Siaya Historical Anthropology Eastern African Studies:

Siaya David William Cohen, E. S. Atieno Odhiambo, 1989 Historical Studies and Social Change in Western Kenya William Robert Ochieng', 2002 Indian Ocean Histories Rila Mukherjee, Radhika Seshan, 2019-08-08 This book offers a global history of the Indian Ocean and focuses on a holistic perspective of the worlds of water. It builds on maritime historian Michael Naylor Pearson's works, his unorthodox approach, and strong influence on the study of the Indian Ocean in viewing the oceanic space as replete with human experiences and not as an artefact of empire or as the theatre of European commercial and imperial transits focused only on trade. This interdisciplinary volume presents several ways of writing the history of the Indian Ocean. The chapters explore the changing nature of Indian Ocean history through diverse themes including state and capital, regional identities, maritime networking, South Asian immigrants, Bay of Bengal linkages, the East India Company, Indian seamen, formal and informal collaboration in imperial networking, scientific transfers, pearling, the issues of colonial copyright, customs, excise, and port cities. The volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of global history, modern history, maritime history, medieval history, Indian history, colonial history, and world history. JO-KANG'ATO Hezron Otieno Adingo, 2024-03-27 Hezron Otieno Adingo earned his PhD in Systematic Theology from Africa International University in Kenya, an MA in Biblical Studies Africa International University, and a Bachelor of Theology from Bugema University in Uganda. He has had the opportunity to serve as a Pastor in Kenya and the United Kingdom. While serving as the Ministerial Director of the South England Conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, he was instrumental in guiding, coordinating, supervising, directing, and leading ministerial work within the 26 counties in the United Kingdom. Dr. Adingo continues with his ministry of mentoring Pastors and shepherding. Besides his expertise in Systematic Theology, especially Ecclesiology, his other areas of research interest are Church History, Biblical Studies, Missions, Inculturation, and African Christian Theology. Telling Stories, Making Histories Mary Wren Bivins, 2007-03-30 Through reconstruction of oral testimony, folk stories, and poetry, the true history of Hausa women and their reception of Islam's vision of Muslim in Western Africa have been uncovered. Mary Wren Bivins is the first author to locate and examine the oral texts of the 19th-century Hausa women and challenge the written documentation of the Sokoto Caliphate. The personal narratives and folk stories reveal the importance of illiterate non-elite women to the history of jihad and the assimilation of normative Islam in rural Hausaland. The captivating lives of the Hausa are captured, shedding light on their ordinary existence as wives, mothers, and providers for their family on the eve of European colonial conquest. Decolonization & Independence in Kenya, 1940-93 Bethwell A. Ogot, William Robert Ochieng', 1995 This is a sharply observed assessment of the history of the last half century by a distinguished group of historians of Kenya. At the same time, the book is a courageous reflection on the dilemmas of African nationhood. Professor B. A. Ogot says: 'The main purpose of the book is to show that decolonization does not only mean the transfer of alien power to sovereign nationhood; it must also entail the liberation of the worlds of spirit and culture.'

as well as economics and politics The book also raises a more fundamental question that is How much independence is available to any state national economy or culture in today s world It asks how far are Africa s miseries linked to the colonial past and to the process of decolonization In particular the book raises the basic question of how far Kenya is avoidably neo colonial And what does neo colonial dependence mean The book answers these questions by discussing the dynamic between the politics of decolonization the social history of class formation and the economics of dependence The book ends with a provocative epilogue discussing the transformation of the post colonial state from a single party to a multi party system

