Rachel Fields Hitty Her First Hundred Years:

Rachel Field's Hitty, Her First Hundred Years Rosemary Wells, 1999 A doll named Hitty recounts her adventures as she moves through a continually changing string of owners Hitty Rachel Field, 1929 The adventures of a wooden doll made in New England in the early 19th century and her many owners Hitty, Her First Hundred Years, By Rachel Field. With Illus. by Dorothy P. Lathrop Rachel Field, 1969 Hitty Her First Hundred Years Rachel Field, 2009-10-27 Hitty is a doll of great charm and character It is indeed a privilege to publish her memoirs which besides being full of the most thrilling adventures on land and sea also reveal her delightful personality One glance at her portrait will show that she is no ordinary doll Hitty or Mehitable as she was really named was made in the early 1800s for Phoebe Preble a little girl from Maine Young Phoebe was very proud of her beautiful doll and took her everywhere even on a long sailing trip in a whaler This is the story of Hitty's years with Phoebe and the many that follow in the life of a well loved doll Hitty, Her First Hundred Years, by Rachel Field... Illustrations by Dorothy P. Lathrop Rachel Field, 1947 The Second Mrs. Gioconda E.L. Konigsburg, 2011-06-28 Why did Leonardo da Vinci lavish three years on painting the second wife of an unimportant merchant when all the nobles of Europe were begging for a portrait by his hand In E L Konigsburg's intriguing novel the answer lies with the complex relationship between the genius his morally questionable young apprentice and a young duchess whose plain features belie the sensitivity of her soul Don't Hurt Laurie Willo Davis Roberts, 1988-03-31 Laurie is physically abused by her mother can she escape and will anyone believe her story The Ahern Home of Texarkana Doris Douglas Davis, 2024-09-02 Focused on an early twentieth century home in Texarkana Arkansas Doris Douglas Davis's The Ahern Home of Texarkana offers not only a discussion of the architecture of a Classical Revival dwelling but also provides a closely observed account of the material culture and social structures of a particular time and place in the American South Built in 1905 1906 by Patrick Ahern who immigrated to the United States from Dungarvan Ireland in 1881 the house at 403 Laurel Street was home to Ahern his wife Mary their six children and a variety of descendants for over a century before its acquisition by the Texarkana Museums System in 2011 Today the house listed on the National Register of Historic Places serves as a writing retreat music center and venue for historical presentations and educational activities Based on archival materials interviews with members of the family and those who knew them and other research Davis's examination of the home and its inhabitants also includes a discussion of the complex relationship between persons of privilege such as the Aherns and the domestic servants predominantly African American whose often arduous work made possible the smooth functioning of the household within its social context in the Jim Crow South Describing the fraught relationships in the South between Black domestic servants and their white employers Davis presents evidence of the inevitable despair wrought by inequality and the tremendous capacity of the human heart to love This detailed tour of the home its construction and furnishings and the socio historical context of its day to day activities provides readers a window of understanding and appreciation that will inform students and scholars of material culture as well as those interested in historical preservation

Historical Fiction for Children Fiona M. Collins, Judith Graham, 2013-10-18 Historical fiction has a great deal to offer as its readers and devotees have always known. The time is ripe however for the historical novel and historical picture book to be promoted more emphatically so that many more are made aware of the delight and learning to be found in the genre. The editors of this book invited authors, academic writers and teachers to reflect on the nature, scope, range and richness of historical fiction for children. What is collected here provides an overview of the field, a consideration of significant writers of historical fiction from the nineteenth century onwards, a sense of the various historical eras commonly explored, Stone Age to World War 2, a discussion of commonly raised issues, themes and topics such as child labor, slavery and migration, and a forum for writers to reveal their insights into the writing of historical fiction. Julian Atterton, Berlie Doherty, Michael Foreman and Philip Pullman have made contributions. It provides evidence of children and students engaging creatively with historical fiction.

When Toys Come Alive Lois R. Kuznets, 1994-01-01 In this work the author studies the role of toy characters in works ranging from older classics such as Pinocchio and Winnie the Pooh to modern texts such as The Mouse and his Child and the comic strip Calvin and Hobbes, science fiction with robots and cyborgs.

Racial Innocence Robin Bernstein, 2011 2013 Book Award Winner from the International Research Society in Children's Literature 2012 Outstanding Book Award Winner from the Association for Theatre in Higher Education 2012 Winner of the Lois P. Rudnick Book Prize presented by the New England American Studies Association 2012 Runner Up John Hope Franklin Publication Prize presented by the American Studies Association 2012 Honorable Mention Distinguished Book Award presented by the Society for the Study of American Women Writers. Dissects how innocence became the exclusive province of white children, covering slavery to the Civil Rights era. Beginning in the mid nineteenth century in America, childhood became synonymous with innocence, a reversal of the previously dominant Calvinist belief that children were depraved, sinful creatures. As the idea of childhood innocence took hold, it became racialized; popular culture constructed white children as innocent and vulnerable while excluding black youth from these qualities. Actors, writers and visual artists then began pairing white children with African American adults and children, thus transferring the quality of innocence to a variety of racial, political projects, a dynamic that Robin Bernstein calls racial innocence. This phenomenon informed racial formation from the mid nineteenth century through the early twentieth. Racial Innocence takes up a rich archive including books, toys, theatrical props and domestic knickknacks which Bernstein analyzes as scriptive things that invite or prompt historically located practices while allowing for resistance and social improvisation. Integrating performance studies with literary and visual analysis, Bernstein offers singular readings of theatrical productions from blackface minstrelsy to Uncle Tom's Cabin to The Wonderful Wizard of Oz, literary works by Joel Chandler Harris, Harriet Wilson and Frances Hodgson Burnett, material culture including Topsy pincushions, Uncle Tom and Little Eva handkerchiefs and Raggedy Ann dolls and visual texts ranging from fine portraiture to advertisements for lard substitute Throughout Bernstein shows how innocence gradually became the exclusive province of white children until the Civil Rights Movement succeeded not only in legally desegregating public spaces but in culturally desegregating the concept of childhood itself

