Race, Nature, and the Politics of Difference Donald S. Moore, Jake Kosek, Anand Pandian, 2003-05-20 A collection of essays that show the interdependence of concepts of race and nature Race, Nature, and the Politics of Difference Anand Pandian, Jake Kosek, Donald S. Moore, 2003 A collection of essays that show the interdependence of concepts of race Race, Nature, and the Politics of Difference Donald S. Moore, Jake Kosek, Anand Pandian, 2003-05-20 A collection of essays that show the interdependence of concepts of race and nature Race, Nature, and the Politics of Difference D S (Donald S); Kosek Moore (J (Jake); Pandian, A (Anand).),2003 Conflict in Caledonia Laura DeVries, 2011-11-07 On 28 February 2006 the Six Nations of the Grand River blocked workers from entering a half built housing development in southern Ontario They renamed the land Kanonhstaton the protected place The protest drew national and international attention to the issue of Aboriginal land rights and sparked a series of ongoing events known as the Caledonia Crisis Laura DeVries powerful account of the dispute links the actions of police governmental officials and locals to entrenched non Aboriginal discourses about law landscape and identity It encourages non Aboriginal Canadians to reconsider their assumptions to view facts such as the rule of law as culturally specific notions that prevent truly equitable dialogue DeVries not only reveals the conflicting visions of justice held by various parties to the dispute she also seeks out possible solutions in alternative conceptualizations of sovereignty over land and law embedded in the Constitution

Culture and Context in World Politics Stephanie Lawson,2006-09-05 This wide ranging historically informed study examines the career of the culture concept and related notions of context in comparative and international politics tracing connections through the disciplines of anthropology and history as well as through issues in nationalism and democracy

The Politics of Nature and Science in Southern Africa Maano Ramutsindela, Giorgio Miescher, 2016-08-12 This book brings together recent and ongoing empirical studies to examine two relational kinds of politics namely the politics of nature i e how nature conservation projects are sites on which power relations play out and the politics of the scientific study of nature These are discussed in their historical and present contexts and at specific sites on which particular human environment relations are forged or contested This spatio temporal juxtaposition is lacking in current research on political ecology while the politics of science appears marginal to critical scholarship on social nature Specifically the book examines power relations in nature related activities demonstrates conditions under which nature and science are politicised and also accounts for political interests and struggles over nature in its various forms The ecological socio political and economic dimensions of nature cannot be ignored when dealing with present day environmental issues Nature conservation regulations are concerned with the management of flora and fauna as much as with humans Various chapters in the book pay attention to the ways in which nature science and politics are interrelated and also co constitutive of each other They highlight that power relations are naturalised through science and science related institutions and projects such as museums botanical gardens wetlands parks and nature reserves Racism, Policy and Politics Karim Murji, 2017-12-06 Race has been a prominent public policy issue in the UK for decades and there is growing interest in academia but it is often caught in a repetitive cycle of progress and regress This book analyses and bridges that gap by providing a unique insight into the relationship between race and ethnicity scholarship and the reality of real world policy and politics Drawing on the author s academic work as well as his background working in public policy bodies it goes beyond impact debates public sociology diversity and post race to examine the changing context for researching race and racism including media and policy debates and the ways in which institutional racism has played out in public policy settings since the Stephen Lawrence inquiry Combining theory and applied policy analysis in an accessible way it guides the reader through the cultural and political changes in race and racism in recent decades and identifies the challenges and opportunities for policy and politically engaged scholarship in future clearly mapping the pitfalls and possibilities for critical work on race and racism Spinoza and the Politics of Renaturalization Hasana Sharp, 2021-02 There have been many Spinozas over the centuries atheist romantic pantheist great thinker of the multitude advocate of the liberated individual and rigorous rationalist The common thread connecting all of these clashing perspectives is Spinoza's naturalism the idea that humanity is part of nature not above it In this sophisticated new interpretation of Spinoza s iconoclastic philosophy Hasana Sharp draws on his uncompromising naturalism to rethink human agency ethics and political practice Sharp uses Spinoza to outline a practical wisdom of renaturalization showing how ideas actions and institutions are never merely products of human intention or design but outcomes of the complex relationships among natural forces beyond our control This lack of a metaphysical or moral division between humanity and the rest of nature Sharp contends can provide the basis for an ethical and political practice free from the tendency to view ourselves as either gods or beasts Sharp's groundbreaking argument critically engages with important contemporary thinkers including deep ecologists feminists and race and critical theorists making Spinoza and the Politics of Renaturalization vital for a wide range of scholars Pollution Is Colonialism Max Liboiron, 2021-03-29 In Pollution Is Colonialism Max Liboiron presents a framework for understanding scientific research methods as practices that can align with or against colonialism They point out that even when researchers are working toward benevolent goals environmental science and activism are often premised on a colonial worldview and access to land Focusing on plastic pollution the book models an anticolonial scientific practice aligned with Indigenous particularly M tis concepts of land ethics and relations Liboiron draws on their work in the Civic Laboratory for Environmental Action Research CLEAR an anticolonial science laboratory in Newfoundland Canada to illuminate how pollution is not a symptom of capitalism but a violent enactment of colonial land relations that claim access to Indigenous land Liboiron s creative lively and passionate text refuses theories of pollution that make Indigenous land available for settler and colonial goals In this way their methodology demonstrates that anticolonial science is not only possible but is currently being practiced in ways that enact more ethical modes of being in the world Thinking While Black: Translating the Politics and Popular Culture of a Rebel Generation Daniel McNeil,2022-09-27 This uniquely interdisciplinary study of Black cultural critics Armond White and Paul Gilroy spans continents and decades of rebellion and revolution Drawing on an eclectic mix of archival research politics film theory and pop culture Daniel McNeil examines two of the most celebrated and controversial Black thinkers working today Thinking While Black takes us on a transatlantic journey through the radical movements that rocked against racism in 1970s Detroit and Birmingham the rhythms of everyday life in 1980s London and New York and the hype and hostility generated by Oscar winning films like 12 Years a Slave The lives and careers of White and Gilroy along with creative contemporaries of the post civil rights era such as Bob Marley Toni Morrison Stuart Hall and Pauline Kael should matter to anyone who craves deeper and fresher thinking about cultural industries racism nationalism belonging and identity

