Women and Gender in Postwar Europe Joanna Regulska,Bonnie G. Smith,2012-03-12 Women and Gender in Postwar Europe charts the experiences of women across Europe from 1945 to the present day Europe at the end of World War II was a sorry testimony to the human condition awash in corpses the infrastructure devastated food and fuel in such short supply From Soviet Union to the United Kingdom and Ireland the vast majority of citizens on whom survival depended in the postwar years were women This book charts the involvement of women in postwar reconstruction through the Cold War and post Cold War years with chapters on the economic social and political dynamism that characterized Europe from the 1950s onwards and goes on to look at the woman s place in a rebuilt Europe that was both more prosperous and as tension filled as before The chapters both look at broad trends across both eastern and western Europe such as the horrific aftermath of World War II but also present individual case studies that illustrate those broad trends in the historical development of women s lives and gender roles The case studies show difference and diversity across Europe whilst also setting the experience of women in a particular country within the broader historical issues and trends in such topics as work professionalization sexuality consumerism migration and activism The introduction and conclusion provide an overview that integrates the chapters into the more general history of this important period This will be an essential resource for students of women and gender studies and for post 1945 courses

European Feminisms, 1700-1950 Karen M. Offen, 2000 This ambitious book explores challenges to male hegemony throughout continental Europe over the past 250 years For general readers and those interested primarily in the historical record it provides a comprehensive comparative account of feminist developments in European societies as well as a rereading of European history from a feminist perspective By placing gender or relations between women and men at the center of European politics it aims to reconfigure our understanding of the European past and to make visible a long but neglected tradition of feminist thought and politics On another level the book seeks to disentangle some misperceptions and to demystify some confusing contemporary debates about the Enlightenment reason nature and public vs private equality vs difference In the process the author aims to show that gender is not merely a useful category of analysis but that sexual difference lies at the heart of human thought and politics

Russian and West European Women, 1860-1939 Marcelline J. Hutton, 2001-08-14 This ambitious study provides a sweeping overview of the position of women in England France Germany and Russia USSR during a seminal period in world history Comparing Russian and European women's quest for respectability self realization justice and simple survival from 1860-1939 the book illustrates their struggles to realize their dreams and their resourcefulness in coping with often dreary hard even horrifying lives Deftly combining statistical data to underscore collective experiences and belles lettres to highlight the texture of individual women's lives the book assesses the significance of gender class nationality and religion Through vivid description this history conveys a comprehensive picture of women's social educational economic and political position in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century This richly researched work traces common patterns and unique experiences in women's lives showing how they defined themselves coped with daily life and confronted disaster with courage and resourcefulness

Women, Art and the Politics of Identity in Eighteenth-Century Europe Melissa Hyde, Jennifer Milam, 2017-03-02 The eighteenth century is recognized as a complex period of dramatic epistemic shifts that would have profound effects on the modern world Paradoxically the art of the era continues to be a relatively neglected field within art history While women's private lives their involvement with cultural production the project of Enlightenment and the public sphere have been the subjects of ground breaking historical and literary studies in recent decades women's engagement with the arts remains one of the richest and most under explored areas for scholarly investigation This collection of new essays by specialist authors addresses women's activities as patrons and as patronized artists over the course of the century It provides a much needed examination with admirable breadth and variety of women's artistic production and patronage during the eighteenth century By opening up the specific problems and conflicts inherent in women's artistic involvements from the perspective of what was at stake for the eighteenth century women themselves it also acts as a corrective to the generalizing and stereotyping about the prominence of those women which is too often present in current day literature Some essays are concerned with how women's involvement in the arts allowed them to fashion identities for themselves whether national political religious intellectual artistic or gender based and how such self fashioning in turn enabled them to negotiate or intervene in the public domains of culture and politics where The Woman Question was so hotly debated Other essays examine how men's patronage of women also served as a vehicle for self fashioning for both artist and sponsor Artists and patrons discussed include Carriera Queen Lovisa Ulrike and Chardin the Bourbon Princesses Mlle Clermont Mme Ad la de and Nattier the Duchess of Osuna and Goya Marie Antoinette and Vig e Lebrun Labille Guiard Queen Carolina of Naples Prince Stanislaus Poniatowski of Poland and Kauffman David and his students Mesdames Benoist Lavoisier and Mongez

The European Court of Justice Gráinne De Búrca, Joseph Weiler, 2001 This collection of essays aims to look afresh at an institution which although already the subject of numerous academic analyses and extensive legal research remains of central importance to all who are interested in the development of European Union law and policy Various contributions seek to develop particular avenues of analysis which despite the significant increase in the range and volume of literature on the Court of Justice have not yet been very fully explored They include a legal philosophical account of the ECJ's reasoning a sociological analysis of patterns of litigation before the Court and an investigation of the impact and presence of gender in the Court's work and on its institutional position Other contributions look anew at the more topical and sometimes controversial subject of the relationship between national courts and the Court of Justice both under the preliminary reference procedure and in other contexts and a final essay considers the likely effect on the Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance of the reforms to the judicial structure proposed during the Nice Intergovernmental Conference
