Getting Published in the Humanities Jeffrey Kahan, 2014-01-10 In academia the mantra publish or perish is more than a cliché In most humanities fields securing tenure proves impossible without at least one book under your belt Yet despite the obvious importance of academic publishing the process remains an enigma to most young scholars In this helpful guide a seasoned author offers essential advice for novice academic writers seeking publication He explains why not all publications are equal why e books are not as widely respected as printed books in the academic world how to schedule publications prior to tenure how to spot a publishable idea how to approach the right publisher and a host of other useful tips that greatly increase one's chances of publication By outlining a step by step approach to publishing this indispensable manual removes much of the mystery surrounding an essential component of an academic career

Beyond Productivity Kim Hensley Owens, Derek Van Ittersum, 2023-11-15 In Beyond Productivity a wide range of contributors share honest narratives of the sometimes impossible conditions that scholars face when completing writing projects The essays provide backstage views of the authors varying approaches to moving forward when the desire to produce wanes when deciding a project is not working when working within and around and redefining academic productivity expectations and when writing with ever changing bodies that do not always function as expected This collection positions scholarly writers ways of writing as a form of flexible evolving knowledge By exhibiting what is lost and gained through successive rounds of transformation and adaptation over time the contributors offer a sustainable understanding and practice of process one that looks beyond productivity as the primary measure of success Each presents a fluid understanding of the writing process illustrating its deeply personal nature and revealing how fragmented and disjointed methods and experiences can highlight what is precious about writing Beyond Productivity determines anew the use and value of scholarly writing and the processes that produce it both within and beyond the context of the losses constraints and adaptations associated with the COVID 19 pandemic Beyond the Large Farm Paul B.

Thompson,2019-03-07 This book examines the rationale for emphasizing productivity as the dominant goal of agricultural research and challenges in the form of alternative goals that scientists might seek in performing agricultural research It presents bibliographic essays that review the criticisms of research Higher Education Careers Beyond the Professoriate Karen Cardozo,Katherine Kearns,Shannan Palma,2024-03-15 Higher Education Careers Beyond the Professoriate is one of the first collections to explore PhD career versatility within higher education The twenty three contributors represent diverse disciplines institution types professional roles and intersectional identities Each thoughtful and personal essay explores firsthand what it means to remain in higher education yet not in the traditional role of a professor Topics include establishing new career paradigms well being and work life balance blended roles and identities and professional work around advocacy and inclusion Unifying the essays is the idea that career diversity is intertwined with other diversity discourse yielding a broad based but critical examination of careers in higher education administration Though the doctoral landscape continues to change a self determined values driven attitude remains essential This book offers powerful insight into cultural and structural barriers that inhibit institutional transformation and obscure the real range of PhD futures Frank about both challenges and opportunities these essays reveal how letting go of track thinking opens a constellation of possibilities and many paths to meaningful work and a fulfilling life Beyond Literary Studies Daniel Ferreras Savoye,2017-04-21 This response to the current crisis in the field of literary studies describes the fundamental flaws of poststructuralist literary criticism which has become a self serving enterprise at the expense of scholarship at large and students in particular Outlining an improved approach that meets the expectations of 21st century students and teachers the author proposes a new definition of the literary object of study which addresses the inconsistencies of the literary canon by including nontraditional narratives such as films comic books and pop songs Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition Gary A.

Olson,Todd W. Taylor,1997-03-13 Eminent scholars discuss the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition studies Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition is a collection of essays about the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition The contributors to this book many of whom are current or past editors of the discipline s most prestigious scholarly journals undoubtedly have their finger on the pulse of composition s most current scholarship and offer invaluable insight into the production and publication of original research They discuss publishing articles and reviews as well as book length projects including scholarly monographs edited collections and textbooks They also address such topics as how composition research is valued in English departments recent developments in electronic publishing the work habits of successful academic writers and the complications of mentoring graduate students in a publish or perish profession An inviting and helpful tone makes this an ideal textbook for research methodology and professional writing courses

Willingham, 2022-02-13 Productivity and Publishing Writing Processes for New Scholars Researchers helps readers with academic writing and journal publishing by empowering them to find the writing process that works for them Topics cover crucial issues in the writing process like writing a journal article submitting work to journals and setting realistic goals with support and activities throughout

Beyond the Indian Act Tom Flanagan, Christopher Alcantara, André Le Dressay, 2010-02-08 The authors not only investigate the current forms of property rights on reservations but also expose the limitations of each system showing that customary rights are insecure certificates of possession cannot be sold outside the First Nation and leases are temporary As well analysis of legislation court decisions and economic reports reveals that current land management has led to unnecessary economic losses The authors propose creation of a First Nations Property Ownership Act that would make it possible for First Nations to take over full ownership of reserve lands from the Crown arguing that permitting private property on reserves would provide increased economic advantages An engaging and well reasoned book Beyond the Indian Act is a bold argument for a new system that could improve the quality of life for First Nations people in communities across the country

