oriented perspective Text and Canon of the Hebrew Bible Shemaryahu Talmon, 2010-06-30 The essays by Shemaryahu Talmon 1920 December 15 2010 presented in this fourth volume of his collected studies in English were written against the background of the momentous manuscript finds at various sites in the Judean Desert including approximately 200 biblical or Bible related manuscripts and manuscript fragments discovered at Qumran These discoveries date from the crucial period of the turn of the era and afford scholars unprecedented information on the early transmission history of the biblical text Talmon likens the transmission process in agreement with Paul Kahle and contrary to Paul de Lagarde to a confluence of variant pristine traditions that Judaism Christianity and the Samaritan communities severally channeled into one fixed and closely circumscribed text form It is his thesis that at least some of the biblical manuscripts and fragments from Qumran preserve original variants of the wording in the Masoretic Text which eventually was recognized and transmitted in Judaism as the acclaimed and exclusively binding wording of the Hebrew Bible These manuscripts and fragments evidence a textual strategy consisting of the interaction of the original authors and the transmitters of their work Scribes and editors were minor partners of the authors They did not refrain from occasionally changing wordings within a given range of poetic license often adapting literary techniques and patterns that had been used by the primary creators of the texts that they copied The 18 essays reprinted in this volume relate to a variety of phenomena that affected the biblical literature in the stages of transition from oral tradition to hand written transmission initially in Paleo Hebrew then in the square alphabet and ultimately in the promulgation of the Masoretic version in print Talmon s articles published herein initially appeared over a period of about 50 years thus giving expression to his developing thought regarding the transmission history of the biblical text up to the present time The papers have undergone revision in the process of preparing the present volume Scholars and students alike will benefit from owning and using this superb comprehensive collection of studies The Dead Sea Scrolls

Snatched into Paradise (2 Cor 12:1-10) James Buchanan Wallace, 2011-01-27 Recent scholars have tended to interpret 2 Corinthians 12 1 10 as an attempt to belittle ecstatic experiences such as Paul s ascent to paradise in favor of suffering in the service of the gospel This study offers an alternative An analysis of ascent traditions in the Greco Roman and Jewish worlds investigates ascent as both a literary motif and a religious practice This analysis probes several issues relevant to 2 Cor 12 1 10 including dynamics of ascent and suffering The study turns next to religious experiences Paul believes he and his communities have undergone A pattern emerges in which extraordinary experiences provide the basis for suffering and service Moreover Paul expects his communities to have had experiences similar to if less dramatic than his ascent to heaven The author argues that in its context in 2 Corinthians Paul s ascent should be understood as an encounter with Christ that transcends human language and endows Paul with divine power which must be refined through suffering With the help of four premodern interpreters the study further explores the theological relevance of Paul's ascent For Paul mystical encounter with Christ forms the precondition for suffering and service because it enables self-transcending love for God and neighbors

Qumran Cave 4 Frank Moore Cross, 2005 The modern history of the three Samuel scrolls from Cave 4 at Qumran began in 1952 when they were discovered with the great mass of scrolls from Cave 4 in clandestine excavations by Bedouin Twenty-seven additional fragments parts of columns II and III of 4QSama were found in the excavations of R de Vaux and G Lankester Harding and given preliminary publication by F M Cross in 1953 upon which they achieved immediate fame There followed publication of several fragments of 4QSamb in 1955 and 4QSamc was pre-published by E Ulrich in 1979 The scholarly world has eagerly awaited the full presentation of the three scrolls in the Discoveries in the Judaean Desert series Ever since the 1950s they have been at the forefront of scholarly investigation of the textual criticism of the Hebrew Bible It is no exaggeration to say that the critical study and exegesis of the books of Samuel are no longer possible without these three scrolls in conjunction with that of the Masoretic Text and the Septuagint The final publication of 4QSama 4QSamb and 4QSamc in this volume thus crowns the publication activity of the last decade

Enochic and Mosaic tradition yet remaining autonomous from both Some asserted that Jubilees was essentially a Mosaic text with some Enochic influence And others questioned the very existence of a gulf between Enochic and Mosaic traditions as competing forms of Judaism at the time of Jubilees Gabriele Boccaccini and Giovanni Ibba have carefully collected the countervailing views into this volume What readers will find here is a lively debate among the most distinguished international specialists together striving for a better understanding of a puzzling ancient document
