Selections From Longman World History Volume Ii Primary Sources And Case Studies:

Selections from Longman World History, Volume II Professor George F. Jewsbury, 2002-11 Selections from Longman World History George F. Jewsbury, Longman, 2001-08 Selections from Longman World History, Volume I George F. Jewsbury, 2003 Selections from Longman World History George F. Jewsbury, 2003 This volume offers a range of primary documents to illustrate characteristic features of key civilizations during major stages of world history from around 1450 to modern times including contrasts and comparisons among major societies. Historians analyze documents with the same objective attitude employed by scientists examining natural phenomena. By reading primary documents, students gain direct access to the identities of the world's peoples expressed through their religious practices, oral traditions, literatures, and governmental archives. These documents are the touchstones of who our global neighbors are, where they come from, and where they and we are going.

Selections from Longman World History George F. Jewsbury, 2002-09-01. Selections from Longman World History: Primary Sources and Case Studies presents the best of the thought-provoking primary sources and case studies found in the new LongmanWorldHistory.com website. This collection encourages students to analyze the themes, issues, and complexities of world history in a meaningful, exciting, and informative way.

American Book Publishing Record, 2005 Program of the ... Annual Meeting American Historical Association. Meeting, 2002 The Modern Centuries Peter N. Stearns, 2003 Books in Print Supplement, 2002 World History in Brief: To 1450 Peter N. Stearns, 2002. With its brief, global rather than West-centered approach, World History in Brief Fourth Edition seeks to show how different civilizations developed in a global context and then encountered the various forces of contemporary life. The brevity of this text allows instructors to take advantage of additional readings. Rather than overwhelm students, the chief goal of World History in Brief is to present the big picture to facilitate comparison and assessment of change and to highlight the major developments in the world's history. Finally, this text also presents the global interactions of major civilizations so that students can compare and assess changes.

Sources of the African Past David Robinson, Douglas K. Smith, 1999. Sources of the African Past combines a case study approach with an emphasis on primary and orally transmitted sources to accomplish three objectives: to tell a story in some depth, to portray major themes, and to raise basic questions of analysis and interpretation. The case studies are set in the nineteenth century and deal with critical periods in the fortunes of five societies in different parts of the continent: South East and West Africa. The authors wish students to work with the raw materials of history and to that end have provided a workbook for a laboratory experience. Sources of the African Past is designed for use in a wide variety of courses and in conjunction with other texts. The authors have kept their own interpretations to a minimum and invited scrutiny of their decision of selection and arrangement. They chose the cases on the basis of several criteria: geographical coverage, abundance, and diversity of primary sources, importance in the secondary literature, and relevance to important historical problems. All the studies emphasize political change. All witness some growth.

in European intervention In selecting the documents the authors sought a balance of perspective without sacrificing accuracy and relevance This means a conscious effort to present a variety of views African and European internal and external participant and observer those of the victims as well as those of the victors those of the people as well as those of the elite Within the limitations of space they have made the excerpts sufficiently long to allow the reader to examine the author's style purpose and other characteristics Keeping in mind the limitations of libraries they have attempted to make each chapter self contained

Longman Panorama History 6 Singh, 2007-09 Longman Panorama History 8 Singh, Resources in Education, 1998 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70 History of Physical Anthropology Frank Spencer, 1997 The comparative study of humans as biological organisms their evolution and their physiological and anatomical functions and ecology of primates surveys the entire field and summarizes and organizes the basic knowledge fundamental principles and development

Re-Imagining Citizenship Education
Pablo C. Ramirez, 2023-06-01 In this special edition we call attention to the role of Critical Multicultural Citizenship Education CMCE in schools societies and global contexts The fundamental goal of CMCE is to increase not only the students awareness of and participation in the political aspects of democracy but also students abilities to create and live in an ethnically diverse and just community Global migration and increasing diversity within nations are challenging conceptions of citizenship all over the world The percentage of ethnic minorities in nation states throughout the world has increased significantly within the past 30 years The United States Census for example projects that 50% of the population will consist of culturally linguistically racially ethnic and religiously diverse groups by 2050 With an increase growth of diversity within national borders issues concerning educational equity equality and civic engagement have not always been well attended to in educational and societal contexts Growing ethnic diversity in schools society has not automatically led to a dismantling of persistent educational barriers or structural inequalities In the past decade culturally ethnically and linguistically diverse populations have faced barriers impacting their rights as citizens in the United States and international contexts Citizenship and the rights that are associated with being a citizen are re framed when culturally ethnically and linguistically students seek equality In 2020 many urban cities in the United States witnessed Latino Black youth demonstrate peacefully guided by social justice and their civic responsibilities Similarly in international contexts students have demonstrated civil disobedience by expressing concerns about their rights as citizens and the disempowerment of communities We emphatically believe that students in K 12 settings must begin to understand their rights as citizens and also advocate for the rights of others in order for communities in the U S and international contexts to achieve democracy

In Search of an Identity Edward Vickers, 2004-03 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Research in Education, 1973 Dating Acts in its Jewish and Greco-Roman Contexts Karl Leslie Armstrong, 2021-01-14 There has been consistent apathy in recent years with regard to the long standing debate surrounding the date of Acts While the so called majority of scholars over the past century have been lulled into thinking that Acts was written between 70 and 90 CE the vast majority of recent scholarship is unanimously adamant that this middle range date is a convenient political compromise Karl Armstrong argues that a large part of the problem relates to a remarkable neglect of historical textual and source critical matters Compounding the problem further are the methodological flaws among the approaches to the middle and late date of Acts Armstrong thus demonstrates that a historiographical approach to the debate offers a strong framework for evaluating primary and secondary sources relating to the book of Acts By using a historiographical approach along with the support of modern principles of textual criticism and linguistics the historical context of Acts is determined to be concurrent with a date of 62 63 CE
