

A young girl with dark hair in two braids is sitting on concrete steps, looking directly at the camera with a sad expression. She is wearing a white t-shirt and light blue pants. In the background, three other children are walking away, out of focus. The scene is outdoors, likely at a school.

Karl Marx's America R. Lynn Wilson, 2022-09-05 The Colonists who began settling in the United States in the 1600s came here for three main reasons: 1 to escape religious persecution, 2 to escape repression, and 3 for better economic opportunity. It is not coincidental the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States were written to provide us with the unalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. Our founding fathers wrote the Constitution to insure the people and not the government had the power. It is a hell of a document that is brilliantly written. In America's history, the Constitution has never been abused as it is being abused today by those who want to turn America into a Marxist nation. Abraham Lincoln said America will never be destroyed from the outside. If we falter and lose our freedoms, it will be because we destroyed ourselves. Ronald Reagan said Freedom is never more than one generation away from extinction. If we lose this way of freedom, history will record with the greatest astonishment that those who had the most to lose did the least to prevent its happening. You and I have a rendezvous with destiny. We'll preserve for our children this, the best hope for man on Earth, or we'll sentence them to take the last step into a thousand years of darkness. There is no way to get back what we will lose if we lose our traditional American values to Marxist rule because there is no place on Earth like America; no place on Earth even comes close. When it's gone, it's gone. Historically throughout the Earth's civilizations, it has not been a question of whether a successful culture can last forever, but how long it can last. What makes us think we will be different?

Fighting the US Youth Sex Trade Carrie N. Baker, 2018-09-27 Campaigns against prostitution of young people in the United States have surged and ebbed multiple times over the last fifty years. Fighting the US Youth Sex Trade: Gender, Race, and Politics examines how politically and ideologically diverse activists joined together to change perceptions and public policies on youth involvement in the sex trade over time, reframing juvenile prostitution of the 1970s as commercial sexual exploitation of children in the 1990s and then as domestic minor sex trafficking in the 2000s. Based on organizational archives and interviews with activists, Baker shows that these campaigns were fundamentally shaped by the politics of gender, race, and class, and global anti-trafficking campaigns. The author argues that the very frames that have made these movements so successful in achieving new laws and programs for youth have limited their ability to achieve systematic reforms that could decrease youth vulnerability to involvement in the sex trade.

broadcasting and education In the process it challenges much of the received wisdom about the effects of advertising and marketing arguing for a more balanced account that locates children s consumption within a broader analysis of social relationships for example within the family and the peer group While refuting the popular view of children as incompetent and vulnerable consumers that is adopted by many campaigners it also rejects the easy celebration of consumption as an expression of children s power and autonomy Written by one of the leading international scholars in the field The Material Child will be of interest to students researchers and policy makers as well as parents teachers and others who work directly with children
