The Oxford Handbook of Musical Theatre Screen Adaptations Dominic McHugh, 2019-06-14 Hollywood s conversion to sound in the 1920s created an early peak in the film musical following the immense success of The Jazz Singer. The opportunity to synchronize moving pictures with a soundtrack suited the musical in particular since the heightened experience of song and dance drew attention to the novelty of the technological development. Until the near collapse of the genre in the 1960s the film musical enjoyed around thirty years of development as landmarks such as The Wizard of Oz, Meet Me in St. Louis, Singin' in the Rain, and Gigi showed the exciting possibilities of putting musicals on the silver screen. The Oxford Handbook of Musical Theatre Screen Adaptations traces how the genre of the stage to screen musical has evolved starting with screen adaptations of operettas such as The Desert Song and Rio Rita and looks at how the Hollywood studios in the 1930s exploited the publication of sheet music as part of their income. Numerous chapters examine specific screen adaptations in depth including not only favorites such as Annie and Kiss Me Kate but also some of the lesser known titles like Li'l Abner and Roberta and problematic adaptations such as Carousel and Paint Your Wagon. Together the chapters incite lively debates about the process of adapting Broadway for the big screen and provide models for future studies.

Mama's Voice Esther Bganya, 2015-03-31 Mama's Voice is the product of a middle aged Christian psychiatrist and mother who journals her life observations and experiences hoping to pass on some life lessons to her children. What started off as random journaling of thoughts ended up being a published book released as a birthday present for her children. The book is written in a random manner with life lessons ranging from self esteem bad habits addictions snobbery conflict money selfishness greed and codependent relationships through to family dramas. The author attempts to capture some important life lessons with a touch of humor and rawness that depicts the real life dramas. Both pleasurable and painful life observations and experiences are unapologetically expressed with a rawness that does not coat it with sweet candy. It's about real life seen through the eyes of a mother going through a midlife crisis and questioning most things she had taken for granted. The messages are given as direct instructions to her children in second or third person voices and riddles. The messages are just as random as they entered the author's thoughts. This is a light read for both the middle aged and young who are questioning a few things in their worldview. Like the philosopher in the book of Ecclesiastes the author grapples with certain life issues until she finally realizes that she cannot fix the world and she gives up control. The forty five year old author starts off by writing a letter to her thirteen year old self and ends the book with her modified version of the Ten Commandments and a futuristic letter to her eighty five year old self.
