Sorensen, 2022 About the fifth century BC three civilizations independently and simultaneously began to philosophize about nothing China chapter 3 India chapters 4 and 5 and Greece chapters 6 10 They had previously focused on what is the case Light poured on nature architecture and society But then in a cross civilizational black out emerged disparate nay sayers who shifted attention to what is not the case Behold the holes in a sponge are absences of sponge Holes are what make the sponge useful for absorbing liquid The sponge can exist without the holes But the holes cannot exist without the sponge They are parasites that depend on their host Yet the two get along well Without holes there would not be so many sponges in your house Your shadow is a more complex parasite It is a hole you bore into the light Your shadow depends on both you and the light You and light are rather mysterious Your shadow partakes of both mysteries China and the Chinese in Popular Film Jeffrey Richards, 2016-11-09 There s a folk memory of China in which numberless yellow hordes pour out of the mysterious East to overwhelm the vulnerable West accompanied by a stereotype of the Chinese as cruel cunning and depraved Hollywood films played their part in perpetuating these myths and stereotypes that constituted The Yellow Peril Jeffrey Richards examines in detail how and why they did it He shows how the negative image was embodied in recurrent cinematic depictions of opium dens tong wars sadistic dragon ladies and corrupt warlords and how in the 1930s and 1940s a countervailing positive image involved the heroic peasants of The Good Earth and Dragon Seed fighting against Japanese invasion in wartime tributes to the West's ally Nationalist China The cinema's split level response is also traced through the images of the ultimate Oriental villain the sinister Dr Fu Manchu and the timeless Chinese hero the intelligent and benevolent detective Charlie Chan Filling a longstanding gap in Cinema and Cultural History the book is founded in fresh research into Hollywood's shifting representations of China and its people

Charlie Chan's Words of Wisdom Howard M. Berlin, 2001-01-01 A selection of 600 quotes from the Charlie Chan movies based on the character created by Earl Derr Biggers Includes a 12 page databank of publicity photos lobby cards and other scenes from the movies

The Arresting Eye Jinny Huh, 2015-05-04 In her reading of detective fiction and passing narratives from the end of the nineteenth century forward Jinny Huh investigates anxieties about race and detection Adopting an interdisciplinary and comparative approach she examines the racial formations of African Americans and Asian Americans not only in detective fiction from Sherlock Holmes and Charlie Chan to the works of Pauline Hopkins but also in narratives centered on detection itself such as Winnifred Eaton's rhetoric of undetection in her Japanese romances In explicating the literary depictions of race detection anxiety Huh demonstrates how cultural legal and scientific discourses across diverse racial groups were also struggling with demands for racial decipherability Anxieties of detection and undetection she concludes are not mutually exclusive but mutually dependent on each other's construction and formation in American history and culture

Hollywood in San Francisco Joshua Gleich, 2018-11-14 One of the country's most picturesque cities and conveniently located just a few hours drive from Hollywood San Francisco became the most frequently and extensively filmed American city beyond the production hubs of Los Angeles and New York in the three decades after World War II During those years the cinematic image of the city morphed from the dreamy beauty of Vertigo to the nightmarish wasteland of Dirty Harry although San Francisco itself experienced no such decline This intriguing disconnect gives impetus to Hollywood in San Francisco the most comprehensive study to date of Hollywood's move from studio to location production in the postwar era In this thirty year history of feature filmmaking in San Francisco Joshua Gleich tracks a sea change in Hollywood production practices as location shooting overtook studio based filming as the dominant production method by the early 1970s He shows how this transformation intersected with a precipitous decline in public perceptions of the American city to which filmmakers responded by developing a stark realist aesthetic that suited America's growing urban pessimism and superseded a fidelity to local realities Analyzing major films set in San Francisco ranging from Dark Passage and Vertigo to The Conversation The Towering Inferno and Bullitt as well as the TV show The Streets of San Francisco Gleich demonstrates that the city is a physical environment used to stage urban fantasies that reveal far more about Hollywood filmmaking and American culture than they do about San Francisco
