Other Words Barbara Williams, 2022-04-11 Sixteen of Australia's foremost poets are featured in this volume. They talk candidly about their lives and work of the craft, the rigour, the pangs and pleasures of their calling, of winged moments caught however fleetingly on the page. These writers also speak of transformation and transcendence, the creative process, their individual modes and methods of writing and the act of writing itself. The interviews provide valuable insights on such topics as gender and writing landscape, the function of poetry and the poet's social role, influences embraced and withstood, literary, personal, local, regional, national, international. The writers and their poetry are discussed from both within and beyond Australian borders. This collection offers a broad range of Australian poets, most of whom are now in the middle to later years of their career. These poets have contributed significantly to the life and quality of poetry in Australia over recent decades and continue to play pivotal roles in Australia's cultural domain today as the country moves towards the threshold of a new century.

Some Other Frequency Larry McCaffery, 1996 McCaffery converses with the young, recklessly daring and furiously productive William Vollmann and with Marianne Hauser who published her first novel nearly sixty years ago with Native American trickster novelist Gerald Vizenor and guerrilla writer Harold Jaffe whose literary technique is to plant a bomb, sneak away with stark minimalist Lydia Davis and text and collage artist Derek Pell with muscular pop icon Mark Leyner and proto punk diva Kathy Acker. They are a diverse lot, shaped by very different literary and personal influences and addressing divergent readerships.

The Anthology of Black Mountain College Poetry Blake Hobby, Alessandro Porco, Joseph Bathanti, 2025-02-05 Founded in 1933 near Asheville, North Carolina, Black Mountain College fostered experimentation and interdisciplinary learning, placing the arts at the heart of its curriculum. As such, the college was home to and served as inspiration for many modern and postmodern American poets. Some of them, including Charles Olson, Robert Creeley and Denise Levertov, appeared in Donald Allen's groundbreaking New American Poetry anthology published in 1960, later becoming part of the American poetry canon. However, many writers affiliated with Black Mountain College have been overlooked. The Anthology of Black Mountain College Poetry features over fifty poets selected with an expansive historical and critical lens, including those not typically considered as poets, such as composer John Cage, architect Buckminster Fuller, and visual artist Josef Albers. Many years in the making, this book presents the clearest picture of the poetry and poetics of Black Mountain College yet.

The German Prisoner James Hanley, 2006 Brilliant in its stark depiction of trench warfare in World War I, this lost classic was privately printed in a limited edition in 1930. British censors initially suppressed the short novel because of its tough antiwar views and sympathetic portrayals of German soldiers, and even today's readers may be unprepared for its scenes of horrific battlefield carnage and men driven to madness by relentless psychological stress. Providing a new view of an underappreciated Canadian author, the book also stands as a fascinating addition to the comparatively small shelf of literature by writers who fought in the Great War.
