The Monthly Evening Sky Map, 1912 The Monthly Packet of Evening Readings for Members of the English Church, 1867 Black Evening David Morrell, 2014-06-24 From the American heartland to the edge of Hell David Morrell bestselling author of such classics as First Blood and The Brotherhood of the Rose has consistently redefined the modern thriller Now he turns to a darker side of suspense in a powerful collection of tales many of them award winners Prefaced by revealing autobiographical introductions they delve into the weird uncanny terrors that lurk just beneath the comforting surfaces of daily life Fear of loss fear of pain fear of madness fear of being trapped fear of the unspeakable horrors that fester deep within the soul No matter who or where you are fear is always with you always ready to attack from behind the masks of thoughts and dreams In this career spanning examination of his life and the fears we all share let David Morrell tell you a story For These and All My Sins a motorist in need of help finds himself in a town where everyone is disfigured and discovers too late the terrifying reason they became that way The Beautiful Uncut Hair of Graves Both your parents die suddenly Going through their legal papers you find adoption records dated at your birthday but every official document has vanished along with your biological mother Orange Is for Anguish Blue for Insanity Beneath the placid beautiful landscapes of a master artist's paintings are levels of meaning that hide deep layers of pain and unearthly nightmares Dead Image You know that that Hollywood stars think fame is more important than life itself but you don't realize the half of it There's a lot of James Dean in this story The Shrine Parents grieving for their dead children find a hidden place that offers lost hope or eternal madness

Shadow Simon Unwin, 2020-02-18 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Shadows may be insubstantial but they are nevertheless an important element in architecture In prehistoric times we sought shade as a refuge from the hot sun and chilling rain Through history architects have used shadows to draw to mould form to paint pictures to orchestrate atmosphere to indicate the passing of time as well as to identify place Sometimes shadow can be the substance of architecture

William Jay,1855 Words of Comfort at Evening Time Dr. Wright L. Lassiter Jr.,2011-09-19 When a loved one dies it is often a challenging task to offer comfort to family members and friends while simultaneously celebrating a life now lifted into the heavens In his collection of selected reflections about life death and everlasting love Baptist minister and author Dr Wright Lassiter Jr shares words of comfort he has provided grieving families at past funeral services with the hope of providing encouragement to todays bereaved Lassiter has served as minister for several churches and relies on his experience interacting with other pastors and worshippers to share his inspirational wisdom and applicable scriptures in the second edition of Words of Comfort at Evening Time Included in Lassiters compilation are consoling messages delivered at two churches in Dallas Texas resolutions of comfort extended to family members and additional funeral messages including the one delivered at his own fathers memorial service Through his inspiring reflections Lassiter helps the grieving to realize that a walk through the shadow of death is a celebration of a full life and provides encouragement to those left behind to live each day knowing that death is not the end but the beginning of an eternity with God

They Return at Evening: A Book of Ghost Stories H. R. Wakefield,1891-01-01 Well that s over I expected an ordeal and found almost a farce There is something to be said for being a Local Notable For example deferential condolences and preferential treatment and no awkward questions from the Coroner when one s wife is found dead at the bottom of the steps into the garden With what censorious disdain old Weldon brushed aside the curiosity of Mr Trench Senior Now I have prosecuted Trench Junior for poaching three times consequently Trench Senior does not love me So I was none too pleased to see him on the Jury I knew he would be nasty if he saw a chance and he asked a very nasty and intelligent question For if she had tripped on the top steps I doubt if she would have fallen so far and if she had slipped lower down why such shattering injury Why indeed You didn t deserve such a pulverising rebuke Mr Trench but I m very glad you got it And now that it is all over I can reflect without anxiety Reflect that I am a murderer and as such if I got my deserts a doomed and execrated pariah No more loose generalisation was ever made than that whoever commits adultery and of course any other sin or crime in his heart is guilty of that offence Every man of imagination who is tempted commits sins in his heart as often as he is tempted but not one in ten thousand commits them with his hand Myriads of men must have played with the idea of killing their wives but I killed mine Is there no difference Consult the Shade of Ethel No I realise perfectly that I possess a kink which should have resulted in a six foot drop That I might never kill again and that it was only by an acute combination of circumstances that I did so once is beside the point A murderer should die if he is sane and sober and selfish And am I so sure I could never commit another I am not so sure I have no remorse There might be something to be said for a murderer who bitterly repents though I d hang him but as for me why shouldn t I murder again if someone again drove me to such an extremity of exasperation I rehearse all this why and to whom Why because murderer though I am I feel compelled to tell the story of this repulsive episode impartially and so rid my mind of it and perhaps forget it for murderer though I am otherwise I believe myself to be reasonably decent and civilised and I want to see what sort of defence I can muster And to whom do I address myself Well it has long been a theory of mine more than that a profound conviction that the minds of men are far more complex bifurcated and stratified than is generally accepted or perceived There is more than one I pervading my consciousness There is the I the murderer who is sitting here recalling sifting and writing down I number one let us call him but there is also I number two who is compelled to observe I number one It has been suggested that there is also a number three watching number two and so on ad infinitum It may be so but for me there is a limit set to the terms in the series and it is fixed at number two I often feel compelled to explain to him the actions of number one though I do not feel he is or wants to be a judge but just an aloofly interested spectator in no sense a conscience but poised in another layer of consciousness It is with such vague precision that this duality works in me And I want to explain to this watcher just how I came to kill Ethel He may or may not be particularly interested but he is in the unfortunate position of being compelled to listen