Migration in Eastern Africa Elias Ayiemba, Alfred T. Otieno, 2025-05-22 This book is a collection of essays written in honour of the late Professor John Oyaro Ouchó an icon of migration scholarship in the East Africa region The book is constructed around themes which cover the nexus between challenges and opportunities in migration and national development The book explores environmental planning and management community development urbanization human impact on the environment human security rural settlement health care and governance and is therefore valuable to postgraduate students humanitarian agencies and governments with concerns surrounding emerging migration issues Several chapters highlight the debate among scholars and policy makers on the dynamic nature of migration patterns and streams and the impact of these on the quality of migration data migration theories and the monitoring and evaluation tools which are appropriate for Africa s development planning The Gogo Mathius E. Mnyampala, Gregory Maddox, 2015-06-03 A reconstruction of the history and customs of the Gogo people of Africa based in part on oral histories tribal legends and myths This work was first published in Swahili in 1954 and was sponsored by the British Colonial government in an attempt to promote tribal cohesion Pressing Interests Phoebe Musandu, 2018-10-01 During the first six decades of the twentieth century when the majority of present day Kenya was under the control of the British Empire many secular newspapers emerged as the products of tensions between Asian and European immigrants the British administration and the African petite bourgeoisie In Pressing Interests Phoebe Musandu shows that far from expressions of public opinion or vehicles of a free market these periodicals served as powerful tools for the colonial government and the elite to shape political and economic conditions in their favour Following the development of the most important newspapers established in colonial Kenya as they evolved to reflect the priorities and ambitions of their owners investors publishers journalists and editors Pressing Interests explores the roles and contributions of the press in the country s political and economic history Shedding light on newspapers as business ventures Musandu focuses on the management financial and production aspects of media Drawing on previously unearthed archival documents official and unofficial correspondence police and legal records and the newspapers themselves she further examines the press as a medium for inter and intra racial competition for power and influence as a base for the production of knowledge and as an instrument for social control In an era when we are often reminded of the power inherent in the ability to generate and disseminate information Pressing Interests tells the story of

colonial Kenya's press through a timely mix of riveting accounts and the clarifying lens of careful analysis Africanizing Knowledge Toyin Falola, 2017-11-30 Nearly four decades ago Terence Ranger questioned to what extent African history was actually African and whether methods and concerns derived from Western historiography were really sufficient tools for researching and narrating African history Despite a blossoming and branching out of Africanist scholarship in the last twenty years that question is still haunting The most prestigious locations for production of African studies are outside Africa itself and scholars still seek a solution to this paradox They agree that the ideal solution would be a flowering of institutions of higher learning within Africa which would draw not only Africanist scholars but also financial resources to the continent While the focus of this volume is on historical knowledge the effort to make African scholarship more African is fundamentally interdisciplinary The essays in this volume employ several innovative methods in an effort to study Africa on its own terms The book is divided into four parts Part 1 Africanizing African History offers several diverse methods for bringing distinctly African modes of historical discourse to the foreground in academic historical research Part 2 African Creative Expression in Context presents case studies of African art literature music and poetry It attempts to strip away the exotic or primitivist aura such topics often accumulate when presented in a foreign setting in order to illuminate the social historical and aesthetic contexts in which these works of art were originally produced Part 3 Writing about Colonialism demonstrates that the study of imperialism in Africa remains a springboard for innovative work which takes familiar ideas about Africa and considers them within new contexts Part 4 Scholars and Their Work critically examines the process of African studies itself including the roles of scholars in the production of knowledge about Africa This timely and thoughtful volume will be of interest to African studies scholars and students who are concerned about the ways in which Africanist scholarship might become more African

Obama and Kenya Matthew Carotenuto, Katherine Luongo, 2016-07-29 Barack Obama's political ascendancy has focused considerable global attention on the history of Kenya generally and the history of the Luo community particularly From politicians populating the blogosphere and bookshelves in the U S and Kenya to tourists traipsing through Obama's ancestral home a variety of groups have mobilized new readings of Kenya's past in service of their own ends Through narratives placing Obama into a simplified sweeping narrative of anticolonial barbarism and postcolonial tribal violence the story of the United States president's nuanced relationship to Kenya has been lost amid stereotypical portrayals of Africa At the same time Kenyan state officials have aimed to weave Obama into the contested narrative of Kenyan nationhood Matthew Carotenuto and Katherine Luongo argue that efforts to cast Obama as a son of the soil of the Lake Victoria basin invite insights into the politicized uses of Kenya's past Ideal for classroom use and directed at a general readership interested in global affairs Obama and Kenya offers an important counterpoint to the many popular but inaccurate texts about Kenya's history and Obama's place in it as well as focused thematic analyses of contemporary debates about ethnic politics tribal identities postcolonial governance and U S African relations

Custodians of the Land Gregory H.

