Martinez,Junko Yokota,Charles Temple,2017-04-18 Much of teachers attention these days is focused on having students read closely to ferret out the author s intended meaning and the devices used to convey that meaning But we cannot forget to guide students to have moving engagements with literature because they need to make strong personal connections to books of merit if they are to become the next generation of readers literate people with awareness of and concern for the diversity of human beings around them and in different times and places Fortunately guiding both students personal engagement with literature and their close reading to appreciate the author s message and craft are not incompatible goals This book enthusiastically and intelligently addresses both imperatives first surveying what is gained when students are immersed in literature then celebrating and explicating the main features of literature students need to understand to broaden their tastes and deepen their engagement at the same time they meet external standards then presenting a host of active methods for exploring all major genres of children s books and finally presenting suggestions for interdisciplinary teaching units grounded in literature Created by noted leaders in the fields of children s literature and literacy the book is enlivened by recurring features such as suggested reading lists issues for discussion links to technology and annotations of exemplary books

Eastern European Jewish American Narratives, 1890-1930 Dana Mihailescu, 2018-06-29 The compelling argument of Eastern European Jewish American Narratives 1890 1930 Struggles for Recognition is that narratives of Eastern European Jewish Americans are important discourses offering a response to America s norms of assimilation rationalized progress and control in the early twentieth century under the guise of commitment to the specificity of individual experiences The book sheds light on how these texts suggest an alternative ethical agency which encompasses both mainstream and minority practices and which capitalizes on the need of keeping alive individual responsibility and vulnerability as the only means to actually create a democratic culture In that this book opens up novel areas of inquiry and research for both the academic world and the social and cultural fields facilitating the rediscovery of long neglected Eastern European Jewish American writers and the rethinking of the more familiar authors addressed

The Educator's Handbook for

Teaching With Primary Sources Scott M. Waring, 2023 Educators across subject areas are striving to integrate primary sources into their pedagogy and teaching Yet despite their importance to authentic disciplined inquiry the implementation of primary source activities in the pre K 12 classroom has been limited This lack of utilization can largely be attributed to the perception that these activities are too complex to design implement and grade Many teachers also feel that primary source analysis and the construction of evidence based narratives is too difficult for students to complete in the traditional classroom Waring argues that this is not the case and with this handbook provides teacher candidates and inservice teachers with detailed and specific perspectives activities approaches and resources to help them effectively and authentically use primary sources in their classrooms Book Features Introduces teaching with primary sources including detailed examples of authentic and tested instructional ideas and approaches Designed to meet the needs of classroom teachers and teacher candidates in social studies English and language arts mathematics science and other fields Offers dozens of primary sources and links to resources throughout the book Aligns to national standards frameworks and the C3 framework for social studies Can be used to meet the needs of emerging English learners and students with special needs Focuses on ways in which educators are utilizing a variety of emerging technologies to engage students in deeper and more authentic ways of learning
