Sexual Encounters Pacific Texts Modern Sexualities:

Sexual Encounters Lee Wallace, 2003 European literary artistic and anthropological representation has long viewed the Pacific as the site of heterosexual pleasures The received wisdom of these accounts is based on the idea of female bodies unrestrained by civilization In a revisionist history of the Pacific zone and some of its preeminent Western imaginists Lee Wallace suggests that the fantasy of the male body rather than of the free loving female provides the underlying libidinal structure for many of the classic encounter narratives from Cook to Melville The subject of Sexual Encounters is sexual fantasy particularly male homoerotic fantasy found in the literature and art of South Sea exploration colonization and settlement Working at the boundaries of a number of disciplines such as queer theory anthropology postcolonial studies and history Wallace engages in subversive readings of eighteenth and nineteenth century Pacific voyage journals Cook in Hawaii and a Russian expedition to the Marquesas an argument concerning Gauguin's treatment of female figures and a discussion of homosexuality and Samoan male to female transgenderism These phenomena Wallace asserts demonstrate the continuity and dissonance between Western and Pacific sexual categories She reconstructs Pacific history through the inevitable entanglement of metropolitan and indigenous sexual regimes and ultimately argues for the importance of the Pacific in defining modern sexual categories

Embodiments of Cultural Encounters Sebastian Jobs, Gesa Mackenthun, 2011 The meeting of members of different cultures frequently conceptualized in abstract terms always involves the meeting of human bodies This volume brings together contributions by scholars of various disciplines that address physical aspects and effects of cultural encounters in historical and present day settings Bodies were and are not only markers of cultural identity and difference endlessly inscribed and represented as the body politic or the exotic other as battlegrounds of cross cultural signification and identification bodies are also potential agents of change While some essays address the elusiveness of the real or material body forever lost behind a veil of textual and visual representation others analyze the performative effect of such representations their function of disciplining colonized bodies and subjects by integrating them into Western systems of cultural signification and scientific classification Yet as the volume also shows formerly colonized people far from subjecting themselves completely to Western discourses of physical discipline retain traditional body practices whether in food culture religious ritual or musical performances Such local reinscriptions escape the grip of Western culture and transform the global semantics of the body

Women, Epic, and Transition in British Romanticism Elisa Beshero-Bondar, 2011 Women Epic and Transition in British Romanticism argues that early nineteenth century women poets contributed some of the most daring work in modernizing the epic genre The book examines several long poems to provide perspective on women poets working with and against men in related efforts contributing together to a Romantic movement of large scale genre revision Women poets challenged longstanding categorical approaches to gender and nation in the epic tradition and they raised politically charged questions about women's importance in moments of historical crisis While Romantic epics did not all engage in radical questioning or undermining of authority this study calls attention to some of the more provocative poems in their approach to gender culture and history This study prioritizes long poems written by and about women during the Romantic era and does so in context with influential epics by male contemporaries The book takes its cue from a dramatic increase in the publication of epics in the early nineteenth century At their most innovative Romantic epics provoked questions about the construction of ideological meaning and historical memory and they centralized women's experiences in entirely new ways to reflect on defeat loss and inevitable transition For the first time the epic became an attractive genre for ambitious women poets The book offers a timely response to recent groundbreaking scholarship on nineteenth century epic by Herbert Tucker and Simon Dentith and should be of interest to Romanticists and scholars of 18th and 19th century literature and history gender and genre and women's studies

Identities and Place Katherine Crawford-Lackey, Megan E. Springate, 2019-11-01

With a focus on historic sites this volume explores the recent history of non heteronormative Americans from the early twentieth century onward and the places associated with these communities Authors explore how queer identities are connected with specific places places where people gather socialize protest mourn and celebrate The focus is deeper look at how sexually variant and gender non conforming Americans constructed identity created communities and fought to have rights recognized by the government Each chapter is accompanied by prompts and activities that invite readers to think critically and immerse themselves in the subject matter while working collaboratively with others

