Selected Poems By Jay Wright:

Selected Poems of Jay Wright Jay Wright, 1987 Transfigurations Jay Wright, 2000 Few poets have as much to tell us about the intricate relationship between the African American past and present as Jay Wright His poems weave a rich fabric of personal history using diverse materials drawn from African Native American and European sources Scholarly historical intuitive and emotional his work explores territories in which rituals of psychological and spiritual individuation find a new synthesis in the construction of cultural values Never an ideologue but always a poet of vision he shows us a way to rejoice and strengthen ourselves in our common humanity Here together for the first time are Wright s previously published collections The Homecoming Singer 1971 Soothsayers and Omens 1976 Explications Interpretations 1984 Dimensions of History 1976 The Double Invention of Komo 1980 Elaine s Book 1988 and Boleros 1991 along with the new poems of Transformations 1997 By presenting Wright s work as a whole this collection reveals the powerful consistency of his theme a spiritual or intellectual quest for personal development as each book builds solidly upon the previous one Wright examines history from a multicultural perspective attempting to conquer a sense of exclusion from society and his own cultural identity and find solace and accord by linking American society to African traditions He believes that a poem must articulate the vital rhythms of the culture it depicts and is dedicated to a pursuit of poetic forms that embody the cadence of African American culture In The Albuquerque Graveyard he offers a poignant elegy to victims of slavery s Middle Passage and also reveals the purpose of his poetry to the Black limbo an unwritten history of our own tensions The dead lie here in a hierarchy of small defeats Defying characterization Wright has experimented with voices languages cultures and forms not normally associated with African American literature He is well schooled in the cultures of West Africa Europe and the Americas and true to his New Mexican birth he is a powerful synthesizer of human experience Transfigurations reveals Wright to be a man of profound knowledge and a poet of exalted verbal intensity Soul and Substance Jay Wright, 2023-06-06 Jay Wright is widely recognized as one of the most important American poets of the past half century But in recent years he has also written a series of unconventional essays that he calls examination papers which he defines as designated inquiries to myself In these linked essays most of which resemble prose poems with only a few lines set on each page Wright explores abiding artistic and philosophical concerns including language aesthetic form knowledge time and death Soul and Substance presents these pieces for the first time The Guide Signs Jay Wright, 2007 In The Guide Signs acclaimed poet Jay Wright closes a movement he opened with his first book The Homecoming Singer in 1971 a movement that takes its design from the ancient people of Mali Wright continued this theme in subsequent works all gathered in Transfigurations Collected Poems whose eight books represent the eight master signs The two books of The Guide Signs represent the primordial Nommo twins All together these ten books as the ten earlier signs taken from the complete signs of the world provide the base for the soul and life force given to everything Wright encourages the reader to participate in weaving the fragile and fragmentary fabric of experience and to do what Horace Silver encourages his listeners to do get down in the music with us Jay Wright Harold Bloom, 2004 Published in 2000 Transfigurations Collected Poems reveals once again Jay Wright's mastery of complex form and his influential voice as an African American poet The Ruined Elegance Fiona Sze-Lorrain, 2015-09-29 A lyrical collection that explores the interplay between poetry and history In her new collection Fiona Sze Lorrain offers a nuanced yet dynamic vision of humanity marked by perils surprises and the transcendence of a ruined elegance Through an intercultural journey that traces lives encounters exiles and memories from France America and Asia the poet explores a rich array of historical and literary allusions to European masters Asian sources and American influences With candor and humor each lyrical foray is sensitive to silence and experience I want to honor the invisible I'll use the fog to see white peaches There are haunting narratives from a World War II concentration camp the Stalinist Terror and a persecuted Tibet during the Cultural Revolution There are also poems that take as their point of departure writings paintings sketches photographs and music by Gu Cheng Giorgio Caproni Bonnard Hiroshige Gao Xingjian Kertsz and Debussy among others Grounded in the sensual these poems probe existential questionings through inspirations from nature and the impermanent earth Described by the Los Angeles Review of Books as a high lyricist who refuses to resort to mere lyricism in order to articulate her experience Sze Lorrain renews her faith in music and poetic language by addressing the opposing aesthetics of ruins and elegance and how the experience of both defies judgment The Eternal City Kathleen Graber, 2010-07-01 Finalist for the National Book Award and the National Book Critics Circle Award With an epigraph from Freud comparing the mind to a landscape in which all that ever was still persists The Eternal City offers eloquent testimony to the struggle to make sense of the present through conversation with the past Questioning what it means to possess and to be possessed by objects and technologies Kathleen Graber's award winning second collection of poetry brings together the elevated and the quotidian to make neighbors of Marcus Aurelius Klaus Kinski Walter Benjamin and Johnny Depp Like Aeneas who escapes Troy carrying his father on his back the speaker of these intellectually and emotionally ambitious poems juggles the weight of private and public history as she is transformed from settled resident to pilgrim A Glossary of Chickens Gary J. Whitehead, 2013-03-07 An inventive and observant collection of lyric poems from the Princeton Series of Contemporary Poets With skillful rhetoric and tempered lyricism the poems in A Glossary of Chickens explore in part the struggle to understand the world through the symbolism of words Like the hens of the title poem Gary J Whitehead's lyrics root around in the earth searching for sustenance cluck rather than crow and possess a humble majesty Confronting subjects such as moral depravity nature's indifference aging illness death the tenacity of spirit and the possibility of joy the poems in this collection are accessible and controlled musical and meditative imagistic and richly figurative They are informed by history literature and a deep interest in the natural world touching on a wide range of subjects from the Civil War and whale ships to animals and insects Two poems present biblical narratives the story of Lot's wife and an imagining of Noah in his old age Other poems nod to favorite authors one poem is in the voice of the character Babo from Herman Melville's Benito Cereno while another is a kind of prequel to Emily Dickinson's She rose to His Requirement As inventive as they are observant these memorable lyrics strive for revelation and provide their own revelations

