Intelligence, Race, And Genetics Frank Miele, 2004-08-12 Conversations with controversial psychologist Arthur R Jensen on the nature of intelligence racial differences in intelligence and the genetic basis for differences in intelligence

Race, IQ and Jensen James Robert Flynn, 1980-01-01      Race and Intelligence David Spears, Martin Richards, 1972

Intelligence and Realism Roy Nash, 1990-11-23      Race and IQ Ashley Montagu, 1999-04-08 Ashley Montagu who first attacked the term race as a usable concept in his acclaimed work Man's Most Dangerous Myth offers here a devastating rebuttal to those who would claim any link between race and intelligence In now classic essays this thought provoking volume critically examines the terms race and IQ and their applications in scientific discourse The twenty four contributors including such eminent thinkers as Stephen Jay Gould Richard Lewontin Urie Bronfenbrenner W F Bodmer and Jerome Kagan draw on fields that range from biology and genetics to psychology anthropology and education What emerges in piece after piece is a deep skepticism about the scientific validity of intelligence tests especially as applied to evaluating innate intelligence if only because scientists still cannot distinguish between genetic and environmental contributions to the development of the human mind Five new essays have been included that specifically address the claims made in the recent highly controversial book The Bell Curve Must reading for anyone interested in racism and education in America Race and IQ is a brilliantly lucid exploration of the boundary line between race and intelligence      The Science and Politics of Racial Research William H. Tucker, 1994 Unlike other critiques of the scientific literature on racial difference The Science and Politics of Racial Research argues that there has been no scientific purpose or value to the study of innate differences in ability between groups William Tucker shows how for more than a century scientific investigations of supposedly innate differences in ability between races have been used to rationalize social and political inequality as the unavoidable consequence of natural differences Tucker structures his work chronologically with each chapter describing how research on genetic difference was used in a particular era to support a particular political agenda He begins with the use of science to support slavery in the mid nineteenth century and ends with the effects of Jensenism in the 1970s Highlights include one chapter describing a little known but concerted attempt by a group of scientists to overturn the Brown v Board of Education decision on the basis of expert testimony about racial differences and another that presents a review of the eugenics movement in the twentieth century The author also considers how to balance the rights and responsibilities of scientists concluding that one generally neglected method is to strengthen the rights of research subjects      Measurement, Realism and Objectivity J. Forge, 2012-12-06 The institutionalization of History and Philosophy of Science as a distinct field of scholarly endeavour began comparatively early though not always under that name in the Australasian region An initial lecturing appointment was made at the University of Melbourne immediately after the Second World War in 1946 and other appointments followed as the subject underwent an expansion during the 1950s and 1960s similar to that which took place in other parts of the world Today there are major Departments at the University of Melbourne the University of New South Wales and the University of Wollongong and smaller groups active in many other parts of Australia and in New Zealand Australasian Studies in History and Philosophy of Science aims to provide a distinctive publication outlet for Australian and New Zealand scholars working in the general area of history philosophy and social studies of science Each volume comprises a group of essays on a connected theme edited by an Australian or a New Zealander with special expertise in that particular area Papers address general issues however rather than local ones parochial topics are avoided Further more though in each volume a majority of the contributors is from Australia or New Zealand contributions from elsewhere are by no means ruled out Quite the reverse in fact they are actively encouraged wherever appropriate to the balance of the volume in question
