The History in Literature

Herbert Lindenberger,1990 Herbert Lindenberger was one of the first literary critics to call for some kind of return to historical thinking in literary criticism His ten essays cover canon formation the historical status of genres and the ways that art and criticism are embedded within institutional frameworks Lindenberger argues that what we label historical assumes strikingly different shapes in different historical situations and that present shape empowers new kind of knowledge He writes We may well discover that our century old form of organization within the humanities no longer fits the type of knowledge we are producing The lively and topical essays of The History in Literature demonstrate Lindenberger s capacious and diverse knowledge his incisive wit and his formidable critical skills

The Cultural Devolution Neil

Mulholland,2017-10-23 Title first published in 2003 What happened to art in Britain when the balance began to shift from public to private subsidy following the IMF crisis in 1976 In this polemical book Neil Mulholland charts the political and cultural shifts in art in Britain from the mid 1970 s to the end of the twentieth century His account covers the key trends and artists of this extraordinarily diverse period including critical postmodernism feminism neoconservatism object sculpture the new image Brit Art and Scottish neoconceptualism and traces the development of critical thinking from the opinions of critics such as Richard Cork John Roberts and Matthew Collings to tabloid press art scandals The Cultural Devolution offers a broad critical and historical framework within which to understand public debate on the merits of young British artists such as Damien Hirst while looking beyond such celebrities to re discover the wealth and range of work produced Essential reading for anyone interested in contemporary art in Britain
