In a relative sense compared to the several thousand years of evolution in ground and sea warfare air power developed very rapidly When Benny Foulois retired from his post as Chief of the Air Corps at the close of 1935 the B 17 Flying Fortress of World War II fame had completed its test flights and in January 1936 a contract for the first 13 Fortresses was signed by the Army General Foulois died in 1967 just 6 decades after the Army's Aeronautical Division was formed At the time of his death the United States Air Force which he had helped to create was equipped with supersonic fighters bombers with a range of 8 000 miles or more intercontinental ballistic missiles and thermonuclear weapons But an air force is more than an agglomeration of aircraft bombs and bullets It needs several other elements a clear understanding of its purpose or mission a body of ideas concepts and doctrine governing in broad terms how it will carry out its mission strategy and tactics for the efficient use of its equipment a system for supplying its material and human needs a research and development organization to keep ahead of potential enemies experienced leaders and sound organization to coordinate and direct its activities These elements were lacking when the Army's only aviation unit first took to the field on March 15 1916 commanded by Capt Benny Foulois The 1st Aero Squadron was ordered to help Brig Gen John J Pershing scout out the bandit Pancho Villa and bring him back from Mexico dead or alive The squadron's unarmed underpowered Curtiss JN 2 biplanes could not make it over the mountains or cope with the strong winds of northern Mexico By April 20 only two of its eight planes were in commission
