Rhetoric Of Bangsa And Minzu Community And Nation In Tension The Malay Peninsula 1900 1955:

The Rhetoric of Bangsa and Minzu Liok Ee Tan, 1988 The Invention of Politics in Colonial Malaya Anthony Milner, 2002-07-18 This innovative book is a pioneering study of political debate in an important Southeast Asian society. Now available in paperback, it re-examines the formative period in Malay nationalism and argues against using nationalism as the paradigm of analysis. This magnificent book is certainly essential reading for Malaysianists and Malaysians interested in the intrigues and mystique of Malay politics in the past and at present. Shamsul A B Asian Studies Review. The Invention of Politics in Colonial Malaya is a model of its kind and will undoubtedly become a landmark in Malaysian studies and an example to those in other fields. It is a stylish and highly readable essay in cultural history. William R Roff. Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies

Traditionalism and the Ascendancy of the Malay Ruling Class in Malaya Donna J. Amoroso, 2014-05-26 In this original and perceptive study, Donna J. Amoroso argues that the Malay elites' preeminent position after the Second World War had much to do with how British colonialism reshaped old idioms and rituals – helping to reinvent a tradition. In doing so, she illuminates the ways that traditionalism reordered the Malay political world, the nature of the state, and the political economy of leadership. In the postwar era, traditionalism began to play a new role; it became a weapon which the Malay aristocracy employed to resist British plans for a Malayan Union and to neutralise the challenge coming groups representing a more radical democratic perspective, and even hijacking their themes. Leading this conservative struggle was Dato Onn bin Jaafar, who not only successfully helped shape Malay opposition to the Malayan Union but was also instrumental in the creation of the United Malays National Organisation (UMNO) that eventually came to personify an acceptable Malay nationalism. Traditionalism and the Ascendancy of the Malay Ruling Class in Colonial Malaya is an important contribution to the history of colonial Malaya and more generally to the history of ideas in late colonial societies.

The Nanyang Revolution Anna Belogurova, 2019-09-05 A ground-breaking analysis of how the Malayan Communist Party helped forge a Malayan national identity while promoting Chinese nationalism

Malaysia in the World Economy (1824-2011) Azlan Tajuddin, 2012-06-14 From colonialism to independent statehood, the extent of Malaysia's capitalist development has been dramatically limited by its position in the world economy. This book combines macro and micro theoretical approaches in analyzing the relationship between capitalist development

Islam, Modernity and Entrepreneurship among the Malays P. Sloane, 1998-11-23 The book is based on original research on the entrepreneurial leaders in the Malay community and on the author's own participation in Malay business ventures. Sloane draws on her experience of working in Wall Street to analyse the ironies and contradictions in both the prevailing Western Asian and Malay definitions of entrepreneurship and the heroes of competing styles of capitalism

Asian Forms of the Nation Stein Tonnesson, Hans Antlov, 2013-10-23 The general tendency among theorists in nationalism and national identity has been to assume that the modernization process in Asia and Africa is a kind of distorted reflection of a Western precedent. Asian forms of the nation have rarely been seen as independent alternative models Among today's leading theoreticians there is a growing tendency to take Asia seriously and to include Asian examples in the general discussion The aim of the present collection is to build on and reinforce this tendency It does not postulate any specifically Asian form of the nation as opposed to a Western one Rather it seeks to demonstrate that in Asia as well as in Europe each nation forms a unique amalgam which can be compared fruitfully with others History culture and geography have posed various kinds of limits to what can be imagined as Benedict Anderson puts it The relationship between geographical space and national construction is explored in depth here The Chinese Overseas Hong Liu, 2006 Decolonization and the Cold War Leslie James, Elisabeth

Leake, 2015-02-26 The Cold War and decolonization transformed the twentieth century world This volume brings together an international line up of experts to explore how these transformations took place and expand on some of the latest threads of analysis to help inform our understanding of the links between the two phenomena The book begins by exploring ideas of modernity development and economics as Cold War and postcolonial projects and goes on to look at the era's intellectual history and investigate how emerging forms of identity fought for supremacy Finally the contributors question ideas of sovereignty and state control that move beyond traditional Cold War narratives Decolonization and the Cold War emphasizes new approaches by drawing on various methodologies regions themes and interdisciplinary work to shed new light on two topics that are increasingly important to historians of the twentieth century Ethnic Relations and Nation-Building in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata, 2004 Ethnic racial relations have been a perennial theme in Southeast Asian studies Current events have highlighted the tensions among ethnic groups and the need to maintain ethnic racial harmony for national unity This book analyses ethnic race relations in Singapore Malaysia and Indonesia with special reference to the roles of ethnic Chinese in nation building It brings together a group of established Southeast Asian scholars to critically examine some of the important issues such as ethnic politics nation building state policies and conflict resolution These scholars of different ethnic origins present their own ethnic perspectives and hence make the book unique This is the most up to date book on ethnic racial relations with special reference to the ethnic Chinese in three Southeast Asian countries

