Racial And Ethnic Structure Of Los Angeles County A Geographic Guide:

Arsenio Rodríguez and the Transnational Flows of Latin Popular Music David Garcia, 2011-02-07 Arsenio Rodríguez was one of the most important Cuban musicians of the twentieth century. In this first scholarly study, ethnomusicologist David F. García examines Rodríguez's life, including the conjunto musical combo he led and the highly influential son montuno style of music he created in the 1940s. García recounts Rodríguez's battle for recognition at the height of mambo mania in New York City and the significance of his music in the development of salsa. With firsthand accounts from relatives and fellow musicians, Arsenio Rodríguez and the Transnational Flows of Latin Popular Music follows Rodríguez's fortunes on several continents, speculating on why he never enjoyed wide commercial success despite the importance of his music. García focuses on the roles that race, identity, and politics played in shaping Rodríguez's music and the trajectory of his musical career. His transnational perspective has important implications for Latin American and popular music studies. Racial and Ethnic Politics in California, 1991. The Racial and Ethnic Structure of Los Angeles County Ali Modarres, 1994. Seeking El Dorado Lawrence B. de Graaf, Kevin Mulroy, Quintard Taylor, 2014-07-01. From the 18th century, African Americans like many others have migrated to California to seek fortunes or often the more modest goals of being able to find work, own a home, and raise a family relatively free of discrimination. Not only their search but also its outcome is covered in Seeking El Dorado. Whether they settled in major cities or smaller towns, African Americans created institutions and organizations: churches, social clubs, literary societies, fraternal orders, civil rights organizations that embodied the legacy of their past and the values they shared. Blacks came in search of the same jobs as other Americans, but the search often proved frustrating. Throughout the 19th and 20th centuries, African American leadership in the state consistently focused on achieving racial justice. The essays in this book speak of triumph and hardship, success, discrimination, and disappointment. Seeking El Dorado is a major contribution to black history and the history of the American West and will be of interest to both scholars and general readers.

Library Confidential Don Borchert, 2012-05-31. The public library: a haven of calm, source of information, home to the student, the geek, and the aging librarian. Or so you might think. Don Borchert's ten years as assistant librarian have taught him that a library is more than just a place to borrow books; it's also a place where people hide from the law, fall in love, fight, deal drugs, introduce their children to reading, look up porn, and pursue their dreams. Borchert's hilarious memoir delves behind the bookshelves as he discovers the weird, dangerous, and downright dirty world of a public library and the fearless civil servants who patrol its aisles. The California Handbook, 1994. California Gary L. Peters, 1999.

History of California, Pursuing Power F. Chris Garcia, 1997. While Latinos in the US are becoming a large, significant, and growing political constituency, the US has become increasingly and rapidly Latinized in many cultural aspects. This work takes an in-depth look at the political aspects of this cultural and political browning of America. L.A. Geography and Drug Addiction Yonette F. Thomas,Douglas

Richardson,Ivan Cheung,2008-09-24 Making Connections Geography and Drug Addiction Geography involves making connections connections in our world among people and places cultures human activities and natural processes It involves understanding the relationships and connections between seemingly disparate or unrelated ideas and between what is and what might be Geography also involves connecting with people When I rst encountered an extraordinarily vibrant intelligent and socially engaged scientist at a private dinner several years ago I was immediately captivated by the intensity of her passion to understand how and why people become addicted to drugs and what could be done to treat or prevent drug addiction Fortunately she was willing to think beyond the bounds of her own discipline in her search for answers Our conversation that evening which began with her research on fundamental biochemical processes of drug addiction in the human body evolved inevitably to an exploration of the ways in which research on the geographical context of drug addiction might contribute to the better understanding of etiology of addiction its diffusion its interaction with geographically variable environmental social and economic factors and the strategies for its treatment and prevention This fascinating woman I soon learned was Nora Volkow the Director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse as well as the granddaughter of Leon Trotsky
