Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Susan Herrington, 2014-01-01

Cornelia Hahn Oberlander is one of the most important landscape architects of the twentieth century yet despite her lasting influence few outside the field know her name Her work has been instrumental in the development of the late twentieth century design ethic and her early years working with architectural luminaries such as Louis Kahn and Dan Kiley prepared her to bring a truly modern and audaciously abstract sensibility to the landscape design tradition In Cornelia Hahn Oberlander Making the Modern Landscape Susan Herrington draws upon archival research site analyses and numerous interviews with Oberlander and her collaborators to offer the first biography of this adventurous and influential landscape architect Born in 1921 Oberlander fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen with her family going on to become one of the few women to graduate from Harvard University's Graduate School of Design in the late 1940s For six decades she has practiced socially responsible and ecologically sensitive planning for public landscapes including the 1970s design of the Robson Square landscape and its adjoining Provincial Law Courts one of Vancouver's most famous spaces Herrington places Oberlander within a larger social and aesthetic context chronicling both her personal and professional trajectory and her work in New York Philadelphia Vancouver Seattle Berlin Toronto and Montreal Oberlander is a progenitor of some of the most significant currents informing landscape architecture today particularly in the area of ecological focus In her thorough biography Herrington draws much deserved attention to one of the truly important figures in landscape architecture

Rubens Alexander Vergara, Herlinda Cabrero, Museo del Prado, 2004 In 1609 Rubens painted a large Adoration of the Magi for the Antwerp Town Hall The painting made its way to the King of Spain and Rubens arriving at the Spanish court in

1628 repainted extended and refashioned the picture to his own satisfaction incorporating a self portrait The painting now in the collection of the Prado incorporates a dialogue by the painter himself The picture has been newly conserved and following the dialogue has been made easier by the existence of a copy in a private collection of the 1609 version of the much altered work It has been the fascinating task of Prado curator Alejandro Vergara and the Prado conservation department to investigate the changes Rubens made and their motivation while Joost vander Auwara provides a new analysis employing new documents and rereading known ones of the intentions and iconography of the original Antwerp commission Dry

Place Patricia L. Price, 2004 Landscape is the space of negotiation between human beings and the physical world and rarely are the negotiations more complex and subtle than those conducted through the desert landscape along the Mexico U S border Patricia L Price views the shaping of the landscape on and around the border through various narratives that have sought to establish claims to these dry lands Most prominent are the accounts of Anglo American expansionism and Manifest Destiny juxtaposed with the Chicano nationalist tale of Aztlan in the twentieth century all constituting collective contending claims to the U S Southwest Demonstrating how stories can become vehicles for reshaping places and identities Price considers characters old and new who inhabit the contemporary borderlands between Mexico and the United States ranging from longstanding manifestations of good and evil in the figures of the Virgin of Guadalupe and the Devil to a collection of lay saints embodying current concerns Dry Place weaves together theoretical insights with field based inquiry autobiography and creative writing to arrive at a textured understanding of the bordered landscape of late modern subjectivity Patricia L Price is associate professor of geography in the Department of International Relations at Florida International University in Miami Mapping American Culture Wayne Franklin, Michael C. Steiner, 1992 Spatializing Culture Setha

Low, 2016-08-12 This book demonstrates the value of ethnographic theory and methods in understanding space and place and considers how ethnographically based spatial analyses can yield insight into prejudices inequalities and social exclusion as well as offering people the means for understanding the places where they live work shop and socialize In developing the concept of spatializing culture Setha Low draws on over twenty years of research to examine social production social construction embodied discursive emotive and affective as well as translocal approaches A global range of fieldwork examples are employed throughout the text to highlight not just the theoretical development of the idea of spatializing culture but how it can be used in undertaking ethnographies of space and place The volume will be valuable for students and scholars from a number of disciplines who are interested in the study of culture through the lens of space and place

Forthcoming Books Rose Army, 2004 The Other Side John Patrick Taylor, 2008-07-08 The Other Side is the first major ethnographic and historical study of the Sia Raga people of north Pentecost Island a region that was home to the late Father Walter Lini Vanuatu s first prime minister Exploring Raga social spatial and historical consciousness this richly poetic account provides important theoretical contributions to ongoing debates in Pacific anthropology about the relation between structure and history and place and time It reveals important insights into the convergence of indigenous and exogenous cosmologies and hegemonies historically and shows how these are implicated in contemporary social ritual and material cultural expressions These analyses engage with broader concerns relating to colonial and postcolonial identities political economy and globalization in island Melanesia The Other Side combines original and substantial ethnography with sophisticated theoretical reflection that will appeal broadly across the field of anthropology It will also be of considerable value to scholars of Pacific and Melanesian history politics and society The clear writing and entertaining narrative combine to create a work that is accessible to a wide audience The volume s critical and reflective analysis of anthropological research makes it a valuable teaching aid in courses that focus on ethnographic methods and writing Students in Pacific anthropology will find it especially useful 37