The Idea of the Antipodes Matthew Boyd Goldie, 2010-01-31

This book will be the first study to focus exclusively on presentations of the antipodes Taking into account maps letters book illustrations travel writing poetry and drama Goldie reveals that the history of the idea of the antipodes might be seen as different modes or discourses mathematical and geographical in the earliest era cartographical and kinetic in the medieval period social and sexual in the Early Modern sartorial and littoral in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and bodily and humorous in the latest era

In Between

Subjects Amelia Jones, 2020-11-09 This volume is a study of the connected ideas of queer and gender performance or performativity over the past several decades providing an ambitious history and crucial examination of these concepts while questioning their very bases Addressing cultural forms from 1960s 70s sociology performance art and drag queen balls to more recent queer voguing performances by Pasifika and M ori people from New Zealand and pop culture television shows such as RuPaul's Drag Race the book traces how and why queer and performativity seem to belong together in so many discussions around identity popular modes of gender display and performance art Drawing on art history and performance studies but also on feminist queer and sexuality studies and postcolonial indigenous and critical race theoretical frameworks it seeks to denaturalize these assumptions by questioning the US centrism and white dominance of discourses around queer performance or performativity The book's narrative is deliberately recursive itself articulated in order performatively to demonstrate the specific valence and social context of each concept as it emerged but also the overlap and interrelation

among the terms as they have come to co constitute one another in popular culture and in performance and visual arts theory history and practice Written from a hybrid art historical and performance studies point of view this will be essential reading for all those interested in art performance and gender as well as in queer and feminist theory Tahiti Beyond the Postcard Miriam Kahn,2011 Tahiti evokes visions of white beaches and beautiful women This imagined paradise created by Euro American romanticism endures today as the bedrock of Tahiti s tourism industry while quite a different place is inhabited and experienced by ta ata ma ohi as Tahitians refer to themselves This book brings into dialogue the perspectives on place of both Tahitians and Europeans Miriam Kahn is professor of anthropology at the University of Washington and author of Always Hungry Never Greedy The Atlantic World in the Antipodes Kate Fullagar,2012-03-15 This collection of essays stems from a John E Sawyer Seminar on the Comparative Study of Cultures Held over two years the seminar investigated the effects and transformations of ideas peoples and institutions from the Atlantic World when carried into the Antipodes The papers presented in this volume distil some of the key themes to emerge from discussion each demonstrating the complexity with which discourses and practices operated in the Indo Pacific oceanic region Some had unexpected effects others underwent profound transformation Always they were changed by the ideas peoples and institutions of the Antipodes Combined the chapters underscore the ways in which both oceanic worlds were co produced through a variety of intellectual and practical interactions over the modern period Essays by leading Pacific scholars such as Margaret Jolly Anita Herle and Katerina Teaiwa are joined by essays from key scholars of various regions in the Atlantic World such as Simon Schaffer Iain McCalman Sheila Fitzpatrick and Michael McDonnell as well as interventions by the new transnationalist breed of Australian historians led by Alison Bashford and Ann Curthoys Tattooing the World Juniper Ellis,2008-03-03 In the 1830s an Irishman named James F O Connell acquired a full body tattoo while living as a castaway in the Pacific The tattoo featured traditional patterns that to native Pohnpeians defined O Connell s life they made him wholly human Yet upon traveling to New York these markings singled him out as a freak His tattoos frightened women and children and ministers warned their congregations that viewing O Connell s markings would cause the ink to transfer to the skin of their unborn children In many ways O Connell s story exemplifies the unique history of the modern tattoo which began in the Pacific and then spread throughout the world No matter what form it has taken the tattoo has always embodied social standing aesthetics ethics culture gender and sexuality Tattoos are personal and corporate private and public They mark the profane and the sacred the extravagant and the essential the playful and the political From the Pacific islands to the world at large tattoos are a symbolic and often provocative form of expression and communication Tattooing the World is the first book on tattoo literature and culture Juniper Ellis traces the origins and significance of modern tattoo in the works of nineteenth and twentieth century artists travelers missionaries scientists and such writers as Herman Melville Margaret Mead Albert Wendt and Sia Figiel Traditional Pacific tattoo patterns are formed using an array of well defined motifs They place the individual in a particular community and often convey genealogy and ideas of the sacred However outside of the Pacific those who wear and view tattoos determine their meaning and interpret their design differently Reading indigenous historiography alongside Western travelogue and other writings Ellis paints a surprising portrait of how culture has been etched both on the human form and on a body of literature

