Shadows Of War Violence Power And International Profiteering In The Twenty First Century:

Shadows of War Carolyn Nordstrom, 2004-05-17 Annotation This book captures the human face of the frontlines revealing both the visible and the hidden realities of contemporary war power and international profiteering in the 21st century Shadows of War, 2004 In this provocative and compelling examination of the deep politics of war Carolyn Nordstrom takes us from the immediacy of war zone survival through the offices of power brokers to vast extra legal networks that fuel war and international profiteering Why America's Top Pundits Are Wrong Catherine Besteman, Hugh Gusterson, 2005-01-17 This absorbing collection of essays subjects such popular commentators as Thomas Friedman Samuel Huntington Robert Kaplan and Dinesh D Souza to cold hard scrutiny and finds that their writing is often misleadingly simplistic culturally ill informed and politically dangerous Mixing critical reflection with insights from their own fieldwork twelve distinguished anthropologists respond by offering fresh perspectives on globalization ethnic violence social justice and the biological roots of behavior They take on such topics as the collapse of Yugoslavia the consumer practices of the American poor American foreign policy in the Balkans and contemporary debates over race welfare and violence against women In the clear vigorous prose of the pundits themselves these contributors reveal the hollowness of what often passes as prevailing wisdom and passionately demonstrate the need for a humanistically complex and democratic understanding of the contemporary world Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II James Ciment, 2015-03-27 Thoroughly revised to include 25 conflicts not covered in the previous edition as well as expanded and updated information on previous coverage this illustrated reference presents descriptions and analyses of more than 170 significant post World War II conflicts around the globe Organized by region for ease of access Encyclopedia of Conflicts Since World War II Second Edition provides clear in depth explanations of events not covered in such detail in any other reference source Including more than 180 detailed maps and 150 photos the set highlights the conflicts that dominate today s headlines and the events that changed the course of late twentieth century history Threshold Ieva Jusionyte, 2018-11-09 Jusionyte explores the sister towns bisected by the border from many angles in this illuminating and poignant exploration of a place and situation that are little discussed yet have significant implications for larger political discourse Publishers Weekly STARRED Review Emergency responders on the US Mexico border operate at the edges of two states They rush patients to hospitals across country lines tend to the broken bones of migrants who jump over the wall and put out fires that know no national boundaries Paramedics and firefighters on both sides of the border are tasked with saving lives and preventing disasters in the harsh terrain at the center of divisive national debates Ieva Jusionyte s firsthand experience as an emergency responder provides the background for her gripping examination of the politics of injury and rescue in the militarized region surrounding the US Mexico border Operating in this area firefighters and paramedics are torn between their mandate as frontline state actors and their responsibility as professional rescuers between the limits of law and pull of ethics From this vantage they witness what unfolds when territorial sovereignty tactical infrastructure and the natural environment collide Jusonyte reveals the binational brotherhood that forms in this crucible to stand in the way of catastrophe Through beautiful ethnography and a uniquely personal perspective Threshold provides a new way to understand politicized issues ranging from border security and undocumented migration to public access to healthcare today Righteous Dopefiend Philippe I. Global Health Merrill Singer, Pamela I. Erickson, 2013-02-12 Affordable and conceptually accessible this succinct volume captures the distinctive anthropological perspective on global health issues for undergraduates in the social and health sciences Ideal for professors who want to add an experiential human face a cultural dimension and an emic understanding of health in cross cultural contexts to interdisciplinary course content Global Health exposes the day to day health challenges people around the world face Key to its message is that despite strides in improving worldwide health human impacts on the environment violent social conflict and increasing social inequality diminish the success of global health initiatives to protect against illness disability and death Readers gripped by the impact of undeniable far reaching realities such as global warming infectious disease food insecurity water crises war and genocide and refugee crises will learn to apply a holistic anthropological framework in search of solutions to such complex biosocial conditions Taking Sides Heidi

Armbruster, Anna Lærke, 2010 Concerns with research ethics have intensified over recent years in large part as a symptom of audit cultures M Strathern but also as a serious matter of engagement with the ethical complexities in contemporary research fields This volume written by a new generation of scholars engaged with contemporary global movements for social justice and peace reflects their efforts in trying to integrate their scholarly pursuits with their understanding of social science politics and ethics and what political commitment means in practice and in fieldwork This is a book of argument and analysis written with passion clarity and intellectual sophistication which touches on issues of vital significance to social scientists and activists in general Politics of Civil Wars Amalendu Misra, 2013-05-13 Civil war is one of the critical issues of our time Although intrastate in nature it has a disproportionate and overwhelming effect on the overall peace and stability of contemporary international society Organized around the themes of contested nationalism violence external intervention post conflict reconstruction reconciliation and governance Amalendu Misra investigates why civil wars have become so widespread and how can they be contained Particularly noteworthy is its focus on the cycle of conflict ranging as it does on the causes conduct and end of civil wars as well as on subsequent efforts to return post conflict society to normal politics Theoretically robust and empirically solid this book clearly charts the course of contemporary civil wars using case studies from a variety of zones of conflict including Africa Asia and Latin America to produce the most comprehensive guide to understanding civil wars in an interconnected and interdependent world A Companion to Moral Anthropology Didier

