Dating, Mating, and Marriage Martin King Whyte, 1990 This book examines the American system of dating mate choice and marriage It analyzes a wide range of established ideas about how dating and mate choice are changing and identifies changes and continuities in premarital experiences in twentieth century America A variety of ideas about what sorts of dating and premarital experiences will make for a successful marriage are tested and for the most part disproven raising serious doubts about our fundamental assumption that dating experience helps individuals make a wise choice for a future mate Marital success turns out to depend not so much on premarital experiences or on the social background characteristics of couples such as race religion and social class as on the way in which couples structure their day to day marital life together Through its detailed examination of a wide range of ideas and predictions about dating mating and marriage and through its dramatic findings Dating Mating and Marriage challenges many previous assumptions and conclusions about the fate of American marriage and elevates our knowledge of the American system of mate choice to a higher level

Making the Right Choice Asha L. Abeyasekera, 2021-03-12 Making the Right Choice unravels the entangled relationship between marriage morality and the desire for modernity as it plays out in the context of middle class status concerns and aspirations for upward social mobility within the Sinhala Buddhist community in urban Sri Lanka By focusing on individual life histories spanning three generations the book illuminates how narratives about a gendered self and narratives about modernity are mutually constituted and intrinsically tied to notions of agency The book uncovers how becoming modern in urban Sri Lanka rather than causing inter generational conflict is a collective aspiration realized through the efforts of bringing up educated and independent women capable of making right choices The consequence of this collective investment is a feminist conundrum agency does not denote the right to choose but the duty to make the right choice hence agency is experienced not as a sense of freedom but rather as a burden of responsibility
