Making A Difference:

Making a Difference Irwin Deutscher, 2018-01-16 Emphasis on measurement techniques can interfere with understanding how well particular social programs in their field work In Making a Difference The Practice of Sociology Irwin Deutscher links traditional sociological concerns with applied sociology in an effort to overcome this problem He contributes to the debate over the extent to which health educational and social programs initiated by the Roosevelt Kennedy and Johnson administrations have been successful in intimate human terms Deutscher believes that the introduction of a sociological perspective can provide a positive element to interdisciplinary pursuits This belief as well as his fresh perspectives on both the strengths and limitations inherent in applied sociology offer the field a revitalising lift As such this highly informative thought provoking volume will be of interest to sociologists and policy makers in health education crime welfare and housing

Making a Difference, 1999 Making a Difference? Townsley, Ruth, Abbott, David, Debby Watson, 2004-02-18 Many health education and social service initiatives aim to implement better multi agency working between agencies and professionals But what difference does this sort of change make to those on the receiving end This book explores the impact of multi agency working on disabled children and the families and professionals who support them

Making a Difference Peter Verney, 2010-06-24 This is a book about two people the authors parents Jack and Joan Verney who lived through remarkable times and did some extraordinary things Born in Britain after the First World War they were shaped by the Great Depression the Second World War and post war austerity Among their extraordinary actions Jack ran away from home at a time when rebellion against parental authority was a rare phenomenon he and Joan took the chance of getting married on the basis of a few meetings before the Second World War and some correspondence during it and despite problems they endured as a couple and with three young children in 1957 they uprooted and moved to Canada where in a succession of western Canadian communities and finally in Ottawa they achieved more of note Jack through his teaching writing and volunteer work Joan through her own volunteer work and devotion to family In short they made a difference
