Originally published in 2003, the contributors to this title review the successes of China's forest policies and the growth of its forests over the past quarter century and examine the challenges facing China's forests and rural environment. China's Forests: Global Lessons from Market Reforms is a valuable resource for students interested in environmental studies, international forest policy and the modern development of China. The American Enterprise, 2004 Non-market

Strategies in International Business Vikrant Shirodkar, Roger Strange, Steven McGuire, 2019-12-21 The Academy of International Business, UK and Ireland Chapter. Published in association with the UK and Ireland Chapter of the Academy of International Business. This book provides theoretical and empirical insights into non-market political and social strategies that firms use when conducting international business. Political strategies include activities such as lobbying, campaign contributions and using political ties and connections as a means of influencing policy making. Likewise, firms also engage in various social responsibility activities to maintain a good image in society and to improve their legitimacy and reputation when operating globally. Multinational enterprises (MNEs) face various challenges in implementing non-market strategies due to institutional differences between their home and host contexts. Presenting fresh perspectives from a cast of international contributors, this book offers academics, students and practitioners a greater understanding of how non-market strategies can be effective in international business. Agriculture, development, and the global trading system: 2000-2015 Bouët,

Antoine, Laborde Debucquet, David, 2017-09-07 This book is devoted to the complex relationship between the global trading system and food security, focusing on two important elements: the Doha Development Agenda (DDA) and how food price volatility can be managed or not through trade instruments. The first section of the book is based on the premise that more trade integration can fight poverty and alleviate hunger. The second section examines whether managing price volatility is doable through more or less trade integration. This section deals in particular with policy instruments available for policy makers to cope with price volatility, food stocks, crop insurance and export restrictions. Analysis concludes that without a strong and efficient World Trade Organization (WTO) capable of conducting ambitious trade negotiations, the food security target will be much more difficult to hit. The Global Economy and International Financing Henri L. Beenhakker, 2000-12-30 Executive decision makers are coming to understand that strategic management, national government policies and the international public sector are all related, often in subtle ways. Foreign markets now have even more influence on corporate performance. Dr. Beenhakker familiarizes readers with a multifaceted approach to decision making in an international context, focusing on the interactions between the private and public sectors. In doing this, he shows how macroeconomic issues affect the global economy, specifically their impact on international financing. Though drawing upon a wide range of sources in economics, finance accounting and statistics among other fields this work requires no special grounding in any of these fields to be read grasped and applied Dr Beenhakker s analytical techniques help translate the often vague rules of thumb used by international finance executives into specific decision making criteria With numerous examples and illustrations plus a clearly defined conceptual framework to analyze predict and respond to changes in the financial environment and world trade Dr Beenhakker s book is an essential resource for executive level decision makers throughout today s globalizing organizations

Smoking Environments in China Ross Barnett,Tingzhong Yang,Xiaozhao Y. Yang,2021-12-09 This book fills a major gap in research into smoking and tobacco control in China In recent decades few studies have explored the significance of geographical factors and the role they have played either in affecting the prevalence of smoking or in tobacco control responses to the smoking epidemic in China In light of this the book investigates the importance of national regional and local environmental factors affecting smoking in China It shows how geographical social and institutional contexts have influenced the implementation and success of tobacco control initiatives and situates smoking trends in China in a broader global context The authors synthesize Chinese and western research on the smoking epidemic and uniquely focus on the importance of environmental factors and Chinese cultural perspectives in understanding smoking behaviour and the ineffectiveness of many tobacco control initiatives especially how these conflict with Chinese economic policy The book is aimed at academic and policy audiences both internationally and inside China and will be of interest to a wide audience not only geographers but also epidemiologists sociologists and others working in public health Global Encyclopedia of Public Administration, Public Policy, and Governance Ali Farazmand,2023-04-05 This global encyclopedic work serves as a comprehensive collection of global scholarship regarding the vast fields of public administration public policy governance and management Written and edited by leading international scholars and practitioners this exhaustive resource covers all areas of the above fields and their numerous subfields of study In keeping with the multidisciplinary spirit of these fields and subfields the entries make use of various theoretical empirical analytical practical and methodological bases of knowledge Expanded and updated the second edition includes over a thousand of new entries representing the most current research in public administration public policy governance nonprofit and nongovernmental organizations and management covering such important sub areas as 1 organization theory behavior change and development 2 administrative theory and practice 3 Bureaucracy 4 public budgeting and financial management 5 public economy and public management 6 public personnel administration and labor management relations 7 crisis and emergency management 8 institutional theory and public administration 9 law and regulations 10 ethics and accountability 11 public governance and private governance 12 Nonprofit management and nongovernmental organizations 13 Social health and environmental policy areas 14 pandemic and crisis management 15 administrative and governance reforms 16 comparative public administration and governance 17 globalization and international issues 18 performance management 19 geographical areas of the world with country focused
