The Routledge History of the Domestic Sphere in Europe Joachim Eibach, Margareth Lanzinger, 2020-12-29 This book addresses the multifaceted history of the domestic sphere in Europe from the Age of Reformation to the emergence of modern society By focusing on daily practice interaction and social relations it shows continuities and social change in European history from an interior perspective The Routledge History of the Domestic Sphere in Europe contains a variety of approaches from different regions that each pose a challenge to commonplace views such as the emergence of confessional cultures of private life and of separate spheres of men and women By analyzing a plethora of manifold sources including diaries court records paintings and domestic advice literature this volume provides an overview of the domestic sphere as a location of work and consumption conflict and cooperation emotions and intimacy and devotion and education The book sheds light on changing relations between spouses parents and children masters and servants or apprentices and humans and animals or plants thereby exceeding the notion of the modern nuclear family This volume will be of great use to upper level graduates postgraduates and experienced scholars interested in the history of family household social space gender emotions material culture work and private life in early modern and nineteenth century Europe

Military Men of Feeling Holly Furneaux,2016-03-25 Military Men of Feeling considers the popularity of the figure of the gentle soldier in the Victorian period It traces a persistent narrative swerve from tales of war violence to reparative accounts of soldiers as moral exemplars homemakers adopters of children on the battlefield and nurses This material invites us to think afresh about Victorian masculinity and Victorian militarism It challenges ideas about the separation of military and domestic life and about the incommunicability of war experience Focusing on representations of soldiers experiences of touch and emotion the book combines the work of well known writers including Charles Dickens Charles Kingsley William Makepeace Thackeray Charlotte Yonge with previously unstudied writing and craft produced by British soldiers in the Crimean War 1854-56 The Crimean War was pivotal in shaping British attitudes to military masculinity A range of media enabled unprecedented public engagement with the progress and infamous blunders of the conflict Soldiers and civilians reflected on appropriate behaviour across ranks forms of heroism the physical suffering of the troops administrative management and the need for army reform The book considers how the military man of feeling contributes to the rethinking of gender roles class and military hierarchy in the mid nineteenth century and how this figure was used in campaigns for reform The gentle soldier could also do more bellicose social and political work disarming anti war critiques and helping people to feel better about war This book looks at the difficult mixed politics of this figure It considers questions debated in the nineteenth century and which remain urgent today about the relationship between feeling and action and the ethics of an emotional response to war It makes a case for the importance of emotional and tactile military history bringing the Victorian military man of feeling into contemporary debates about liberal warriors and soldiers as social workers
