

In Israel, Jewish people gather in the large cities and stage a 3-day carnival called Aduyada. People from all over the country come to enjoy and participate in the street parades and to see the many colorful floats depicting scenes from Jewish history and present-day Jewish life. It is a time of great excitement. In fact, Tel Aviv's Aduyada has become for Israel what the Mardi Gras is for New Orleans.

Some institutions and organizations like to conduct a Purimshpiel. Shtetl is the Yiddish word for play. A Purimshpiel enables the actors to retell the Purim story in a humorous way or to poke fun at things. Often, children in costume knock on the doors of neighbors, sing some songs, present a humorous skit or some tricks and ask for money, saying, "Today is Purim, tomorrow no more, so give me some pennies and show me the door." A few coins are given to the children, who go on their way.

The 15th of Adar is called Shushan Purim. According to the Book of Esther, the Jewish people of Shushan, capital of Persia, had to fight Haman's followers on the 13th and 14th and could not celebrate until the 15th. To commemorate this, some of the holiday songs spills over to that day as well.

In addition to the regular Purim, some Jewish communities have celebrated their own narrow escape from tragedies that threatened them. These are known as Purim Katan, minor Purim. We know of at least 116 such local holidays.

Purim Personalities

ACHASVEROUSH: A brother of Nevuchadnezzar, he rose to the throne by staging a coup and eventually ruled over the entire world. His hatred toward the Jewish people exceeded even that of Haman but his love for Esther remained intense even after discovering that she was Jewish. He assessed enormous favors upon his subjects.