The Hadrami Awakening Natalie Mobini-Kesheh, 2018-08-06 A ground breaking study of the Hadrami community in Indonesia The book considers the evolution of Indonesian Arab identity in the context of the rise of nationalism throughout Southeast Asia during the early twentieth century Diasporic Chinese Ventures GREGOR BENTON, Hong Liu, 2004-07-31 This collection of essays by and about Wang Gungwu brings together some of Wang's most recent and representative writing about the ethnic Chinese outside China giving the reader a deeper understanding of his views on migration identity nationalism and culture all key issues in modern Asia's transformation The book collects interviews speeches and essays that illustrate the development and direction of Wang's scholarship on ethnic and diasporic Chinese The Transformation of Southeast Asia Ronald W. Pruessen, Marc Frey, Tan-Tai Yong, 2015-05-22 Providing the basis for a reconceptualization of key features in Southeast Asia's history this book examines evolutionary patterns of Europe's and Japan's Southeast Asian empires from the late 19th century through to the 1960s

War Memory and the Making of Modern Malaysia and Singapore Karl Hack, Kevin Blackburn, 2012-01-01 Singapore fell to Japan on 15 February 1942. Within days the Japanese had massacred thousands of Chinese civilians and taken prisoner more than 100,000 British, Australian and Indian soldiers. A resistance movement formed in Malaya's jungle-covered mountains but the vast majority could do little other than resign themselves to life under Japanese rule. The Occupation would last three and a half years until the return of the British in September 1945. How is this period remembered? And how have individuals, communities and states shaped and reshaped memories in the postwar era? The book responds to these questions, presenting answers that use the words of Chinese, Malays, Indians, Eurasians, British and Australians who personally experienced the war years. The authors guide readers through many forms of memory, from the soaring pillars of Singapore's Civilian War Memorial to traditional Chinese cemeteries in Malaysia and from families left bereft by Japanese massacres to the young women who flocked to the Japanese-sponsored Indian National Army, dreaming of a march on Delhi. This volume provides a forum for previously marginalized and self-censored voices, using the stories they relate to reflect on the nature of conflict and memory. They also offer a deeper understanding of the searing transit from wartime occupation to post-war decolonization and the moulding of postcolonial states and identities.

Essential Outsiders Daniel Chirot, Anthony Reid, 2011-10-01 Ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia, like Jews in Central Europe until the Holocaust, have been remarkably successful as an entrepreneurial and professional minority. While regimes have sometimes relied on the financial underpinnings of Chinese business to maintain themselves in power, and recently Chinese businesses have led the drive to economic modernization in Southeast Asia. But at the same time they remain, as the Jews were, the quintessential outsiders. In some Southeast Asian countries they are targets of majority nationalist prejudices and suffer from discrimination even when they are formally integrated into the nation. The essays in this book explore the reasons why the Jews in Central Europe and the Chinese in Southeast Asia have been both successful and stigmatized. Their careful scholarship and measured tone contribute to a balanced view of the subject and introduce a historical depth and comparative perspective that have generally been lacking in past discussions. Those who want to understand contemporary Southeast Asia and the legacy of the Jewish experience in Central Europe will gain new insights from the book.

The Politics of Nation Building and Citizenship in Singapore Michael Hill, Kwen Fee Lian, 2013-06-17 The creation of a national identity has been a central feature of political life in Singapore. A broad strategy of multiculturalism, together with the creation of Asian values, has served the purpose of building a new national identity.

Taming Babel Rachel Leow, 2016-07-14 Taming Babel sheds new light on the role of language in the making of modern postcolonial Asian nations. Focusing on one of the most linguistically diverse territories in the British Empire, Rachel Leow explores the profound anxieties generated by a century of struggles to govern the polyglot subjects of British Malaya and postcolonial Malaysia. The book ranges across a series of key moments in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries in which British and Asian actors wrought quiet battles in the realm of language in textbooks and language classrooms in dictionaries grammars and orthographies in propaganda and psychological warfare and in the very planning of language itself Every attempt to tame Chinese and Malay languages resulted in failures of translation competence and governance exposing both the deep fragility of a monoglot state in polyglot milieux and the essential untameable nature of languages in motion Malaysia Saw Swee-Hock,K. Kesavapany,2006 This book documents the trends and challenges that are taking place in various sectors in Malaysia The chapters written by specialists with an intimate knowledge of the country cover many of the major issues concerning Malaysia a country undergoing significant changes and challenges Making Majorities Dru C. Gladney,1998 Majorities are made not born This book argues that there are no pure majorities in the Asia Pacific region broadly defined nor in the West and challenges the thesis that civilizations are composed of more or less homogeneous cultures The 14 contributors argue that emphasis on minority majority rights is based on uncritically accepted views of purity numerical superiority and social consensus

Nation Building Wang Gungwu,2005 The book addresses questions such as how should historians treat the earlier pasts of each country and the nationalism that guided the nation building tasks Where did political culture come in especially when dealing with modern challenges of class secularism and ethnicity What part do external or regional pressures play when the nations are still being built The authors have thought deeply about the issues of writing nation building histories and have tried to put them not only in the perspective of Southeast Asian developments of the past five decades but also the larger areas of historiography today
