Understanding the Arts and Creative Sector in the United States Joni Maya Cherbo, Ruth Ann Stewart, Margaret Jane Wyszomirski, 2008-05-15. The arts and creative sector is one of the nation's broadest, most important and least understood social and economic assets encompassing both nonprofit arts and cultural organizations for profit, creative companies such as advertising agencies, film producers and commercial publishers and community-based artistic activities. The thirteen essays in this timely book demonstrate why interest in the arts and creative sector has accelerated in recent years and the myriad ways that the arts are crucial to the social and national agenda and the critical issues and policies that relate to their practice. Leading experts in the field show, for example, how arts and cultural policies are used to enhance urban revitalization, to encourage civic engagement, to foster new forms of historic preservation, to define national identity, to advance economic development and to regulate international trade in cultural goods and services. Illuminating key issues and reflecting the rapid growth of the field of arts and cultural policy, this book will be of interest to students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, to arts educators and management professionals, government agency and foundation officials and researchers and academics in the cultural policy field. The Arts Management Handbook: New Directions for Students and Practitioners Meg Brindle, Constance DeVereaux, 2015-05-18. Whether the art form is theater, dance, music, festival or the visual arts and galleries, the arts manager is the liaison between the artists and their audience. Bringing together the insights of educators and practitioners, this groundbreaker links the fields of management and organizational management with the ongoing evolution in arts management education. It especially focuses on the new directions in arts management as education and practice merge. It uses case studies as both a pedagogical tool and an integrating device. Separate sections cover Performing and Visual Arts Management, Arts Management Education and Careers, and Arts Management, Government, Nonprofits and Evaluation.
