Film, Architecture and Spatial Imagination Renée Tobe, 2016-08-25 Films use architecture as visual shorthand to tell viewers everything they need to know about the characters in a short amount of time Illustrated by a diverse range of films from different eras and cultures this book investigates the reciprocity between film and architecture Using a phenomenological approach it describes how we the viewers can learn how to read architecture and design in film in order to see the many inherent messages Architecture s representational capacity contributes to the plausibility or reality possible in film The book provides an ontological understanding that clarifies and stabilizes the reciprocity of the actual world and a filmic world of illusion and human imagination thereby shedding light on both film and architecture

Hitchcock's Romantic Irony Richard Allen, 2007 Is Hitchcock a superficial though brilliant entertainer or a moralist Do his films celebrate the ideal of romantic love or subvert it In a new interpretation of the director s work Richard Allen argues that Hitchcock orchestrates the narrative and stylistic idioms of popular cinema to at once celebrate and subvert the ideal of romance and to forge a distinctive worldview the amoral outlook of the romantic ironist or aesthete He describes in detail how Hitchcock's characteristic tone is achieved through a titillating combination of suspense and black humor that subverts the moral framework of the romantic thriller and a meticulous approach to visual style that articulates the lure of human perversity even as the ideal of romance is being deliriously affirmed Discussing more than thirty films from the director's English and American periods Allen explores the filmmaker's adoption of the idioms of late romanticism his orchestration of narrative point of view and suspense and his distinctive visual strategies of aestheticism and expressionism and surrealism
