Hyde,Florence Crocker Comfort,1927 Learning to Kneel Carrie J. Preston,2016-08-30 In this inventive mix of criticism scholarship and personal reflection Carrie J Preston explores the nature of cross cultural teaching learning and performance Throughout the twentieth century Japanese noh was a major creative catalyst for American and European writers dancers and composers The noh theater's stylized choreography poetic chant spectacular costumes and masks and engagement with history inspired Western artists as they reimagined new approaches to tradition and form In Learning to Kneel Preston locates noh's important influence on such canonical figures as Pound Yeats Brecht Britten and Beckett These writers learned about noh from an international cast of collaborators and Preston traces the ways in which Japanese and Western artists influenced one another Preston's critical work was profoundly shaped by her own training in noh performance technique under a professional actor in Tokyo who taught her to kneel bow chant and submit to the teachings of a conservative tradition This encounter challenged Preston's assumptions about effective teaching particularly her inclinations to emphasize Western ideas of innovation and subversion and to overlook the complex ranges of agency experienced by teachers and students. It also inspired new perspectives regarding the generative relationship between Western writers and Japanese performers. Pound, Yeats, Brecht and others are often criticized for their orientalist tendencies and misappropriation of noh, but Preston's analysis and her journey reflect a more nuanced understanding of cultural exchange.

The London Stage 1890-1959 J. P. Wearing, 2014-10-30 Theatre in London has celebrated a rich and influential history and in 1976 the first volume of J. P. Wearing's reference series provided researchers with an indispensable resource of these productions. In the decades since the original calendars were produced several research aids have become available notably various reference works and the digitization of important newspapers and relevant periodicals. Spanning 1890 through the 1950s all seven volumes of The London Stage series have been revised, corrected and expanded. In addition approximately 20 percent of the material in particular information about adaptations and translations, plot sources and comment information is new. Although each volume contains indexes specific to that decade The London Stage 1890-1959 Accumulated Indexes combines all of the indexes into one comprehensive resource for more efficient research. For example those wishing to locate all the references to a particular actor, play or theatre whose history spanned more than one decade will find all of the entries listed in this set. This set includes four key indexes: general, genre, theatre and title. The general index consists of numerous subject entries on such topics as acting, audiences, censorship, costumes, managers, performers, prompters, staging and ticket prices. With approximately 40,000 people listed this is the largest single source of theatrical personnel on the London stage during this period. The genre index comprises all entries for production types including comedies, dramas, farces and tragedies as well as ballets, operas, adaptations, foreign works, pantomimes and translations. The theatre index features every building to stage a production from the Adelphi to Wyndham's. The title index cites 14,000 productions identifying every work produced on stage from Domestic Economy in January 1890 to When in Rome in December 1959. As a supplement to the individual volumes The London Stage 1890-1959 Accumulated Indexes will be of value to scholars, theatrical personnel, librarians, writers, journalists and historians.
