The Forgotten Songs of the Newfoundland Outports Anna Kearney Guigné, 2016-12-12 In 1951 musician Kenneth Peacock 1922-2000 secured a contract from the National Museum of Canada today the Canadian Museum of History to collect folksongs in Newfoundland As the province had recently joined Confederation the project was deemed a goodwill gesture while at the same time adding to the Museum's meager Anglophone archival collections Between 1951 and 1961 over the course of six field visits Peacock collected 766 songs and melodies from 118 singers in 38 communities later publishing two thirds of this material in a three volume collection Songs of the Newfoundland Outports 1965 As the publication consists of over 1000 pages Outports is considered to be a bible for Newfoundland singers and a valuable resource for researchers However Peacock's treatment of the material by way of tune text collations use of lines and stanzas from unpublished songs has always been somewhat controversial Additionally comparison of the field collection with Outports indicates that although Peacock acquired a range of material his personal preferences frequently guided his publishing agenda To ensure that the songs closely correspond to what the singers presented to Peacock the collection has been prepared by drawing on Peacock's original music and textual notes and his original field recordings The collection is far ranging and eclectic in that it includes British and American broadsides musical hall and vaudeville material alongside country and western songs and local compositions It also highlights the influence of popular media on the Newfoundland song tradition and contextualizes a number of locally composed songs In this sense it provides a key link between what Peacock actually recorded and the material he eventually published As several of the songs have not previously appeared in the standard Newfoundland collections The Forgotten Songs sheds new light on the extent of Peacock's collecting The collection includes 125 songs arranged under 113 titles along with extensive notes on the songs and brief biographies of the 58 singers Thanks to the Research Centre for the Study of Music Media and Place a video of the launch event held in St John's Newfoundland is available at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ghj6E6QiLI> t 21s Published in English Soil Conservation, 1965-08 SHADOWS IN THE PINES. Pound's interest in hokku and Fenollosa's No translations on which Pound based his own significant original research on Pound's Japanese friendships that enriched his understanding of Japanese literature and an examination of all the explicit references to No in The Cantos in unprecedented depth. It demonstrates that the works for which Ezra Pound is most famous such as In a Station of the Metro and his epic poem The Cantos were shaped by his lifelong interest in Japanese literature.

Singing in Zion Robert Cochran, 1999-01-01 This book is a lyrical scholarly exploration of the connection between one family's musical traditions and its rural community of Zion, Arkansas. In 1959 three Gilbert sisters, Alma, Helen, and Phydella, began compiling songs they remembered as their own and sending them to one another in letters. Their tendency to center memory in sound rather than sight reveals an unusual musical birthright. Robert Cochran has constructed a composite portrait of this family for whom music is the center of life. He examines their lived experience as they anchor their history through song singing and the playing of musical instruments. The Gilberts are wonderful exemplars of the mediation of oral tradition and when approached through their music they reveal themselves as remarkable individuals with an elaborate and firmly held sense of their unique identities. A decade in the making, Singing in Zion is written with a memoirist's sense of family history and an ethnographer's sense of the rich encounter of worlds. This narrative has a seductive simplicity that conveys much of the Gilbert family's charm while at the same time establishing a broader framework that is firmly academic. It will be enjoyed by all readers.

Shadows in the Mist Maureen McMahon, 2004-03 When Suzanna Dirkston, daughter of wealthy shipping tycoon Leopold Dirkston, learns that her father is dead, she knows it was not an accident. Forced to return to the family estate, Beacon, Suzanna is quick to sense the air of mystery and intrigue that hangs over the house and its inhabitants. Her shock grows when she learns that her father, true to form, is still trying to manipulate her life even from the grave. His will stipulates that she must marry Grant Fenton, a man Leo rescued as a child from poverty and groomed to replace him at Dirkston Shipping. If she does not accede to the conditions of the will, she and her extended family will be left penniless.
