Children and Youth at Risk in Times of Transition Baard Herman Borge,Elke Kleinau,Ingwill Constanze Ødegaard,2023-12-04 Children and youth belong to one of the most vulnerable groups in societies This was the case even before the current humanitarian crises around the world which led millions of people and families to flee from wars terror poverty and exploitation Minors have been denied human rights such as access to education food and health services They have been kidnapped sold manipulated mutilated killed and injured This has been and continues to be the case in both developed and developing countries and it does not look as if the situation will improve in the near future. Rather current geopolitical developments, political and economic uncertainties and instabilities seem to be increasing the vulnerability of minors, especially in wars and armed conflicts currently being waged not only in Europe but on almost every continent. How can risks children and youth are exposed to in times of transition be reduced? Which role do state agencies, non-governmental organisations as well as children's coping strategies play in mitigating the vulnerabilities of minors? This volume addresses risks to which children and young people are exposed, especially in times of transition. The focus is on different groups of children in the European wartime and post-war societies of the Second World War: occupation children in Germany, teenage National Socialist collaborators in Norway, and more recent cases such as child soldiers, refugee children and children of European Islamic State fighters. The contributions come from international scholars and different academic disciplines: educational and social sciences, humanities, law, and international peace and conflict studies, and are based on historical, quantitative and/or qualitative analyses.

The Intimate Critique Diane P. Freedman, Olivia Frey, Frances Murphy Zauhar, 1993 For a long time now readers and scholars have strained against the limits of traditional literary criticism whose precepts, above all objectivity, seem to have so little to do with the highly personal and deeply felt experience of literature. The Intimate Critique marks a movement away from this tradition. With their rich spectrum of personal and passionate voices, these essays challenge and ultimately breach the boundaries between criticism and narrative experience and expression: literature and life. Grounded in feminism and connected to the race, class and gender paradigms in cultural studies, the twenty-six contributors to this volume, including Jane Tompkins, Henry Louis Gates Jr, Shirley Nelson Garner and Shirley Geok Lin Lim, respond in new, refreshing ways to literary subjects ranging from Homer to Freud, Middlemarch to The Woman Warrior, Shiva Naipaul to Frederick Douglass. Revealing the beliefs and formative life experiences that inform their essays, these writers characteristically recount the process by which their opinions took shape, a process as conducive to self-discovery as it is to critical insight. The result, which has been referred to as personal writing, experimental critical writing or intellectual autobiography, maps a dramatic change in the direction of literary criticism.
