Racial Discrimination in Canada: Asian Minorities Kananur V. Chandras, 1973 Racism and Anti-Racism in Canada David Este, 2020-07-10T00:00:00Z Multiculturalism is regarded as a key feature of Canada's national identity Yet despite an increasingly diverse population racialized Canadians are systematically excluded from full participation in society through personal and structural forms of racism and discrimination Race and Anti Racism in Canada provides readers with a critical examination of how racism permeates Canadian society and articulates the complex ways to bring about equity and inclusion both individual and systemically The History of Immigration and Racism in Canada Barrington Walker, 2008 This outstanding collection examines the complex and disturbing history of immigration and racism in Canada Major themes include Native non Native contact migration and settlement in the nineteenth century immigrant workers and radicalism human rights internment during WWII and racism of the present day The readings are divided into five cohesive sections Natives and Newcomers in Early Canada Space and Racialized Communities Dangerous Others Non Citizens and the State Gate keeping Enemies Without and Within The Post War Era New Rights and New Racisms This book is destined to make its mark in History departments across the country and will also be of interest to students and researchers in Canadian Studies Sociology Demography Political Science and Geography Racial Discrimination in Canada Kananur V. Chandras, 1973

Asian Canadian Studies Reader Roland Sintos Coloma, Gordon Pon, 2017-06-16 Roland Sintos Coloma and Gordon Pon's Asian Canadian Studies Reader brings together essential writings by leading and emerging scholars in the field to explore the vibrancy of the diverse Asian diaspora in Canada The Reader is the perfect textbook for undergraduate courses in Race and Ethnic Studies Women and Gender Studies and Migration and Diaspora Studies The volume is organized into four main themes ethnic intersectional comparative and transnational encounters It critically engages topics regarding orientalism settler colonialism globalization and nationalism Each groundbreaking essay challenges our conventional understandings of diversity and multiculturalism by tackling the intricacies of racism and racialization By capturing the rich diversity within Asian Canadian communities Coloma and Pon dispel the perceptions of Asians as always immigrants newcomers or model minorities The Asian Canadian Studies Reader is the first interdisciplinary collection of essays intended for undergraduate use about Canada's largest racialized minority group Asian American Reference Data Directory R.J. Associates, 1976

Canadian Immigration and South Asian Immigrants Abdur Rahim, 2014-09-19 South Asian immigrants have made a significant contribution to the Canadian mosaic However their trials and tribulations and their successes and failures constitute a story that remains untold To know of their arrivals their struggles to beat the odds as well as their successes is to read a story of hard work of tireless effort to make it of the commitment to belong and of ultimate success This process not only re shaped them from who they were to who they are now but also re shaped Canada that we know today Their influence can be felt in the arts and sciences the humanities and in politics community works and in social services This book is an attempt to understand the what and how of that unfolding process and also to know the real concerns about the conditions of Canadas ethnic minority population South Asian Canadians and their children in particular

A Reckoning with Racism

Augie Fleras,2022-11-07 The politics of racism have returned with a bang What was once a whisper is now a roar in the wake of public outrage over charges of police racism that claimed the lives of racialized minorities and Indigenous peoples Yet confusion and uncertainty unsettle the challenge of clarifying the nature and scope of racism in general systemic racism in particular resulting in a glaring disconnect between public perceptions and lived experiences Reckoning with Racism is themed around the prospect of problematizing the idea of racism as articulated understood and debated in response to new realities emergent demands and contested dynamics A profoundly new racism world is evolving one so fundamentally different from the iterations of the past as to trigger a foundational shift in reconceptualizing how see think and talk about and act on racism Changing the conversation on racism must also acknowledge its uncanny knack of reinventing itself while intersecting with other axes of identity and differentiation to amplify the inequalities of exclusion

Mediated Racism and Democracy in Canada

Ahmed Al-Rawi,2025-09-22 Based on studying political systems and the news industry this book examines the tension between the hierarchical configurations of racial discrimination and the ideals of equality found in Western democracy to explore how and why the reality of racism persists in modern day democratic societies Taking Canada as a case study of a multicultural society it uses a mixed methods approach to present insights from racialized politicians and journalists that explore how they navigate the issues of democracy and racism Drawing on empirical critical race theory it addresses crucial knowledge gaps about the political realities of people of color in a democratic nation and how they perceive these experiences to impact the functioning and progress of democracy It will therefore appeal to scholars and researchers with interests in race and racism multiculturalism democracy and critical race theory