Girls Transforming Sanna Lehtonen, 2013-04-26

This book explores representations of girlhood and young womanhood in recent English language children s fantasy by focusing on two fantastic body transformation types invisibility and age shifting Drawing on recent feminist and queer theory the study discusses the tropes of invisibility and age shifting as narrative devices representing gendered experiences The transformations offer various perspectives on a girl s changing body and identity and provide links between real life and fantastic discourses of gender power invisibility and aging The main focus is on English language fantasy published since the 1970s but the motifs of invisibility and age shifting in earlier tales and children s books is reviewed this is the first study of children s fantasy literature that considers these tropes at length Novels discussed are from both critically acclaimed authors and the less well known Most of the novels depicting invisible or age shifting girls are neither thoroughly conventional nor radically subversive but present a range of styles In terms of gender children s fantasy novels can be more complex than they are often interpreted to be

University of New Hampshire. Library, 1927 Dust Off the Gold Medal Sara L. Schwebel, Jocelyn Van Tuyl, 2021-08-23 The oldest and most prestigious children s literature award the Newbery Medal has since 1922 been granted annually by the American Library Association to the children s book it deems most distinguished Medal books enjoy an outsized influence on American children s literature figuring perennially on publishers lists on library and bookstore shelves and in school curricula As such they offer a compelling window into the history of US children s literature and publishing as well as into changing societal attitudes about which books are best for America s schoolchildren Yet literary scholars have disproportionately ignored the Medal winners in their research This volume provides a critically and historically grounded scholarly analysis of representative but understudied Newbery Medal books from the 1920s through the 2010s interrogating the disjunction between the books omnipresence and influence on the one hand and the critical silence surrounding them on the other Dust Off the Gold Medal makes a case for closing these scholarly gaps by revealing neglected texts insights into the politics of children s literature prizing and by demonstrating how neglected titles illuminate critical debates currently central to the field of children s literature In particular the essays shed light on the hidden elements of diversity apparent in the neglected Newbery canon while illustrating how the books respond sometimes in quite subtle ways to contemporaneous concerns around race class gender disability nationalism and globalism

Spreading the Gospel of Books Florence M. Jumonville, 2019-11-06 In 1925 Essae Martha Culver a California librarian arrived in Louisiana to direct a three year project funded by the Carnegie Corporation that aimed to introduce public libraries to rural populations Culver purchased a round trip ticket but she never used the second half Instead she stayed in Louisiana the rest of her life working tirelessly to see libraries established in every parish by 1969 In Spreading the Gospel of Books Florence M Jumonville chronicles the impressive colorful history of Louisiana parish libraries and the State Library of Louisiana She draws upon Culver s journals and library reports in addition to correspondence scrapbooks and State Library internal documents and includes photos from five decades many never before published The campaign to persuade individual parishes to financially support a library of their own was a long uphill pull through poverty and politics flood and famine discouragement and depression war and bureaucracy ignorance and prejudice Culver credited success to the citizens whose thirst for books and embrace of the idea of a library inspired perseverance In time Culver s Louisiana plan served as an exemplar of library development elsewhere in the United States as well as abroad Culver touched the lives of generations of Louisianians who have never heard her name Spreading the Gospel of Books is her story along with that of colleagues and supporters of making the dream of library service come true for all Honey for a Child's Heart Gladys Hunt, Gladys M.

Hunt, 2002 The imaginative use of books in family life including an annotated list of books for ages 0 14 Before Austen Comes Aesop Cheri Blomquist, 2021-05-10 Before Austen Comes Aesop presents an in depth examination of the Children s Great Books that is the literature that has made the most profound impact on the lives of children throughout Western history In addition to its invaluable chronological list of titles from ancient times to the present the book provides both students and their parents the guidance they need to read leisurely or study formally the Children s Great Books at home The book s premise is that children often do not spend enough time with the literature written or adapted for them before diving into adult works An experienced teacher the author argues that children benefit in many ways from lingering longer over literature created for them The Children s Great Books list includes the classic works that while not written strictly for children were orally passed on to them for generations and are foundational for understanding Western culture These works include Greek and Roman fables myths and epics European legends sagas folk stories and fairy tales and the Bible The list also includes the acclaimed works written specifically for children beginning in the age of the first printing presses and continuing into the late twentieth century Additionally acknowledging the changes in children s literature that have occurred since the mid 1960s the author provides helpful information for discerning which contemporary influential books are appropriate or perhaps inappropriate for one s children She also includes several appendices that are useful for the study of literature at both the elementary and the secondary levels The Medical Herald ,1929
