There are many different models of marriage and family therapy. The challenge for students and beginning practitioners is deciding which one best suits their individual purposes. This highly practical volume elucidates the defining characteristics of 14 contemporary models including their history, views of change, views of family and the role of the therapist and methods of assessing family dynamics, goal setting, facilitating change and knowing when to terminate. Each chapter also includes a template for implementing therapy models and realistic case studies, many drawn from actual practice to illustrate how each model would address common issues. In addition, the volume includes extensive interviews with master therapists such as Albert Ellis, Insoo Kim Berg, Sue Johnson, Susan McDaniel, Gerald Wing Sue and many others. They share their ideas of the ways in which change occurs, how they set goals and how they perform therapy. For further clarification, each therapist illustrates how he/she would proceed via the same case study. Learning how to perform effective family therapy can be an arduous process of trial and error, yet this resource will ease the way for students and currently practicing family therapists who need to revisit the basics.

Modalities Included: Bowen Family Systems Theory, Contextual Family Therapy, Cognitive Behavioral Family Therapy, Models of Rational Emotive Behavior Therapy, Symbolic Experiential Family Therapy, Satir Human Validation Process Model, Milan Systemic Family Therapy, Structural Family Therapy, Strategic Family Therapy, Solution Focused Brief Therapy with Families, Narrative Therapy with Families, Emotionally Focused Therapy, Medical Family Therapy, Family Psychoeducation.

curriculum units designed to foster self esteem Integrative Family and Systems Treatment (I-FAST) J. Scott Fraser PhD, David Grove LISW-S, Mo Yee Lee PhD, Gilbert Greene PhD, Andy Solovey MSW, 2014-03-28 Funders of mental health services to youth and families have increasingly required providers to use treatments deemed to be evidence based There are several evidence based family treatment EBFT approaches found to be effective with the same types of presenting problems and populations All of these EBFTs claim to be based on similar theoretical approaches and have specified treatment protocols that providers must follow to be faithful to the model These EBFTs are expensive for agencies to establish and maintain Many agencies that initially adopted one of these EBFTs later de adopted it because they could not sustain it when billing Medicaid is the only way to pay for such services Meta analyses of treatment outcome studies have found that various theoretical approaches to therapy are effective but no one approach is more effective than any other What accounts for client improvement is not the specific treatment approach but rather the factors they all have in common To provide an effective affordable and flexible approach to family treatment the authors of this book developed and have conducted researched on an approach they call Integrative Family and Systems Treatment I FAST I FAST is a meta model organized around the common factors to family treatment Such a model does not require practitioners to learn a completely new way to provide treatment but rather it builds on and incorporates the clinical strengths and skills they already possess This book is a manual for how to faithfully and flexibly provide I FAST A manual for a meta model to treatment based on the common factors has never been provided This book provides clear guidelines illustrated by cases examples for not only how to provide I FAST but also how to teach and supervise it as well as how to integrate I FAST with the rest of an agency s services and programs

Systems of Psychotherapy Donald K. Fromme, 2010-10-26

Psychotherapy today encompasses a broad spectrum of approaches that focus to a varying extent on psychophysiological, behavioral, environmental, or other aspects of human problems. Despite the overlap that exists between many of these approaches, there is no method that integrates more than a few of these aspects. It is therefore important to understand the inherent advantages and disadvantages of each therapy system and how each helps people to solve their problems.

Systems of Psychotherapy: Dialectical Tensions and Integration provides an in-depth overview of the major therapeutic systems in practice today and outlines the philosophical differences and opportunities for integration among them. This volume also considers the new ideas and approaches to therapy stemming from the postmodernist and integrative movements. By highlighting the unique merits of each system, readers are encouraged to combine factors present in the various systems to create a comprehensive view of human nature and functioning that will improve therapeutic outcomes.

Topics covered in this volume include: Empirical foundations of psychotherapy, Treatment planning and the initial interview, Psychopharmacology, Cognitive Behavioral interventions, Humanistic approaches, Interpersonal approaches, Family systems and couples approaches, Ecosystemic interventions.

Systems of Psychotherapy is an educational text which spans historical and contemporary issues in psychotherapy and is an ideal reference for students of clinical counseling and school psychology, psychiatric residents, and graduate students in clinical social work.
