Quiet Times:

Be Still Brian Heasley, 2021-10-21 Be still For some these two simple words a welcome invitation to slow down For others they feel impossible out of reach in our increasingly noisy world or simply just too hard to maintain There is another way In fact there are many In this practical easy to read guide Brian Heasley explores the multitude of rhythms of Christian prayer and devotion available to every believer From memorizing scripture and prayer running to noticing beauty everywhere he demonstrates how we don't need to be static for our hearts to be still and how even in the midst of a full busy life we can spend quiet time with God Be Still is a prayer book for anyone looking for ways to revitalise the way they pray or who is struggling to make space for devotional time with God Packed full of ideas for different ways to pray and tips and advice for how to build prayer practices into everyday life Be Still will change the way you think about prayer and devotion and equip you with all the tools you need to deepen your relationship with God You can use Be Still individually or in small groups or read it alongside 24/7 Prayer's new Be Still prayer course It also makes a great resource for youth leaders looking to help teenagers cultivate daily rhythms of prayer and spend more quiet time with God or as a gift for people starting out on their faith journey or those returning to faith after a while Join Brian Heasley and discover the different ways in which we can all be still Diversity Carrie C. Riley-Johnson, 2006-10 Time to Write John Sylvester Lofty, 2015-02-10 Analyzes interviews with students teachers and administrators to develop a new set of literacies essential for student success in the digital age To read John's work is to take on the role of a patient listener A book like a piece of music is scored for time and I feel Time to Write is scored adagio I believe that Time to Write can be read as a critique of the time chopping approach to education and an argument for presence for being fully open to experience for being there To do good work we must enter something like island time or what John calls existential time or what is sometimes called flow when we lose at least temporarily a sense of clock time from the Foreword by Thomas Newkirk Twenty five years ago John Sylvester Lofty studied the influence of cultural time values on students resistance to writing instruction in an isolated Maine fishing community For the new edition of Time to Write Lofty returned to the island to consider how social and educational developments in the intervening years may have affected both local culture and attitudes toward education Lofty discovered how the island time values that previously informed students literacy learning have been transformed by outside influences including technology social media and the influx of new residents from urban areas Building on the ethnographic findings of the original study the new edition analyzes the current conflict between the digital age time values of constant connections and instant communication and those of school based literacy Lofty examines the new literacies now essential for students in a technologically connected world both those who aspire to continue the traditional island work of lobster fishing and for the many who now choose to pursue other careers and attend college on the mainland Solar-Terrestrial Magnetic Activity and Space Environment H. Wang, 2002-11-20 The COSPAR Colloquium on Solar Terrestrial Magnetic Activity and Space

Environment STMASE was held in the National Astronomy Observatories of Chinese Academy of Sciences NAOC in Beijing China in September 10 12 2001 The meeting was focused on five areas of the solar terrestrial magnetic activity and space environment studies including study on solar surface magnetism solar magnetic activity dynamical response of the heliosphere space weather prediction and space environment exploration and monitoring A hot topic of space research CMEs which are widely believed to be the most important phenomenon of the space environment is discussed in many papers Other papers show results of observational and theoretical studies toward better understanding of the complicated image of the magnetic coupling between the Sun and the Earth although little is still known little its physical background Space weather prediction which is very important for a modern society expanding into out space is another hot topic of space research However a long way is still to go to predict exactly when and where a disaster will happen in the space In that sense there is much to do for space environment exploration and monitoring The manuscripts submitted to this Monograph are divided into the following parts 1 solar surface magnetism 2 solar magnetic activity 3 dynamical response of the heliosphere 4 space environment exploration and monitoring and 5 space weather prediction Papers presented in this meeting but not submitted to this Monograph are listed by title as unpublished papers at the end of this book common meal into a Jesus and me moment of silence This is a call to rethink the Lord s Supper and other church ordinances as an expression of the outrageous and sometimes scandalous hospitality of God and a sign of His kingdom presence Jim Reynolds holds a bachelor s and a master of divinity degree from Abilene Christian University 1964 1967 a doctorate from the Graduate Theological University Berkeley Calif 1974 and a law degree from SMU 1981 He has been a licensed marriage and family counselor and has published numerous articles and books including Secrets of Eden God and Human Sexuality 1974 and The Lepers Among Us 2007 Jim has taught religion theology philosophy and biblical studies at Pepperdine University and the University of Texas and presently is an adjunct professor at Dallas Christian College He also does mediation for Dale O Neall and Associates in Fort Worth Texas From 1981 to 2007 Jim was a family lawyer and partner with the Whitaker Chalk law firm in Fort Worth Texas Since 1984 he has been pastor of Lake Highlands Church in Dallas Texas Jim and his wife Donna have two children and eight grandchildren