At Lake Scugog Troy Jollimore, 2011-03-14 This is an eagerly awaited collection of new poems from the author of Tom Thomson in Purgatory which won the National Book Critics Circle Award and was hailed by the New York Times as a snappy entertaining book A triumphant follow up to that acclaimed debut At Lake Scugog demonstrates why the San Francisco Chronicle has called Troy Jollimore a new and exciting voice in American poetry Jollimore is a professional philosopher and in witty and profound ways his formally playful poems dramatize philosophical subjects especially the individual's relation to the larger world and the permeable constantly shifting border between inner and outer For instance the speaker of The Solipsist suspecting that the entire world lives inside of your skull wonders why God would make ear and eye to face outward not in And Tom Thomson a character who also appeared in Jollimore's first book finds himself journeying like an astronaut through the far reaches of the space that fills his head an experience that prompts him to ask that a doorbell be installed on the inside so that he can warn the world before intruding on it _____ From At Lake Scugog LOBSTERS Troy Jollimore tend to cluster in prime numbers sub oceanic bundles of bug consciousness submerged in waking slumber plunged in pits of murk black water They have coalesced out of the pitch and grime and salt suspended within that atmospheric gloom Their skin is colorless below But when exposed to air they start to radiate bright green then soon a siren red that wails I'm dead The meat inside though is as white as teeth or the hard boiled egg that comes to mind when one cracks that crisp shell and digs beneath Caress the toothy claw edge of its pincer and you will know the single simple thought that populates its mind The lobster trap is elegance itself one moving part the thing that's caught

The Way Down John Burt, 2014-07-14 For the sake of contraption like Frost and of character like Robinson John Burt will do a great deal and his scope and scansion require a great deal for his theme is nothing less than the reinvention of heroism King Mark Mary of Nazareth St Francis Paolo and Francesca Ariadne and the invention of a new heroics Woodrow Wilson Willard Gibbs As attentive to ekphrasis as to the sonnet's narrow room Burt feels what he knows and he knows that we can learn from the past only by repeating it A grand achievement Richard Howard Almost all these poems are narrative telling stories that turn on some small but crucial shift of sensibility One hears in them a speaking rather than a singing voice a voice which for all its formality and gravity remains oral and sociable a voice which tells things rather than spins charms Their predominant mood is lucid asperity sometimes breaking out into the angry Calvinism they always barely keep down sometimes striving to achieve a humane skepticism that always just eludes them The book consists of two sections one concerned with the cruxes and contradictions of private feeling the other with the unraveling of the public world Each section centers on a long narrative poem that culminates the building tensions of the poems that precede it and makes possible the resolutions that follow them Sonnet I from St Francis and the Wolf Saved at last not at the last of me I knelt two legged made of guttural air A little yelp to sound like human prayer The saints were cautious understandably I took the cup and managed not to drool But dreamed the wine was blood as I d been taught And vainly curbed the vain bent of my thought I knew myself an angel felt a fool Could God have erred in making teeth and maw Then for his glory I will bite the lamb Whose terror he transmogrifies to awe That I may do his service as I am Till as I am I leap the mortal gulf To rage in heaven a perfected wolf Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Cyclopedia of World Authors: Scot-Z. Indexes Frank Northen Magill,2004 International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications,2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets The Two Yvones Jessica Greenbaum,2012-09-30 This is the second collection from a Brooklyn poet whose work many readers will know from the New Yorker Jessica Greenbaum s narrative poems in which objects and metaphor share highest honors attempt revelation through close observation of the everyday Written in plain American that cats and dogs can read as Marianne Moore phrased it these contemporary lyrics bring forward the challenges of Wis awa Szymborska the reportage of Yehuda Amichai and the formal forays of Marilyn Hacker The book asks at heart how does life present itself to us and how do we create value from our delights and losses Riding on Kenneth Koch s instruction to find one true feeling and hang on The Two Yvones overtakes the present with candor meditation and the classic aspiration to shape lyric into a lasting force Moving from 1960s Long Island to 1980s Houston to today s Brooklyn the poems range in subject from the pages of the Talmud to a squirrel trapped in a kitchen One tells the story of young lovers warmed by the rays Their pelvic bones sent over the horizon of their belts while another describes the Bronx Zoo in winter where the giraffes pad about like nurses walking quietly outside a sick room Another poem defines the speaker via a packing slip of her parts brown eyes brown hair from hirsute tribes in Poland and Russia The title poem in which the speaker and friends stumble through a series of flawed memories about each other unearths the human vulnerabilities that shape so much of the collection From The Two Yvones WHEN MY DAUGHTER GOT SICK Her cries impersonated all the world The fountain s bubbling speech was just a trick But still I turned and looked as she implored Or leaned toward muffled noises through the bricks Just radio whose waves might be her wav ering whose pitch might be her quavering I turned toward where the sirens might be Save Me Help me Mommy Mommy everything She too had said since sloughing off the world She took to bed and now her voice stays fused To air like outlines of a bygone girl The streets the lake the room just places bruised Without her form the way your sheets still hold Rough echoes of the risen sleeper cold
