, 2019-10-29 Read an interview with Norbert Bachleitner In this 200th volume of Internationale Forschungen zur Allgemeinen und Vergleichenden Literaturwissenschaft the editors Norbert Bachleitner Achim H. H. Iltis and John A. McCarthy take stock of the discipline It focuses on recurrent questions in the field of Comparative Literature What is literature What is meant by comparative Or by world What constitute transgressions or refractions What ultimately does being at home in the world

imply When we combine the answers to these individual questions we might ultimately reach an intriguing proposition Comparative Literature contributes to a sense of being at home in a world that is heterogeneous and fractured rather than affirming a monolithic canon marked by territory and homogeneity The volume unites essays on world literature literature in the context of the history of ideas comparative women and gender studies aesthetics and textual analysis and literary translation and tradition

Shakespearean Genealogies of Power Anselm

Haverkamp,2010-10-18 Shakespearean Genealogies of Power proposes a new view on Shakespeare's involvement with the legal sphere as a visible space between the spheres of politics and law and well able to negotiate legal and political even constitutional concerns Shakespeare's theatre opened up a new perspective on normativity His plays reflect even create history in a new sense on the premises of the older conceptions of historical and legal exemplarity examples cases and instances are to be reflected rather than treated as straightforwardly didactic or salvific Thus what comes to be recognized reflected and acknowledged has a disowning alienating effect whose enduring aftermath rather than its theatrical immediacy counts and remains effective In Shakespeare the law gets hold of its normativity as the problematic efficacy of unsolved or rarely ever completely solved problems on the stage of the theatre the law has to cope with a mortgage of history rather than with its own success story The exemplary interplay of critical cultural and legal theory in the twentieth century between Carl Schmitt and Hans Kelsen Walter Benjamin and Ernst Kantorowicz Hans Blumenberg and Giorgio Agamben Robert Cover and Niklas Luhmann found in Shakespeare's plays its speculative instruments Shakespeare Survey: A Sixty-Year Cumulative Index Peter Holland,2009-05-14 A single volume cumulative index covering the past six decades of Shakespeare Survey

Shakespeare's Curse Bjoern Quiring, 2020-11-25 Conceptualizing the curse as the representation of a foundational mythical violence that is embedded within juridical discourse Shakespeare's Curse pursues a reading of Richard III King John and King Lear in order to analyse the persistence of imprecations in the discourses of modernity Shakespeare wrote during a period that was transformative in the development of juridical thinking However taking up the relationship between theatre theology and law Bjoern Quiring argues that the curse was not eliminated from legal discourses during this modernization of jurisprudence rather it persisted and to this day continues to haunt numerous speech acts Drawing on the work of Derrida Lacan Walter Benjamin and Giorgio Agamben among others Quiring analyses the performativity of the curse and tracks its power through the juristic themes that are pursued within Shakespeare's plays such as sovereignty legitimacy succession obligation exception and natural law Thus this book provides an original and important insight into early modern legal developments as well as a fresh perspective on some of Shakespeare's best known works A fascinating interdisciplinary study this book will interest students and scholars of Law Literature and History

Inconceivable Effects Martin Blumenthal-Barby, 2013-08-15 In Inconceivable Effects Martin Blumenthal-Barby reads theoretical literary and cinematic works that appear noteworthy for the ethical questions they raise Via critical analysis of writers and filmmakers whose projects have changed our ways of viewing the modern world including Hannah Arendt Franz Kafka Walter Benjamin the directors of Germany in Autumn and Heiner Müller these essays furnish a cultural base for contemporary discussions of totalitarian domination lying and politics the relation between law and body the relation between law and justice the question of violence and our ways of conceptualizing the human A consideration of ethics is central to the book but ethics in a general philosophical sense is not the primary subject here instead Blumenthal-Barby suggests that whatever understanding of the ethical one has is always contingent upon a particular mode of presentation Darstellung on particular aesthetic qualities and features of media Whatever there is to be said about ethics it is always bound to certain forms of saying certain ways of telling certain modes of narration That modes of presentation differ across genres and media goes without saying that such differences are intimately linked with the question of the ethical emerges with heightened urgency in this book

Reimagining Shakespeare's Playhouse Joe Falocco, 2010 Numerous attempts have been made in the modern and postmodern era to recreate the staging conventions of Shakespeare's theatre from William Poel to the founders of the New Globe This volume examines the work of these directors analyzing their practical successes and failures it also engages with the ideological critiques of early modern staging advanced by scholars such as W B Worthen and Ric Knowles The author argues that rather than indulging in archaism for its own sake the movement looked backward in a progressive attempt to address the challenges of the twentieth century The book begins with a re examination of the conventional view of Poel as an antiquarian crank Subsequent chapters are devoted to Harley Granville Barker and Nugent Monck the author argues that while Barker's major contribution was the dubious achievement of establishing the movement's reputation as an essentially literary phenomenon Monck took the first tentative steps toward an architectural reimagining of modern performance space an advance which led to later triumphs in early modern staging The book then traces the sporadic and irregular development of Tyrone Guthrie's commitment to early modern practices The final chapter looks at how competing historical theories of playhouse design influenced the construction of the Globe while the conclusion discusses the ongoing potential of early modern staging in the new millennium

Twenty Years on Renate Rechtien, Dennis Tate, 2011 Twenty years on from the dramatic events that led to the opening of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the GDR the subjective dimension of German unification is still far from complete The nature of the East German state remains a matter of cultural as well as political debate This volume of new research focuses on competing memories of the GDR and the ways they have evolved in the mass media literature and film since 1989/90 Taking as its point of departure the impact of iconic visual images of the fall of the Wall on our understanding of the historical GDR the volume first considers the decade of cultural conflict that followed unification and then the emergence of a more complex and diverse textual memory of the GDR since the Berlin Republic was established in 1999 It highlights competing generational perspectives on the GDR era and the unexpected afterlife of the GDR in recent publications The volume as a whole shows the vitality of eastern German culture two decades after the demise of the GDR and the centrality of these memory debates to the success of Germany's unification process

Theater of the Void Teresa Kovacs, 2025-06-15 Theater of the Void explores contemporary German theater in the aftermath of the technology of the atomic bomb Informed by threats of total annihilation whether through nuclear technology or more recently global warming German language theater since the late 1970s encounters the void not as empty space or nothingness but as the possibility of radical transformation Theater of the Void investigates theatrical forms that transform fundamental categories of time space and causality in light of the ontological and epistemological shifts of the nuclear age Teresa Kovacs focuses on four directors and playwrights whose works offer insights into the theater of the void Heiner Müller Elfriede Jelinek Christoph Schlingensiefel and Ren Pollesch Kovacs shows that contemporary German theater has not turned away from the sciences after Hiroshima and Nagasaki but has remained entangled with scientific thinking about quantum physics biology and the environment Investigating these entanglements Theater of the Void finds in the works of these German theater makers a grammar of the void that speaks to the possibilities of a transformed theater in the Anthropocene
