All the papers were reviewed by 2 program committee members and selected by the volume editor Prof Yuanzhi Wang from Intelligent Information Technology Application Research Association Hong Kong. The conference will bring together leading researchers, engineers, and scientists in the domain of interest. We hope every participant can have a good opportunity to exchange their research ideas and results and to discuss the state of the art in the areas of education and educational technology. International Perspectives on Critical English Language Teacher Education

Ali Fuad Selvi, Ceren Kocaman, 2024-05-16 This book showcases how teacher educators from diverse backgrounds, contexts, and realities approach English language teacher education with a critical stance. Organized into nine parts that explore different facets of English Language Teaching, each section opens with theoretical considerations, chapters, and features 24 practical application chapters. Written by renowned scholars including Graham Hall, Lili Cavalheiro, and Mario Lopez Gopar, among others, the theoretical considerations chapters offer concise insights into current issues and controversies in the field, point out opportunities for criticality, and discuss implications for teacher education. Written by critically oriented teacher educators/researchers from various parts of the world, including Brazil, Germany, Morocco, Sweden, Turkey, and the USA, among others, the practical application chapters exhibit various ways to incorporate critical approaches in reshaping current teacher education practices, ranging from critical and queer pedagogy to translanguaging to multilingualism, along with a critical reflection of the potentials and the challenges involved in their application. Conditions for English Language Teaching and Learning in Asia Bernard Spolsky, Kiwan Sung, 2015-01-12 In 1989, Bernard Spolsky published Conditions for Second Language Learning (Oxford University Press). At the 2012 Annual Conference of Asia TEFL, a number of senior scholars were invited to comment upon the relevance of the book to the teaching of English in their region and to make suggestions on how it might be updated. This volume contains revised versions of these talks and thus provides a survey of the conditions for teaching English in Asia. Most contributors found the Conditions model useful, but there has been a major change in emphasis in the past two decades: whereas the 1989 book emphasized linguistic and psycholinguistic conditions, more recent work generally emphasizes the importance of sociolinguistic and language policy conditions for teaching English in Asia today. Innovation and change in English language education Ken Hyland, Lillian L C Wong, 2013-06-19 Questions about what to teach and how best to teach it are what drive professional practice in the English language classroom.

Innovation and change in English language education addresses these key questions so that teachers are able to understand and manage change to organise teaching and learning more effectively The book provides an accessible introduction to current theory and research in innovation and change in ELT and shows how these understandings have been applied to the practical concerns of the curriculum and the classroom In specially commissioned chapters written by experts in the field the volume sets out the key issues in innovation and change and shows how these relate to actual practice offers a guide to innovation and change in key areas grounded in research relates theory to practice through the use of illustrative case studies and examples brings together the very best scholarship in TESOL and language education from around the world This book will be of interest to upper undergraduate and graduate students in applied linguistics language education and TESOL as well as pre service and in service teachers teacher educators researchers and administrators keen to create and manage teaching and learning more effectively

Towards a New Paradigm for English Language Teaching Hajime Terauchi, Judy Noguchi, Akira Tajino, 2019-10-30 This book proposes a new paradigm for English language teaching based on concepts from English for Specific Purposes ESP research and applications as well as from growing evidence relating pattern recognition to language learning ability The contributors to the volume argue that learners should not try to become proficient all around users of idealistic native like English but instead should be realistic about what they need to acquire and how to go about achieving their specific goals The book discusses the present situation by describing the status quo of English language education in Japan taking into consideration recent trends of CLIL content and language integrated learning EMI English medium instruction and TBLT task based language teaching as well as the work done on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages CEFR It introduces new movements in ESP in Japan and in other Asian regions covering topics ranging from genre analysis to corpus linguistics and presents application examples of ESP practice in a range of educational situations in Japan from the graduate school level to elementary and middle school contexts It also offers readers application examples of ESP practice in a range of business settings and expands the discussion to the global sphere where EAP and ESP are gaining importance as the number of ELF English as a Lingua Franca speakers continue to increase The book will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students working in the fields of EFL and ESL

Sustainable English Language Teacher Development at Scale Ian Eyres, Tom Power, Robert McCormick, 2018-09-06 This book offers a thorough and comprehensive review of the lessons learnt from the award winning English in Action English language teacher development programme which ran in government primary and secondary schools across Bangladesh from 2008 to 2017 Over the course of nine years the programme involved 51 000 teachers and 20 million school students demonstrably raising standards of teachers classroom practice and students English language attainment and won the British Council ELTON Award for Local innovation 2013 and Times Higher Education Award for International Impact 2107 The sixteen chapters explore the programme in detail looking at both the successes and the challenges encountered throughout its course including the strategies used to address the challenges The key innovative factors of the programme include a positive choice to build on the existing context such as the lives and experiences of local teachers and the demands of a nationally determined curriculum teacher learning taking place in the teachers own classrooms a focus on learning the how of communicative language teaching through reflective practice and peer support the use within a carefully constructed pedagogy of affordable readily available mobile phone technology the use of mediated authentic video a model of teacher development at very large scale that provided a successful alternative to the cascade model a partnership with government institutions to ensure that improved practices are maintained beyond the life of the Programme
