law system protection in the common law countries was restricted to some narrowly defined torts in particular passing off At this stage one of the few shared convictions was that the protection of honest entrepreneurs was at issue on this basis in 1900 the only regulation at the international level until now was enacted Art 10 of the Paris Convention

Indigenous Cultural Heritage and Intellectual Property Rights Jessica Christine Lai, 2014-01-08 Now more than ever indigenous peoples interests in their cultural heritage are in the spotlight Yet there is very little literature that comprehensively discusses how existing laws can and cannot be used to address indigenous peoples interests This book assesses how intangible aspects of indigenous cultural heritage and the tangible objects that hold them can be protected within the realm of a broad range of existing legal orders including intellectual property and related rights consumer protection law common law and equitable doctrines and human rights It does so by focusing on the New Zealand M ori The book also looks to the future analysing the long awaited Wai 262 report released in New Zealand by the Waitangi Tribunal in response to allegations that the government had failed in its duty to ensure that the M ori retain chieftainship over their tangible and intangible treasures as required by the Treaty of Waitangi signed between the M ori and the British Crown in 1840