Migrating Genders Johanna Schmidt,2016-04-22 Migrating Genders presents a sustained description of male to female transgendered identities explaining how the fa afafine fit within the wider gender system of Samoa and examining both the impact of Westernization on fa afafine identities and lives and the experiences of fa afafine who have migrated to New Zealand Informed by theories of sex gender and embodiment this book explores the manner in which the expression and understanding of non normative gendered identities in Samoa problematizes dominant western understandings of the relationship between sex and gender Drawing on rich empirical material this book tells of both the diversity and the uniqueness of fa afafine identities aspects which fa afafine have maintained in the face of Westernization migration and cultural marginalization in both Samoa and New Zealand As such in addition to anthropologists it will be of interest to geographers sociologists and other readers with interests in gender and sexuality

Bringing Travel Home to England Susan Lamb,2009 This study is the first to identify and examine the circulations and mutually constitutive relations among literature tourism and the wider culture in the 18th century Gendering emerges as a key mechanism both for those who brought travel home and for those who were influenced by it in other ways

Women and English Piracy, 1540-1720 John C. Appleby,2013 Piracy was one of the most gendered criminal activities during the early modern period As a form of maritime enterprise and organized criminality it attracted thousands of male recruits whose venturing acquired a global dimension as piratical activity spread across the oceans and seas of the world At the same time piracy affected the lives of women in varied ways Adopting a fresh approach to the subject this study explores the relationships and contacts between women and pirates during a prolonged period of intense and shifting enterprise Drawing on a wide body of evidence and based on English and Anglo American patterns of activity it argues that the support of female receivers and maintainers was vital to the persistence of piracy around the British Isles at least until the early seventeenth century The emergence of long distance and globalized predation had far reaching consequences for female agency Within colonial America women continued to play a role in networks of support for mixed groups of pirates and sea rovers at the same time such groups of predators established contacts with women of varied backgrounds in the Caribbean and the Indian Ocean As such female agency formed part of the economic and social infrastructure which supported maritime enterprise of contested legality But it co existed with the victimisation of women by pirates including the Barbary corsairs As this study demonstrates the interplay between agency and victimhood was manifest in a campaign of petitioning which challenged male perceptions of women s status as victims Against this background the book also examines the role of a small number of women pirates including the lives of Mary Read and Ann Bonny while addressing the broader issue of limited female recruitment into piracy JOHN C APPLEBY is Senior Lecturer in History at Liverpool Hope University

A Companion to Contemporary Art in a Global Framework Jane Chin Davidson, Amelia Jones, 2023-10-16 A Companion to Contemporary Art in a Global Framework explores the ways specialists and institutions in the fine arts curation cultural studies and art history have attempted to situate art in a more global framework since the 1980s Offering analyses of the successes and setbacks of these efforts to globalize the art world this innovative volume presents a new and exciting way of considering art in its global contexts Essays by an international panel of leading scholars and practicing artists assert that what we talk about as art is essentially a Western concept thus any attempts at understanding art in a global framework require a revising of established conceptual definitions Organized into three sections this work first reviews the history and theory of the visual arts since 1980 and introduces readers to the emerging area of scholarship that seeks to place contemporary art in a global framework The second section traces the progression of recent developments in the art world focusing on the historical and cultural contexts surrounding efforts to globalize the art world and the visual arts in particular global and transnational frameworks The final section addresses a wide range of key themes in contemporary art such as the fundamental institutions and ontologies of art practice and the interactions among art politics and the public sphere A Companion to Contemporary Art in a Global Framework is essential reading for undergraduate and graduate students scholars researchers and general readers interested in exploring global art beyond the traditional Euro American context

