Early Modern Others Peter C. Herman, 2023-10-25 Early Modern Others highlights instances of challenges to misogyny racism atheism and antisemitism in the early modern period Through deeply historicizing early modern literature and looking at its political and social contexts Peter C. Herman explores how early modern authors challenged the biases and prejudices of their age By examining the works of Thomas More William Shakespeare Christopher Marlowe John Fletcher and Philip Massinger amongst others Herman reveals that for every ism in early modern English culture there was an anti-ism pushing back against it The book investigates others in early modern literature through indigenous communities women religion people of color and class This innovative book shows that the early modern period was as complicated and as contradictory as the world today It will offer valuable insight for anyone studying early modern literature and culture as well as social justice and intersectionality Other Others Steven Shankman, 2011-01-02 In literary and cultural studies today the term the Other appears to have largely lost its moorings in the primacy of the intersubjective encounter focusing rather on the social construction of the Other For Emmanuel Levinas in contrast the Other is precisely that which eludes construction and categorization In a study that ranges from literature of ancient China Greece and Israel to modern Egypt Italy West Africa and America Steven Shankman tests Levinas's ideas by reading literary works from outside the Judeo-Christian orbit for figurations equivalent to Levinas's notion of the Other He also places ethics at the center of intercultural or in his words transcultural comparative literature In contemporary literary and cultural studies it is often assumed that culture has the last word However as Levinas insists and as Shankman argues throughout this book it is ethics that is the presupposition of all Culture that is situated before Culture Birds and Other Creatures in Renaissance Literature Rebecca Ann

Bach,2017-08-07 This book explores how humans in the Renaissance lived with attended to and considered the minds feelings and sociality of other creatures It examines how Renaissance literature and natural history display an unequal creaturely world all creatures were categorized hierarchically However post Cartesian readings of Shakespeare and other Renaissance literature have misunderstood Renaissance hierarchical creaturely relations including human relations Using critical animal studies work and new materialist theory Bach argues that attending closely to creatures and objects in texts by Shakespeare and other writers exposes this unequal world and the use and abuse of creatures including people The book also adds significantly to animal studies by showing how central bird sociality and voices were to Renaissance human culture with many believing that birds were superior to some humans in song caregiving and companionship Bach shows how Descartes a central figure in the transition to modern ideas about creatures lived isolated from humans and other creatures and denied ancient knowledge about other creatures minds especially bird minds As significantly Bach shows how and why Descartes ideas appealed to human grandiosity Asking how Renaissance categorizations of creatures differ so much from modern classifications and why those modern classifications have shaped so much animal studies work this book offers significant new readings of Shakespeare s and other Renaissance texts It will contribute to a range of fields including Renaissance literature history animal studies new materialism and the environmental humanities Host Bibliographic

Washima Che Dan,Jason Sanjeev Ganesan,Noritah Omar,2012-11-15 The fifteen chapters in this volume explore both new and tested theoretical perspectives on literature and culture at large this multiplicity of discourses is a reflection of the implicit discontent in conforming to the New World Order and a contestation against hierarchical relationships between countries which inform the social cultural and political climates of weaker nations With the political and economic hegemony of stronger nations weaker nations run the risk of being dominated or at the very least having their own national identity and sovereignty steeped in ambivalence in the face of a globalised culture This volume hopes to bring together critical views in relation to the construction of cultural studies in the Western framework the application of literary theory in the readings of vernacular literature contestation of the mainstream scientific methodology of cultural evaluation the role of English literature in Asian cultures the application of postcolonial theory in literature literary ethics in relation to Islamic literature as well as the Islamic and Western conceptions of democracy More than half of the articles in this collection centre on Islam as a guiding principle or as a context through which critical perspectives are made on literature and culture in today s globalised world order This inadvertent foregrounding of Islam reflects a continuing dialogue on and with Islam and its significant impact on existing academic discourses founded upon Western style scholarship Shakespeare and Philosophy Raymond Angelo Belliotti, 2012 This book is an interdisciplinary work that weaves literary interpretation legal theory and philosophical doctrine about sex and love into a coherent mosaic in the context of two of Shakespeare's plays The Merchant of Venice and Measure for Measure In the process the work advances literary interpretations of the plays including character studies of some of the main protagonists The aim is partly theoretical but mostly practical to demonstrate what we can learn about living a robustly meaningful and significant human life by taking Shakespeare's work seriously from contemporary philosophical and legal vantage points Shakespeare does not reveal a tightly defined moral system that he is trying to urge upon his audience Instead Shakespeare challenges his audience to struggle with moral complexity as they confront conflicting elements surrounding legal and moral issues presented in his work and within the souls of his characters His issues and their conflicts are also ours Much of Shakespeare's work consists of raising weighty questions inextricably connected to the human condition and inviting his audience to ponder possible answers The philosophical lessons about living our lives meaningfully and significantly that we can derive from Shakespeare are simple yet powerful A Biographical Dictionary of Actors, Actresses, Musicians, Dancers, Managers & Other Stage Personnel in London, 1660-1800 Philip H. Highfill, Kalman A. Burnim, Edward A. Langhans, 1973 Those featured in Volume 10 include Margaret Martyn a singer actress and dancer whose conjugal virtues were often impeached according to the July 1792 Theatrical Magazine The Dictionary describes this least constant of lovers as of middling height with a figure well proportioned for breeches parts Her black haired black eyed beauty and clear soprano made her an immediate popular success in merry maids and tuneful minxes the piquant and the pert for a quarter century The Translatability of the Religious Dimension in Shakespeare from Page to Stage, from West to East Jenny Wong, 2018-05-29 This interdisciplinary study traverses the disciplines of translation studies hermeneutics theater studies and sociology Under the power turn or political turn in translation studies the omission and untranslatability of religious material are often seen as the product of censorship or self censorship But the theology of each individual translating agent is often neglected as a contributing factor to such untranslatability This book comprehensively traces the hermeneutical process of the translators as readers and the situational process and semiotics of theater translation Together these factors contribute to an image of translated literature that in turn influences the literature's reception While translation theorists influenced by the current sociological turn view social factors as determining translation activities and strategies this volume argues that the translator's or the dramatist's theology and religious values interact with the socio cultural milieu to carve out a unique drama production Often it is the religious values of the translating agents that determine the product rather than social factors Further the translatability of religious discourse should be understood in a broader sense according to the seven dimensions proposed by Ninian Smart rather than merely focusing on untranslatability as a result of semantic and linguistic differences SELF-HELP TO
