Architecture as a Performing Art Marcia Feuerstein,Gray Read,2016-04-15 How do buildings act with people and among people in the performances of life This collection of essays reveals a deep alliance between architecture and the performing arts uncovering its roots in ancient stories and tracing a continuous tradition of thought that emerges in contemporary practice With fresh insight the authors ask how buildings perform with people as partners rather than how they look as formal compositions They focus on actions the door that offers the possibility of making a dramatic entrance the window that frames a scene and the city street that is transformed in carnival The essays also consider the design process as a performance improvised among many players and offer examples of recent practice that integrates theater and dance This collection advances architectural theory history and criticism by proposing the lens of performance as a way to engage the multiple roles that buildings can play without reducing them to functional categories By casting architecture as spatial action rather than as static form these essays open a promising avenue for future investigation For architects the essays propose integrating performance into design through playful explorations that can reveal intense relationships between people and place and among people in place Such practices develop an architectural imagination that intuitively asks How might people play out their stories in this place and How might this place spark new stories Questions such as these reside in the heart of all of the essays presented here Together they open a position in the intersection between everyday life and staged performance to rethink the role of architectural design      Stag of Love Marcelle Thiébaux,2015-03-03 A sport and a military exercise hunting involved aggressive action with weapons and dogs and pursuit to the point of combat and killing for the sake of recreation food or conquest The Stag of Love explores the body of erotic metaphor that developed from the hunt together with Ovid s flourishing legacies While representing a range of human experience the metaphor finds its dominant expression in the literature of love As Marcelle Thi baux demonstrates the hunt s disciplined violence represented sexual desire along with strategies and arts for getting love the joys of love and love s elevating mystique The genre gave rise to a lavish imagery of footprints and tracking arrows nets dogs and leashes wounds dismemberment and blood that persisted to Shakespeare s day Thi baux opens with an account of a medieval chase and its ceremonies She introduces hunt manuals that defined and gentrified the sport in stages from the party s departure to the ferocity of the struggle to the animal s death These stages adapted readily to narrative structures in the love chase showing pursuit confrontation with the beloved and consummation In English literature Thi baux considers Beowulf Aefric s Life of St Eustace Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Chaucer She discusses Aucassin and Nicolette Chr tien de Troyes Erec Gottfried von Strassburg s Tristan the Nibelungenlied and Wolfram von Eschenbach s works The study ends with a scrutiny of newly recovered or little known
