Eternal Glimpses: A Poet's Legacy Richard Davi, Lorna M. Davi, 2012-06-22 An autobiographical collaboration of subsequent journal entries of a poet delves behind the scenes of solitary tedium and introspection when a spark catches between the heart and brain and transforms into a pulsing literary song on the printed page Based in Brooklyn New York in the twentieth century the written word comes alive through a city dweller that gives his life for his art in the all too often darkness of poverty and the clash with social expectations While a friendly narrative of a life story threads into a likeable character the poetic expressions observations and essays surpass politics social issues of the day and religion and exposes the richness of beauty and the limitations of being human Melancholic in tone the writing dares to challenge the astute reader to explore the deeper and unspoken aspects of the human condition

Christian and Lyric Tradition in Victorian Women's Poetry F. Elizabeth Gray, 2009-09-10 Women in the Victorian period were acknowledged to be the religious sex but their relationship to the doctrines practices and hierarchies of Christianity was both highly circumscribed which has been well documented and complexly creative which has not Gray visits the importance of the literature of Christian devotion to women s creative lives through an examination of the varied ways in which Victorian women reproduced and recreated traditional Christian texts in their own poetic texts Investigating how women poets redeployed the discourse of Christianity to uncover the multiple voices of the scriptures to expand identity and gender constructions and to question traditional narratives and processes of authorization Gray contends that women found in religious poetry unexpected liberating possibilities Taking into account multiple voices from the best known female poets of the day to some of the most obscure this study provides a comprehensive account of Victorian women s religious poetic creativity and argues that this body of work helped shape the development of the lyric in the Victorian period

The Literary Protégées of the Lake Poets Mr Dennis Low, 2013-04-28 Dennis Low s re evaluation of the Lake Poets as mentors begins with the controversial premise that Robert Southey was one of the nineteenth century s greatest champions of women s writing Together with Wordsworth and Coleridge Low argues Southey tried to end what he perceived to be the cultural decline of literature by nurturing the creative talents of many exceptional women writers Drawing on 3 000 unpublished manuscripts in England Scotland and the United States Low examines the lives and works of four of the Lake Poets literary prot g es Caroline Bowles Maria Gowen Brooks Sara Coleridge and Maria Jane Jewsbury Though diverse in terms of their literary production these women were united in their defiant efforts to write against an increasingly stagnant cultural milieu and their negotiation wholeheartedly encouraged by their mentors of contemporary publishing mores This scrupulously researched book is a valuable contribution to the study of little known women writers and to our understanding of the literary and publishing environment of Britain in the 1820s and 1830s