Beyond open access: visions for open evaluation of scientific papers by post-publication peer review Nikolaus Kriegeskorte, Diana Deca, A scientific publication system needs to provide two basic services access and evaluation The traditional publication system restricts the access to papers by requiring payment and it restricts the evaluation of papers by relying on just 2-4 pre publication peer reviews and by keeping the reviews secret As a result the current system suffers from a lack of quality and transparency of the peer review evaluation process and the only immediately available indication of a new paper s quality is the prestige of the journal it appeared in Open access is now widely accepted as desirable and is slowly beginning to become a reality However the second essential element evaluation has received less attention Open evaluation an ongoing post publication process of transparent peer review and rating of papers promises to address the problems of the current system However it is unclear how exactly such a system should be designed The evaluation system steers the attention of the scientific community and thus the very course of science For better or worse the most visible papers determine the direction of each field and guide funding and public policy decisions Evaluation therefore is at the heart of the entire endeavor of science As the number of scientific publications explodes evaluation and selection will only gain importance A grand challenge of our time therefore is to design the future system by which we evaluate papers and decide which ones deserve broad attention So far scientists have left the design of the evaluation process to journals and publishing companies However the steering mechanism of science should be designed by scientists The cognitive computational and brain sciences are best prepared to take on this task which will involve social and psychological considerations software design and modeling of the network of scientific papers and their interrelationships This Research Topic in Frontiers in Computational Neuroscience collects visions for a future system of open evaluation Because critical arguments about the current system abound these papers will focus on constructive ideas and comprehensive designs for open evaluation systems Design decisions include Should the reviews and ratings be entirely transparent or should some aspects be kept secret Should other information such as paper downloads be included in the evaluation How can scientific objectivity be strengthened and political motivations weakened in the future system Should the system include signed and authenticated reviews and ratings Should the evaluation be an ongoing process such that promising papers are more deeply evaluated How can we bring science and statistics to the evaluation process e g should rating averages come with error bars How should the evaluative information about each paper e g peer ratings be combined to prioritize the literature Should different individuals and organizations be able to define their own evaluation formulae e g weighting ratings according to different criteria How can we efficiently transition toward the future system Ideally the future system will derive its authority from a scientific literature on community based open evaluation We hope that these papers will provide a starting point

Beyond Chutzpah Norman G. Finkelstein, 2020-05-05 In Beyond Chutzpah Norman Finkelstein moves from an iconoclastic interrogation of the new anti-Semitism to a meticulously researched exposé of the corruption of scholarship on the Israel Palestine conflict especially in the work of Alan Dershowitz Pointing to a consensus among historians and human rights organizations on the factual record Finkelstein argues that so much controversy continues to swirl around the conflict because apologists for Israel contrive it This paperback edition includes a new preface examining recent developments in the Israel Palestine conflict and the misuse of anti-Semitism and a new chapter analysing the controversy surrounding Israel's construction of the West Bank wall

Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11-01 In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub-Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences

Beyond Communal and Individual Ownership Leon Terrill, 2015-10-05 Over the last decade Australian governments have introduced a series of land reforms in communities on Indigenous land This book is the first in depth study of these significant and far reaching reforms It explains how the reforms came about what they do and their consequences for Indigenous landowners and community residents It also revisits the rationale for their introduction and discusses the significant gap between public debate about the reforms and their actual impact Drawing on international research the book describes how it is necessary to move beyond the concepts of communal and individual ownership in order to understand the true significance of the reforms The book s fresh perspective on land reform and careful assessment of key land reform theories will be of interest to scholars of indigenous land rights land law indigenous studies and aboriginal culture not only in Australia but also in any other country with an interest in indigenous land rights

Beyond Texas Through Time Walter L. Buenger, Arnolfo De León, 2011-01-27 In 1991 Walter L Buenger and the late Robert A Calvert compiled a pioneering work in Texas historiography Texas Through Time a seminal survey and critique of the field of Texas history from its inception through the end of the 1980s Now Buenger and Arnolfo De León have assembled an important new collection that assesses the current state of Texas historiography building on the many changes in understanding and interpretation that have developed in the nearly twenty years since the publication of the original volume This new work Beyond Texas Through Time departs from the earlier volume s emphasis on the dichotomy between traditionalism and revisionism as they applied to various eras Instead the studies in this book consider the topical and thematic understandings of Texas historiography embraced by a new generation of Texas historians as they reflect analytically on the work of the past two decades The resulting approaches thus offer the potential of informing the study of themes and topics other than those specifically introduced in this volume extending its usefulness well beyond a review of the literature In addition the volume editors introduction proposes the application of cultural constructionism as an important third perspective on the thematic and topical analyses provided by the other contributors Beyond Texas Through Time offers both a vantage point and a benchmark serving as an important reference for scholars and advanced students of history and historiography even beyond the borders of Texas