Maddox, James L. Giblin, Isaria N. Kimambo, 1996-04-15 Farming and pastoral societies inhabit ever changing environments This relationship between environment and rural culture politics and economy in Tanzania is the subject of this volume which will be valuable in reopening debates on Tanzanian history In his conclusion Isaria N Kimambo a founding father of Tanzanian history reflects on the efforts of successive historians to strike a balance between external causes of change and local initiative in their interpretations of Tanzanian history He shows that nationalist and Marxist historians of Tanzanian history understandably preoccupied through the first quarter century of the country's post colonial history with the impact of imperialism and capitalism on East Africa tended to overlook the initiatives taken by rural societies to transform themselves Yet there is good reason for historians to think about the causes of change and innovation in the rural communities of Tanzania because farming and pastoral people have constantly changed as they adjusted to shifting environmental conditions

Tensions of Empire Frederick Cooper, Ann Laura Stoler, 1997-02-06 Carrying the inquiry into zones previous itineraries have typically avoided the creation of races sexual relations invention of tradition and regional rulers strategies for dealing with the conquerors the book brings out features of European expansion and contraction we have not seen well before Charles Tilly The New School for Social Research What is important about this book is its commitment to shaping theory through the careful interpretation of grounded empirically based historical and ethnographic studies By far the best collection I have seen on the subject Sherry B Ortner Columbia University Credit Between Cultures Parker Shipton, 2010-06-22 Parker Shipton offers a range of perspectives on the process of lending borrowing in Africa His conclusions challenge the conventional wisdom of the past half century about the need for credit among African farmers

The Power of the Oath Mickie Mwanzia Koster, 2016 C Survey Ritual Analysis 2008 and Mungiki Survey Analysis 2011 Notes Bibliography Index Population, Tradition, and Environmental Control in Colonial Kenya Martin S. Shanguhya, 2015 Examines land management programs pushed by the colonial government in western Kenya between 1920 and 1963 analyzing how those programs were negotiated or contested by the local community Morality, Hope and Grief Hansj Rg Dilger, Ute Luig, 2010 Some of the best most thoughtful scholarship on AIDS in Africa Julie Livingston Rutgers University Producing Pastoral Power Benjamin Richard Gardner, 2007 The Rise and Fall of Modern Empires, Volume II Saul Dubow, 2016-12-05 This volume reproduces key historical texts concerning colonial knowledges The use of the adjective colonial indicates that knowledge is shaped by power relationships while the use of the plural form knowledges indicates the emphasis in this collection is on an interplay between different often competing cognitive systems George Balandier's notion of the colonial situation is an organising principle that runs throughout the volume and there are four sub themes language and texts categorical knowledge the circulation of knowledge and indigenous knowledge The volume is designed to introduce students to a range of important interventions which speak to each other today even if they were not intended to do so when first published An introductory essay links the themes together and explains the significance of the individual articles Gender and Development Emily Awino Onyango, 2018-10-31 For a long time African history has been dominated by western perspectives through predominantly male accounts of colonial governments and missionaries. In contrast, Dr Emily Onyango provides an African history of mission education development and women's roles in Kenya. Based on archival research and interviews of primary sources, this book explores the relationship of these areas of history with each other, focusing on the Luo culture and the period of 1895 to 2000. With the pre-colonial African context as the foundation for understanding and writing history, Dr Onyango uses gender to analyze the role of Christian missionaries in the development of women's education and their position in Kenyan society. The result of this well-researched study is not only a challenge to the traditional understanding of history but also a counternarrative to the common view that to be liberated African women must disregard Christianity. Rather, she looks at the importance Christianity plays in helping women establish themselves economically, politically, and socially in Kenyan society. This research is a vital contribution to women's history and the history of Christianity in Africa.
