Beyond the Pass James Millward,1998-06-01 As analysis of the revenue available to Qing garrisons in Xinjiang reveals imperial control over the region in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries depended upon sizeable yearly subsidies from China In an effort to satisfy criticism of their expansion into Xinjiang and make the territory pay for itself the Qing court permitted local authorities great latitude in fiscal matters and encouraged the presence of Han and Chinese Muslim merchants At the same time the court recognized the potential for unrest posed by Chinese mercantile penetration of this Muslim Turkic speaking area They consequently attempted through administrative and legal means to defend the native Uyghur population against economic depredation This ethnic policy reflected a conception of the realm that was not Sinocentric but rather placed the Uyghur on a par with Han Chinese Both this ethnic policy and Xinjiang s place in the realm shifted following a series of invasions from western Turkestan starting in the 1820 s Because of the economic importance of Chinese merchants and the efficacy of merchant militia in Xinjiang the Qing court revised its policies in their favor for the first time allowing permanent Han settlement in the area At the same time the court began to advocate provincehood and the Sinicization of Xinjiang as a resolution to the perennial security problem These shifts the author argues marked the beginning of a reconception of China to include Inner Asian lands and peoples a notion that would by the twentieth century become a deeply held tenet of Chinese nationalism      Merchants' Association Review ,1900      Beautiful Bodies Uroš Matic,2022-02-24 This book explores the role of material culture in the formation of corporeal aesthetics and beauty ideals in different past societies and thus contributes to the cultural relativization of bodily aesthetics and related gender norms The volume does not explore beauty for the sake of beauty but extensively explores how it serves to form and keep gender norms in place The concept of beauty has been a topic of interest for some time yet it is only in recent times that archaeologists have begun to approach beauty as a culturally contingent and socially constructed phenomenon Although archaeologists and ancient historians extensively dealt with gender they dealt less with it in relation to beauty The contributions in this volume deal with different intersections of gender and corporeal aesthetics by turning to rich archaeological textual and iconographic data from ancient Sumer Aegean Bronze Age ancient Egypt ancient Athens Roman provinces the Viking world and the Qajar Iran Beauty thus moves away from a curiosity and surface of the body to an analytic concept for a better understanding of past and present societies      Blood and Shadows Dayne Edmondson,2013-08-23 They came from the shadows They came to destroy us Twenty years ago bloodthirsty assassins turned an innocent girl into a monster Most of her humanity perished She fell into darkness Now she steps from the shadows Now she destroys the light Now she brings the rise of the assassin king Dawyn Darklance was thrust into war After mysteriously arriving on Tar Ebon he joined the Kingdom of Tar Ebon s army Dawyn rose to the rank of commander of the king s guard and now has been chosen to find and destroy