The Edge of Race

Kalervo N. Gulson,Zeus Leonardo,David Gillborn,2017-10-02 The phrase the edge of race can be used both as a description and as a response to two key concerns The first of these is that while race is increasingly on the periphery of education policy with a growing disregard shown for racist inequities as education systems become dominated by market driven concerns it is important that we map the shifting relations of race in neoliberal politics and policies The second concern is that at this time within and outside the spaces of the academy even to mention race equity is to risk condemnation marginalization and ridicule The authors in this collection use the edge of race as a provocation in order to examine the concepts methodologies policies politics processes and practices associated with race and racism in education The chapters offer empirical examples of the perpetuation and perniciousness of racism that point to the continued salience of research about race Additionally the chapters make contributions to conceptual and methodological understandings of race and racism The contributors illustrate the contingency productivity and fragility of race as a concept and point to how educational research continues to be a contested site in and from which to study race and education This book was originally published as a special issue of

Discourse Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education

Filipinos in Canada Roland Sintos Coloma, Bonnie S.

McElhinny, Lisa M. Davidson, John Paul Catungal, Ethel Tungohan, 2012-01-01 The Philippines became Canada's largest source of short and long term migrants in 2010 surpassing China and India both of which are more than ten times larger The fourth largest racialized minority group in the country the Filipino community is frequently understood by such figures as the victimized nanny the selfless nurse and the gangster youth On one hand these narratives concentrate attention in narrow and stereotypical ways on critical issues On the other they render other problems facing Filipino communities invisible This landmark book the first wide ranging edited collection on Filipinos in Canada explores gender migration and labour youth spaces and subjectivities representation and community resistance to certain representations Looking at these from the vantage points of anthropology cultural studies education geography history information science literature political science sociology and women and gender studies Filipinos in Canada provides a strong foundation for future work in this area

Race and Racism Leo Driedger, Shiva Halli, 2000-04-03 Race and Racism brings together critical contributions from the academic and government sectors that analyse the nature and extent of racism in Canada The broad spectrum of social scientific approaches represented here sociology cultural anthropology demography and psychology and an equal emphasis on quantitative and qualitative methods make this study a particularly rich source for scholars and policy makers alike Discussion unfolds along four main themes concepts and theories relating to race including some treatment of measurement questions economic and social factors pertaining to race racism and discrimination as represented in opinion and popular perception measured in various ways and the dimensions of minority coping in major urban areas Race and Racism fills in many wavering lines on our cultural landscape and provides an important perspective on social policy for the twenty first century

World Racism and Related Inhumanities Meyer Weinberg, 1992-05-27 This is the first comprehensive worldwide bibliography of racism It contains references on some 135 countries and extends from ancient times to the present The first part of the work consists of references dealing with single countries More than 10 000 citations are organized according to country from Afghanistan to Zimbabwe The second part contains references to areas or regions or to related bibliographies Some 2 000 non duplicated citations are provided here While the vast majority of entries are to English language materials a number of German French Spanish and other language items are included as well The work concludes with an author index and a subject index Due to the many ways racism manifests itself this bibliography will be of great value to scholars and students from a variety of disciplines from economics and education to sociology and history

Embedded Racism Debito Arudou, 2015-11-06 Despite domestic constitutional provisions and international treaty promises Japan has no law against racial discrimination Consequently businesses around Japan display Japanese Only signs denying entry to all foreigners on sight Employers and landlords routinely refuse jobs and apartments to foreign applicants Japanese police racially profile foreign looking bystanders for invasive questioning on the street Legislators administrators and pundits portray foreigners as a national security threat and call for their segregation and expulsion Nevertheless Japan's government and media claim there is no discrimination by race in Japan therefore no laws are necessary How does Japan resolve the cognitive dissonance of racial discrimination being unconstitutional yet not illegal Embedded Racism carefully untangles Japanese society's complex narrative on race by analyzing two mutually supportive levels of national identity maintenance Starting with case studies of hundreds of individual Japanese Only businesses it carefully analyzes the construction of Japanese identity through legal structures statute enforcement public policy and media messages It reveals how the concept of a Japanese has been racialized to the point where one must look Japanese to be treated as one The product of a quarter century of research and fieldwork by a scholar living in Japan as a naturalized Japanese citizen Embedded Racism offers an unprecedented perspective on Japan's deeply entrenched poorly understood and strenuously unacknowledged discrimination as it affects people by physical appearance

