South of Tradition Trudier Harris, 2010-04-15 With characteristic originality and insight Trudier

Harris Lopez offers a new and challenging approach to the work of African American writers in these twelve previously unpublished essays. Collectively the essays show the vibrancy of African American literary creation across several decades of the twentieth century. But Harris Lopez's readings of the various texts deliberately diverge from traditional ways of viewing traditional topics. South of Tradition focuses not only on well-known writers such as Zora Neale Hurston, Ralph Ellison, James Baldwin, and Richard Wright but also on up-and-coming writers such as Randall Kenan and less-known writers such as Brent Wade and Henry Dumas. Harris Lopez addresses themes of sexual and racial identity, reconceptualizations of and transcendence of Christianity, analyses of African American folk and cultural traditions, and issues of racial justice. Many of her subjects argue that geography shapes identity, whether that geography is the European territory many blacks escaped to from the oppressive South or the South itself, where generations of African Americans have had to come to grips with their relationship to the land and its history. For Harris Lopez, South of Tradition refers both to geography and to readings of texts that are not in keeping with expected responses to the works. She explains her point of departure for the essays as a slant, an angle, or a jolt below the line of what would be considered the norm for usual responses to African American literature. The scope of Harris Lopez's work is tremendous. From her coverage of noncanonical writers to her analysis of humor in the best-selling The Color Purple, she provides essential material that should inform all future readings of African American literature.

The Concise Oxford Companion to American Literature James D. Hart, Wendy Martin, Danielle Hinrichs, 2021-01-21
For nearly half a century, James D. Hart's Oxford Companion to American Literature has offered a matchless guided tour through American literary culture, both past and present, with brief biographies of important authors, descriptions of important literary movements, and a wealth of information on other aspects of American literary life and history from the Colonial period to the present day. In this second edition of the Concise version, Wendy Martin and Danielle Hinrichs bring the work up to date to more fully reflect the diversity of the subject. Their priorities have been foremost to fully represent the impact of writers of color and women writers on the field of American literature and to increase the usefulness of the work to students of literary theory. To this end, over 230 new entries have been added, including many that cover women authors, Native American, African American, Asian American, Latino, and other contemporary ethnic literatures, LGBT, trans, and queer studies, and recent literary movements and evolving areas of contemporary relevance such as eco-criticism, disability studies, whiteness studies, male masculinity studies, and diaspora studies.