Green Grabbing: A New Appropriation of Nature James Fairhead, Melissa Leach, Ian Scoones, 2014-10-29 Across the world ecosystems are for sale Green grabbing the appropriation of land and resources for environmental ends is an emerging process of deep and growing significance A vigorous debate on land grabbing already highlights instances where green credentials are called upon to justify appropriations of land for food or fuel Yet in other cases environmental green agendas are the core drivers and goals of grabs Green grabs may be drivn by biodiversity conservation biocarbon sequestration biofuels ecosystem services or ecotourism for example In some cases theyse agendas involve the wholesale alienation of land and in others the restructuring of rules and authority in the access use and management of resources that may have profoundly alienating effects Green grabbing builds on well known histories of colonial and neo colonial resource alienation in the name of the environment Yet it involves novel forms of valuation commodification and markets for pieces and aspects of nature and an extraordinary new range of actors and alliances This book draws together seventeen original cases from African Asian and Latin American settings to ask To what extent and in what ways do green grabs constitute new forms of appropriation of nature What political and discursive dynamics underpin green grabs How and when do appropriations on the ground emerge out of circulations of green capital What are the implications for ecologies landscapes and livelihoods Who is gaining and who is losing How are agrarian social relations rights and authority being restructured and in whose Companion to Environmental interests This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies Studies Noel Castree, Mike Hulme, James D. Proctor, 2018-05-01 Companion to Environmental Studies presents a comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of the key issues debates concepts approaches and questions that together define environmental studies today The intellectually wide ranging volume covers approaches in environmental science all the way through to humanistic and post natural perspectives on the biophysical world Though many academic disciplines have incorporated studying the environment as part of their curriculum only in recent years has it become central to the social sciences and humanities rather than mainly the geosciences The environment is now a keyword in everything from fisheries science to international relations to philosophical ethics to cultural studies The Companion brings these subject areas and their distinctive perspectives and contributions together in one accessible volume Over 150 short chapters written by leading international experts provide concise authoritative and easy to use summaries of all the major and emerging topics dominating the field while the seven part introductions situate and provide context for section entries A gateway to deeper understanding is provided via further reading and links to online resources Companion to Environmental Studies offers an essential one stop reference to university students academics policy makers and others keenly interested in the environmental question the answer to which will define the coming century Environment and Planning, 2008