Fassin, 2015-01-20 A Companion to Moral Anthropology is the first collective consideration of the anthropological dimensions of morals, morality and ethics. Original essays by international experts explore the various currents, approaches and issues in this important new discipline, examining topics such as the ethnography of moralities, the study of moral subjectivities and the exploration of moral economies. Investigates the central legacies of moral anthropology, the formation of moral facts and values, the context of local moralities and the frontiers between moralities, politics, humanitarianism. Features contributions from pioneers in the field of moral anthropology as well as international experts in related fields such as moral philosophy, moral psychology, evolutionary biology and neuroethics.

The Architecture of Illegal Markets Jens Beckert, Matías Dewey, 2017 This book makes a contribution to understanding the structure of markets on which such illegal transactions occur. The authors apply the tools of economic sociology to develop conceptual frames allowing to understand the organization of such markets and present case studies that provide insights into the illegal side of the economy.

Drugs, Thugs, and Diplomats Winifred Tate, 2015-06-10 In 2000 the U.S. passed a major aid package that was going to help Colombia do it all: cut drug trafficking, defeat leftist guerrillas, support peace and build democracy. More than 80% of the assistance, however, was military aid at a time when the Colombian security forces were linked to abusive drug trafficking paramilitary forces. Drugs, Thugs, and Diplomats examines the U.S. policymaking process in the design, implementation and consequences of Plan Colombia as the aid package came to be known. Winifred Tate explores the rhetoric and practice of foreign policy by the U.S. State Department, the Pentagon, Congress and the U.S. military Southern Command. Tate's ethnography uncovers how policymakers' utopian visions and emotional entanglements play a profound role in their efforts to orchestrate and impose social transformation abroad. She argues that U.S. officials' zero tolerance for illegal drugs provided the ideological architecture for the subsequent militarization of domestic drug policy abroad. The U.S. also ignored Colombian state complicity with paramilitary brutality, presenting them as evidence of an absent state and the authentic expression of a frustrated middle class. For rural residents of Colombia living under paramilitary dominion, these denials circulated as a form of state terror. Tate's analysis examines how oppositional activists and the policy's targets, civilians and local state officials in southern Colombia, attempted to shape aid design and delivery, revealing the process and effects of human rights policymaking.

Conflict and Development Roger Mac Ginty, Andrew Williams, 2009-03-24 Over the past decade, a new awareness of the relationship between conflicts and development has grown. Developmental factors can act as a trigger for violence as well as for ending violence and for triggering post-conflict reconstruction. This book explores the complexity of the links between violent conflict, usually civil wars, and development, under development and uneven development. It emphasizes the connections between stable, developed economies and civil wars in other parts of the world and examines how structural factors such as the organization of the global economy virtually condemn some regions to conflict and under development. This valuable introductory text explains, reviews and critically evaluates this complex relationship. It focuses on intra state conflicts and complex political emergencies that combine transnational and internal characteristics Attention is also given to inter state conflicts Chapters emphasize how the relationship between conflict and development traverses many scales macro meso and micro and dimensions economic political and cultural Furthermore it explains how different developmental challenges and opportunities emerge along the full life cycle of conflict Specifically the role of poverty state market civil society globalization humanitarian aid refugees gender and health within conflict dynamics are examined The book also investigates specific developmental issues emerging during conflict management and post conflict reconstruction Both authors have a background in conducting research in deeply divided societies and argue that many of the processes connected with war and peace making deliberately write people out of the equation This book attempts to write people in By drawing on contemporary theoretical debates and examining current policies and events the text unpacks the difficult and complex aspects of the relationships between armed conflict and development and makes them accessible interesting and policy relevant It considers how peace making peace building and post war reconstruction are usually more sustainable and successful if politicians policy makers entrepreneurs and those working for international NGOs take on board local opinion and capacity Written in an accessible style the book considers the main contemporary theories and arguments on conflict development and the interactions between the two The text is illuminated throughout with case studies drawn from Africa the Balkans Asia and the Middle East

The Cultural Dimension of Peace Birgit Bräuchler, 2015-08-03 This study outlines the emerging cultural turn in Peace Studies and provides a critical understanding of the cultural dimension of reconciliation Taking an anthropological view on decentralization and peacebuilding in Indonesia it sets new standards for an interdisciplinary research field

