Disentangled R. France, 2023-09-14 The Definitive Study and Solution to the Centuries old Mystery of the World's Most Sighted Sea Serpent There is a long history of conflating sightings of unidentified marine objects UMOs as purported sea serpents Most sightings are either of an extremely brief duration or made by a single observer and thus often easy to dismiss This is not the case however with respect to the so called Gloucester Sea Serpent which frequented the Massachusetts and New York coasts during the early nineteenth century Witnessed by hundreds of people for extended periods repeatedly over many days the Gloucester UMO is the most sighted sea serpent in history As well due to being the object of study at the time and shortly thereafter by naturalists the mysterious creature remains the most thoroughly investigated of all putative sea serpents For these reasons it has achieved an exalted status among cryptozoologists who maintain it represents the best evidence for the existence of sea serpents For the first time an eminently qualified aquatic biologist and ethnozoologist presents the definitive history of the phenomena and carefully examines the evidence It is concluded that the most parsimonious explanation behind the Gloucester Sea Serpent is as early evidence for what is today recognized as being one of the most serious threats to marine biodiversity entanglement in fishing gear and other maritime debris Therefore although widely considered to be restricted to the advent and widespread use of non degradable plastic in the middle of the twentieth century this new interpretation of the Gloucester UMO suggests that entanglement has a much longer environmental history than is commonly believed Robert L France is a world renowned scientist at Dalhousie University and the author or editor of twenty books and two hundred papers on a wide range of environmental subjects He has undertaken conservation biology research from the High Arctic to the tropics on organisms from bacteria to whales which has been cited many thousands of times in the literature Dr France is a leading authority on many aspects of aquatic zoology including marine ecology and ethnozoology and may be the most qualified person to have recently undertaken research and published peer reviewed articles on the beguiling and befuddling topic of aquatic mystery animals known as cryptids Bringing the Biosphere

Home Mitchell Thomashow, 2001-10-26 A guide for understanding the ecological and existential aspects of global environmental change This book shows how to make global environmental problems more tangible so that they become an integral part of everyday awareness At its core is a simple assumption that the best way to learn to perceive the biosphere is to pay close attention to our immediate surroundings Through local natural history observations imagination and memory and spiritual contemplation we develop a place based environmental view that can be expanded to encompass the biosphere Interweaving global change science personal narrative and commentary on a wide range of scientific and literary works the book explores both the ecological and existential aspects of urgent issues such as the loss of biodiversity and global climate change Written in a warm engaging style Bringing the Biosphere Home considers the perceptual connections between the local and global how the ecological news of the community is of interest to the world and how the global movement of people species and weather systems affects the local community It shows how global environmental change can become the province of numerous educational initiatives from the classroom to the Internet from community forums to international conferences from the backyard to the biosphere It explains important scientific concepts in clear nontechnical language and provides dozens of ideas for learning how to practice biospheric perception A Wild Love for the World Joanna