The Metamorphosis of the Landscape Katherine Ann Kates, 1988 What Makes Us Moral? Craig Hovey, 2012-10-23 Is science all we need to make us moral In his recent book The Moral Landscape Sam Harris presents his vision of a world in which reason and science alone determine our values Here a leading Christian ethicist subjects this vision to a rigorous critique providing general readers with a clear concise and compelling exposé of the most serious flaws in Harris s arguments

The New American West in Literature and the Arts Amaia Ibarraran-Bigalondo, 2020-05-12 The story of the American West is that of a journey It is the story of a movement of a geographical and human transition of the delineation of a route that would soon become a rooted myth The story of the American West has similarly journeyed across boundaries in a two way movement sometimes feeding the idea of that myth sometimes challenging it This collection of essays relates to the notion of the traveling essence of the myth of the American West from different geographical and disciplinary standpoints The volume originates in Europe in Spain where the myth traveled was received assimilated and re presented It intends to travel back to the West in a two way cross cultural journey which will hopefully contribute to the delineation of the New always self renewing American West It includes the work of authors of both sides of the Atlantic ocean who propose a cross cultural transdisciplinary dialogue upon the idea the geography and the representation of the American West

City of

Forests, City of Farms Lindsay K. Campbell, 2017-10-15 City of Forests City of Farms is a history of recent urban forestry and agriculture policy and programs in New York City Centered on the 2007 initiative PlaNYC this account tracks the development of policies that increased sustainability efforts in the city and dedicated more than 400 million dollars to trees via the MillionTreesNYC campaign Lindsay K Campbell uses PlaNYC to consider how and why nature is constructed in New York City Campbell regards sustainability planning as a process that unfolds through the strategic interplay of actors the deployment of different narrative frames and the mobilizing and manipulation of the physical environment which affects nonhuman animals and plants as well as the city's residents Campbell zeroes in on a core omission in PlaNYC's original conception and funding Despite NYC having a long tradition of community gardening particularly since the fiscal crisis of the 1970s the plan contained no mention of community gardens or urban farms Campbell charts the change of course that resulted from burgeoning public interest in urban agriculture and local food systems She shows how civic groups and elected officials crafted a series of visions and plans for local food systems that informed the 2011 update to PlaNYC City of Forests City of Farms is a valuable tool that allows us to understand and disentangle the political decisions popular narratives and physical practices that shape city greening in New York City and elsewhere

Art Now Gallery Guide, 1996-11 In the Shadow of the Palms Sophie Chao, 2022-05-02 With In the Shadow of the Palms Sophie Chao examines the multispecies entanglements of oil palm plantations in West Papua Indonesia showing how Indigenous Marind communities understand and navigate the social political and environmental demands of the oil palm plant As Chao notes it is no secret that the palm oil sector has destructive environmental impacts it greatly contributes to tropical deforestation and is a major driver of global warming Situating the plant and the transformations it has brought within the context of West Papua's volatile history of colonization ethnic domination and capitalist incursion Chao traces how Marind attribute environmental destruction not just to humans technologies and capitalism but also to the volition and actions of the oil palm plant itself By approaching cash crops as both drivers of destruction and subjects of human exploitation Chao rethinks capitalist violence as a multispecies act In the process Chao centers how Marind fashion their own changing worlds and foreground Indigenous creativity and decolonial approaches to anthropology Duke University Press Scholars of Color First Book Award recipient

Mapping Nature across the Americas Kathleen A. Brosnan, James R. Akerman, 2021-10-19 Maps are inherently unnatural Projecting three dimensional realities onto two dimensional surfaces they are abstractions that capture someone's idea of what matters within a particular place they require selections and omissions These very characteristics however give maps their importance for understanding how humans have interacted with the natural world and give historical maps especially the power to provide rich insights into the relationship between humans and nature over time That is just what is achieved in Mapping Nature across the Americas Illustrated throughout the essays in this book argue for greater analysis of historical maps in the field of environmental history and for greater attention within the field of the history of cartography to the cultural constructions of nature contained within maps This volume thus provides the first in depth and interdisciplinary investigation of the relationship between maps and environmental knowledge in the Americas including for example stories of indigenous cartography in Mexico the allegorical presence of palm trees in maps of Argentina the systemic mapping of US forests and the scientific platting of Canada's remote lands

Dogmatics after Babel Ruben Rosario

Rodriguez, 2018-10-09 Ruben Rosario Rodriguez addresses the long standing division between Christian theologies that take revelation as their starting point and focus and those that take human culture as theirs After introducing these two theological streams that originate with Karl Barth and Paul Tillich respectively Rosario asserts that they both seek to respond to the Enlightenment's critique and rejection of Christianity In so doing they have bought into Enlightenment understandings of human reality and the transcendent Rosario argues that in order to get beyond the impasse between theologies of the Word and culture we need a different starting point He discovers that starting point in two sources 1 through the work of liberation and contextual theologians on the role of the Holy Spirit and 2 through a comparative analysis of the teachings on the hiddenness of God from the three Abrahamic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam Rosario offers a strong argument for why this third theological starting point represents not just a marginal or niche position but a genuine alternative to the two traditional theological streams His work will shift readers understanding of the options in theological discourse beyond the false alternatives of theologies of the Word and culture