Civility, Nonviolent Resistance, and the New Struggle for Social Justice, 2019-11-26 In Civility Nonviolent Resistance and the New Struggle for Social Justice Amin Asfari brings together scholarly contributions addressing the causes of injustice in its many forms Predicated on the idea that violence and injustice are systemic and historical this collection includes chapters that examine the antecedents and effects of prejudice state sponsored violence policies of exclusion and the social forces that shape and solidify their existence Moving beyond ad hoc ahistorical and descriptive explanations of violence and injustice this volume provides a scholarly multidisciplinary approach to confronting them Contributions reflect the many ways in which injustice manifests and civil nonviolent means of engagement are emphasized challenging the very systems that give rise to these notions

Living with Bad Surroundings Sverker Finnström, 2008-02-20 An ethnographic examination of how northern Ugandans understand and attempt to control their moral universe and material circumstances in the midst of civil war

The politics of identity Christine Agius, Dean Keep, 2018-01-17 In what ways can we think through the complexities of identity Identity is a contested concept but it is more than a thing possessed by agents Identity is contingent and dynamic constituting and reconstituting subjects with political effects In this edited book identity is explored through a range of unique interdisciplinary case studies from around the world

Questions of citizenship belonging migration conflict security peace and subjectivity are examined through social construction post colonialism and gendered lenses from an interdisciplinary perspective This combination showcases in particular the political implications of identity how it is constituted and the effects it produces This edited collection will be of particular interest to students of international relations theory migration studies gender and sexuality post colonialism and policy making at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels

Extralegal Groups in Post-Conflict Liberia

Christine Cheng, 2018-05-10 In the aftermath of the Liberian civil war groups of ex combatants seized control of natural resource enclaves in the rubber diamond and timber sectors With some of them threatening a return to war these groups were widely viewed as the most significant threats to Liberia's hard won peace Building on fieldwork and socio historical analysis this book shows how extralegal groups are driven to provide basic governance goods in their bid to create a stable commercial environment This is a story about how their livelihood strategies merged with the opportunities of Liberia's post war political economy But it is also a context specific story that is rooted in the country's geography its history of state making and its social and political practices This volume demonstrates that extralegal groups do not emerge in a vacuum In areas of limited statehood where the state is weak and political authority is contested where rule of law is corrupted and government distrust runs deep extralegal groups can provide order and dispute resolution forming the basic kernel of the state This logic counters the prevailing spoiler narrative forcing us to reimagine non state actors and recast their roles as incidental statebuilders in the evolutionary process of state making This leads to a broader argument it is trade rather than war that drives contemporary statebuilding Along the way this book poses some uncomfortable questions about what it means to be legitimately governed whether our trust in states is ultimately misplaced whether entrenched corruption is the most likely post conflict outcome and whether our expectations of international peacebuilding and statebuilding are ultimately self defeating

Military Intervention, Stabilisation and Peace

Christian Denny, 2014-05-30 This book examines international military interventions that have supported stability in four communities in Afghanistan and Nepal in an attempt to analyse their success and improve this in future This is the first in depth village level assessment of how local populations conceive of stability and stabilisation and provides a theory and model for how stability can be created in communities during and after conflict The data was collected during field research from 2010-12 In Afghanistan the conflicts examined include the invasion of the Soviet Union in 1979 the civil war from 1992 and the rise and fall of the Taliban In Nepal the research examined the origins of the Maoist movement and the start of the People's War in 1996 to its completion in 2006 and the subsequent Madhesi Andolan in 2007 The book argues that international particularly Western notions of stability and stabilisation processes have failed to grasp the importance of local political legitimacy formation which is a vital aspect of contemporary statebuilding of a non Westphalian nature The interventions across defence diplomatic and defence lines have also at times undermined one another and in some cases contributed to instability The work argues that the theories that structure interventions to address threats to international stability in fragile states are insufficient to explain or achieve the goal of stability This book will be of interest to students of stabilisation operations statebuilding peacebuilding counterinsurgency war and conflict studies and security studies in general Christian Dennys is lecturer at Cranfield University UK Defence Academy and has a PhD in International Relations

Shaping Claims to Urban Land Fons van Overbeek, 2022-10-03 The concept of hybridity is often still poorly theorized and problematically applied by peace and development scholars and researchers of resource governance This book turns to a particular ethnographic reading of Michel Foucault's Governmentality and investigates its usefulness to study precisely those mechanisms processes and practices that hybridity once promised to clarify Claim making to land and authority in a post conflict environment is the empirical grist supporting this exploration of governmentality Specifically in the periphery of Bukavu This focus is relevant as urban land is increasingly becoming scarce in rapidly expanding cities of eastern Congo primarily due to internal rural to urban migration as a result of regional insecurity The governance of urban land is also important analytically as land governance and state authority in Africa are believed to be closely linked and co evolve An ethnographic reading of governmentality enables researchers to study hybridization without biasing analysis towards hierarchical dualities Additionally a better understanding of hybridization in the claim making practices may contribute to improved government intervention and development assistance in Bukavu and elsewhere
