Loves Superlatives:

Superlative Natalie Kristina Goldstraw, 2004 Superlative depicts the expectations and uncertainties that are at the forefront of life at the end of the twentieth century and into the contemporary moment This impressive volume of verse utilises traditional ideologies and forms and yet at the same time it also establishes a unique postmodern style that is cutting and opinionated setting the poetry a league ahead of all other modern verse There is a multitude of unparalleled themes that are confronted in this 100 plus collection of verse alongside established forms and topics The list ranging from life to death and ambition to failure is too varied and extensive to list in its entirety Humour is a primary objective of the book and one that is recurrent one fantastic example The damage is already done basks in its own self glory and is truly postmodern in its awareness of its own aptitude and magnitude Love poems are prevalent too within the collection although this is not to say that all of the love poetry is traditional The last ounce Modern day love and Oh don't get pissed again reject the style and content of the canonical love poem for something a little more postmodern As well as a variation in themes forms both traditional and original also vary to best depict or satirise the situation For example A child for the millennium uses free verse and elaborate language to parody its content that is the degenerate youth culture The result is that ironically the uneducated youth is unable to comprehend the issues that are in fact so pertinent to their lives as is the case in real life also This book is guaranteed to taunt you haunt you and leave you questioning your position in the contemporary situations that the author so ingeniously presents

The Life Superlative Stopford Augustus Brooke, 1907 Superlatives USA Melissa Louise Jones, 2005 A collection of superlative facts about the U S includes the biggest tricycle sunniest city fastest glacier most secure prison biggest ball of twine largest door smallest church and more Great Grammar Lessons that Work Lee Karnowski, 2000 A hands on discovery mode of teaching English grammar using a variety of techniques The Superlative Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1899 The Practical Sabbatarian; Or, Sabbath Holiness Crowned with Superlative Happiness John WELLS (Minister of St. Olave, Jewry.), 1668 Walk On Water Deborah B. McDermet, 2022-02-03 Most of us settle We live average safe mediocre lives But does that kind of living reflect what God has called us to The abundant life that Jesus promised his followers is nothing less than amazing when we realize that God is working in us so that we may be conformed to the image of his Son Romans 8:29 Jesus did not live an ordinary life and nor should we Walk on Water invites believers to rise above the norm This daily devotional takes a fresh look at the Word of God Be inspired by the lives of Esther Daniel Jonah and others Be challenged with Jesus no nonsense conversations with the Pharisees and the disciples Be emboldened through the honest emotions that pour from the hearts of the writers of the Psalms In addition to daily devotionals twelve true stories experienced by Deb herself are added at the end of each month to encourage and humor the soul

Who One Is J.G. Hart, 2009-04-21 Both volumes of this work have as their central concern to sort out who one is from what one is In this Book 1 the focus is on transcendental phenomenological ontology When we refer to ourselves we refer both non ascriptively in regard to non propertied as well as ascriptively in regard to propertied aspects of ourselves The latter is the richness of our personal being the former is the essentially elusive central concern of this Book 1 I can be aware of myself and refer to myself without it being necessary to think of any third personal characteristic indeed one may be aware of oneself without having to be aware of anything except oneself This consideration opens the door to basic issues in phenomenological ontology such as identity individuation and substance In our knowledge and love of Others we find symmetry with the first person self knowledge both in its non ascriptive forms as well as in its property ascribing forms Love properly has for its referent the Other as present through but beyond her properties Transcendental phenomenological reflections move us to consider paradoxes of the transcendental person For example we contend with the unrepresentability in the transcendental first person of our beginning or ending and the undeniable evidence for the beginning and ending of persons in our third person experience The basic distinction between oneself as non sortal and as a person pervaded by properties serves as a hinge for reflecting on the afterlife This transcendental phenomenological ontology of necessity deals with some themes of the philosophy of religion