Long Term Scott Herring, Lee Wallace, 2021-07-06 The contributors to Long Term use the tension between the popular embrace and legalization of same sex marriage and the queer critique of homonormativity as an opportunity to examine the myriad forms of queer commitments and their durational aspect They consider commitment in all its guises particularly relationships beyond and aside from monogamous partnering These include chosen and involuntary long term commitments to families friends pets and coworkers to the care of others and care of self and to financial psychiatric and carceral institutions Whether considering the enduring challenges of chronic illnesses and disability including HIV and chronic fatigue syndrome theorizing the queer family as a scene of racialized commitment or relating the grief and loss that comes with caring for pets the contributors demonstrate that attending to the long term offers a fuller understanding of queer engagements with intimacy mortality change dependence and care Contributors Lisa Adkins Maryanne Dever Carla Freccero Elizabeth Freeman Scott Herring Annamarie Jagose Amy Jamgochian E Patrick Johnson Jaya Keaney Heather Love Sally R Munt Kane Race Amy Villarejo Lee Wallace An Open Secret Nicholas L. Syrett, 2021-04-05 In 1922 Robert Allerton described by the Chicago Tribune as the richest bachelor in Chicago met a twenty two year old University of Illinois architecture student named John Gregg who was twenty six years his junior Virtually inseparable from then on they began publicly referring to one another as father and son within a couple years of meeting In 1960 after nearly four decades together and with Robert Allerton nearing ninety they embarked on a daringly nonconformist move Allerton legally adopted the sixty year old Gregg as his son the first such adoption of an adult in Illinois history An Open Secret tells the striking story of these two iconoclasts locating them among their queer contemporaries and exploring why becoming father and son made a surprising kind of sense for a twentieth century couple who had every monetary advantage but one glaring problem they wanted to be together publicly in a society that did not tolerate their love Deftly exploring the nature of their design domestic and philanthropic projects Nicholas L Syrett illuminates how viewing the Allertons as both a same sex couple and an adopted family is crucial to understanding their relationship s profound queerness By digging deep into the lives of two men who operated largely as ciphers in their own time he opens up provocative new lanes to consider the diversity of kinship ties in modern US history For the Record Anjali Arondekar, 2009-09-15 A study of the colonial state s imposition of regimes of sexuality as seen through archives of law literature and pornography Queer Theory Now Hannah McCann, Whitney Monaghan, 2019-11-06 This short textbook provides an introduction to queer theory exploring its key genealogies and terms as well as its application across various academic disciplines and to contemporary life more generally The authors engage with a wide range of developments in queer theory thinking including discussions of identity politics transgender theory intersectionality post colonial theory Indigenous studies disability studies affect theory and more In offering an updated reflection on the present tensions that queer theory must negotiate as well as its unfolding future s Queer Theory Now is an ideal resource for anyone starting out on their queer theory journey for students who want to get a grasp of the basic concepts for teachers looking for a textbook for their queer theory course or for scholars who want a quick go to resource for key queer theory ideas and terms Inked: Tattoos and Body Art around the World Margo DeMello, 2014-05-30 In recent decades tattoos have gone from being a subculture curiosity in Western culture to mainstream and commonplace This two volume set provides broad coverage of tattooing and body art in the United States today as well as around the world and throughout human history In the 1960s tattooing was illegal in many parts of the United States

Today tattooing is fully ingrained in mainstream culture and is estimated to be a multi billion dollar industry This exhaustive work contains approximately 400 entries on tattooing providing historical information that enables readers to fully understand the methods employed the meanings of and the motivations behind tattooing one of the most ancient ways humans mark themselves The encyclopedia covers all important aspects of the topic of tattooing the major types of tattooing the cultural groups associated with tattooing the regions of the world where tattooing has been performed the origins of modern tattooing in prehistory and the meaning of each society s use of tattoos Major historical and contemporary figures associated with tattooing including tattooists tattooed people and tattoo promoters receive due attention for their contributions The entries and sidebars also address the sociological movements involved with tattooing the organizations the media dedicated to tattooing such as television shows movies magazines websites and books and the popular conventions carnivals and fairs that have showcased tattooing
