The Psychology of Reading Insup Taylor, M. Martin Taylor, 2013-09-17 The Psychology of Reading provides a fair and coherent overall picture of how reading is done and how it is best taught. It aims to relate reading to writing systems, analyze the process of reading from several viewpoints using research from diverse disciplines, and develop a model of reading to explain reading processes all the way from letter recognition to reading whole texts. The book describes how children learn to read in different scripts by different methods and at different ages. It discusses different components of reading: eye movements, letter and word recognition, sentence and prose reading, and so on in beginning readers, in skilled or unskilled readers, as well as dyslexic readers. Brain-damaged patients with selective impairment of different components provide a natural laboratory to compare reading processes within one script as well as across different scripts. The more types of readers, scripts, and components examined, the better the picture of reading processes drawn. This book is a text for college students as well as a reference book for professionals in psychology, education, linguistics, and other related fields. The Architecture of R.M. Schindler Rudolph M. Ethical and Social Marketing in Asia Bang Nguyen, Chris Rowley, 2015-02-16 There is a growing interest in firms' adoption of ethical and social marketing approaches among academics and practitioners alike. Ethical Marketing is the application of ethics into the marketing process, and Social Marketing is a concept that seeks to influence a target audience for the greater social good. Ethical and Social Marketing in Asia examines this so far unexplored area, investigating why differing cultures and consumption behaviours require different emphasis in different markets. The diversity of the Asian countries provides a perplexing environment to the development and management of ethical and social marketing. The belief that bottom-line profits is enough for a company is often not favourably viewed by Asian countries, emphasising collective social and long-term benefits for the people and country. Due to these interesting characteristics and complexities, the study of ethical and social marketing in Asia is a timely topic. The first chapters introduce Ethical Marketing in Asia, followed by case studies of how the approach is used across 14 diverse economies geographically based on clusters: North East China, Taiwan, Japan, South Korea, South East, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, the Philippines, Indonesia, and South Asia, India, Pakistan, Bangladesh. The second part discusses Social Marketing using the same sequence of regions and economies, and the third part explores the unique link to Fairness Management in Asia, followed by a conclusion. Explores the nature of ethical and social marketing from an Asian perspective. Discusses current ethical and social marketing researches and practices in