Decolonizing Epistemologies and Worldviews in Education Michael Kariwo, Chouaib El Bouhali, 2025-06-20 This edited volume examines the decolonization of worldviews and ways of knowing in education and educational policy It critically challenges the Western interpretation of epistemology and ontology providing a platform for contributors to demonstrate how concepts of decolonization knowledge and worldviews are understood as well as the impact of these understandings in creation of policies and practices in education and pedagogy It also offers insight into related themes on student resilience English language the internationalization of western knowledge indigenous paradigms and curriculum transformation Chapter authors present new understandings of decolonizing knowledge and diversity analysis of non Western and indigenous epistemologies and worldviews and examples of implementation of equity in policy and education through case studies Creating and initiating a platform for wider debate it will ultimately appeal to scholars researchers policy makers and educational leaders concerned with decolonizing education and policy in North America and beyond and with interests in indigenous education decolonizing education sociology of education and philosophy of education

Discrimination and Denial Clayton James Mosher, 1998-01-01 Champion sprinter Donovan Bailey said it and this book confirms it While racism may not be as blatant in Canada as in the United States it does exist Members of visible minority groups are discriminated against in employment housing and access to public services The increasing visibility of hate groups and calls to restrict immigration mark the growing tension Racist attitudes against Asians and Blacks in particular have seeped into the criminal justice system Ironically since 1960 it has been illegal in Ontario to track crime by race making it difficult for researchers to collect data The media our primary source of information has sensationalized crimes where minority groups are implicated Clayton Mosher uses historical data and media reports to expose racism in Canada's social legal and criminal justice systems He considers the social contexts of discrimination legislation directed against minority groups law enforcement and court outcomes At last we are offered an objective assessment of racism in Canada Discrimination and Denial is essential reading for judges lawyers police officers social policy makers and community leaders Interpretations of recent events such as the shooting of officer Todd Baylis by a fugitive alien and gang style slayings in Toronto's Chinatown are guaranteed to heat up the embers of public debate

Immigration and Canada Alan Simmons, 2010 Immigration and Canada provides readers with a vital introduction to the field of international migration studies This original book presents an integrated critical perspective on Canadian immigration policies main trends and social economic and cultural impacts It offers up to date information on migration patterns and examines Canada in an evolving global transnational system that gives rise to imagined futures and contrasting real outcomes Key issues and debates include nation building and the historical roots of Canadian immigration contemporary global migration the changing national and ethnic origins of immigrants immigrants jobs wages and the economy designer immigrants and the brain gain the business of migration demographic impacts of immigration racism and prejudice facing excluded and marginalized populations transnational citizens diasporas emerging identities and struggles to belong refugees temporary workers and foreign visa workers undocumented migration and migrant trafficking the baby bust and the future of international migration

Racism and Paid Work Tania Das Gupta, 2008-12-04 This book explicitly addresses racism in the paid workplace showing how racism and by corollary sexism are systemic to society Based on extensive research on workers in both the Health Care sector and in the Garment Manufacturing sector the author succeeds in capturing the daily lived realities in the workplace

The Next Generation Richard Alba, Mary C. Waters, 2011-04-01 One fifth of the population of the United States belongs to the immigrant or second generations While the US is generally thought of as the immigrant society par excellence it now has a number of rivals in Europe The Next Generation brings together studies from top immigration scholars to explore how the integration of immigrants affects the generations that come after The original essays explore the early beginnings of the second generation in the United States and Western Europe exploring the overall patterns of success of the second generation While there are many striking similarities in the situations of the children of labor immigrants coming from outside the highly developed worlds of Europe and North America wherever one looks subtle features of national and local contexts interact with characteristics of the immigrant groups themselves to create variations in second generation trajectories The contributors show that these issues are of the utmost importance for the future for they will determine the degree to which contemporary immigration will produce either durable ethno racial cleavages or mainstream integration Contributors Dalia Abdel Hady Frank D Bean Susan K Brown Maurice Crul Nancy A Denton Rosita Fibbi Nancy Foner Anthony F Heath Donald J Hernandez Tariqul Islam Frank Kalter Philip Kasinitz Mark A Leach Mathias Lerch Suzanne E Macartney Karen G Marotz Noriko Matsumoto Tariq Modood Joel Perlmann Karen Phalet Jeffrey G Reitz Rub n G Rumbaut Roxanne Silberman Philippe Wanner Aviva Zeltzer Zubida andYe Zhang
